THURSDAY, February 29th, 1893. LAMAR'S DEFENCE OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The death of Justice Lamar has recalled his well known devotion to the Confederacy, and his love for the leader of the lost cause was productive of one of the most dramatic scenes in the history of our Senate.

The chief bills introduced in the House were to make it a misdemeanor to work operatives in cotton or woollen-mills over eleven hours a day, or between the hours of a long debate, and amendments were offered excluding certain.

The election contest of Long against Wright, from Warren, ended, resulting in the seating of Long, who was sworn in.

A resolution was introduced by Mr. Taylor, of Halifax, raising the joint special committee to consider the matter of participation by North Carolina in the plans for a monument at Richmond to the private soldiers and sailors of the Confederacy.

The principal bills passed were to relieve railways from making annual reports to the Governor; authorizing the Railway Commissioners to assess steamships and canal property; to assess the entire property of railways without deduction, and to make regulations for the proper handling of baggage by the railways.

There was another conference today on the important matter of back taxes on the Wilmington and Weldon railway. At this Governor Carr, the railway commissioner, the joint committee of the Legislature, and Mr. Warren Elliot, president, and Mr. Harry Walters, general manager of the Wilmington and Weldon, R. R. were present.

The discussion of the matters in question was prolonged. President Elliot made a proposition to the State through the committee and the commission. This was to surrender the exemption from taxation on the main line of the Wilmington and Weldon road upon condition that for the five years next succeeding this waiver of exemption the main line should be assessed at only $10,000 per mile; the branch lines at $4,000 per mile, and that after five years the assessment should be made as in the case of all other roads.

The collectors report attendance as follows: Wake Forest, 150; Guilford 150; Elon, 165; Davidson, 140; Trinity, 150 the University, 315.

Senator Poir, chairman of the Democratic joint caucus, offered a resolution of regret at the death of Mr. Blaine, which was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Mr. Watson, of Forsyth, had heard the statement of the gentleman from Cumberland. The only reason for excluding widows who married again was that they then had some one to take care of them.

Mr. Vance, of Buncombe, said the applicant had never drawn any pension. Mr. Moore objected only to the precedent, not to the bill.

Mr. Anderson demanded the ayes and noes on the passage of the bill on the third reading.

Before the vote was taken Mr. Robertson said he had heard that the widow had been reduced in circumstances by her last husband's not taking care of her.

The vote was ayes 70, noes 36. JANUARY 26.—The Senate today took up the bill to encourage sheep husbandry by taxing dogs.

The Senate, in executive session, confirmed the appointment of R. W. Wharton, of Beaufort county, as trustee of the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil.

Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers are repeatedly told me of its good effects upon their children.

Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I have the day is set for dining when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are advertised in the lowest cases, for teething, colic, morphia, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves.

Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as an infallible prescription known to me.

Our physicians in the children's department have again had the experience of our method supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it.

Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.
