Cash Catches The Bargains .

Don't Want The Earth. Politicians would have it that farmers want the earth, but this impression is erroneous. It is a fact, however, that they, like everybody else, want all they can get for their money. The Cash Racket Stores realizing this fact have on sale this Spring an assortment in every department at prices Into the porches of the ears It steals with subtle unction, even lower than ever. We would call your especial attention this week to our stock Never you mind the crowd, lad, Or fancy your life won't tell; The work is the work for a' that, To him that doeth well.

Fancy the world a hill, lad, Look where the millions stop ; You'll find the crowd at the base, lad, There's room always at the top.

Courage and faith and patience, There's space in the old world yet; The better the chance you stand, lad, The further along you get. Keep your eyes on the goal, lad, Never despair or drop; Be sure that your path leads upward, There's always room at the top.

I like the Anglo Saxon speech With its direct revealings ; It takes a hold and seems to reach Far down into your feelings ; That some folks deem it rude, I know, And therefore they abuse it ; But I have never found it so, Before all else I chose it. don't object that men should air The Gaelic they have paid for; With "Au revoir," "Adieu, ma chere," For that's what French was made for. But when a crony takes your hand At parting to address you, He drops all foreign lingo, and He says, "Good-by, God bless you!

This seems to be a sacred phrase With reverence impassioned; A thing come down from righteous days Quaintly, but nobly, fashioned. It well becomes an honest face, A voice that's round and cheerful ; It stays the sturdy in his place And soothes the weak and fearful ; And in your heart of hearts appears To work its gracious function; And all day long with pleading song It lingers to caress you,
