Fearful Calamity-The Big Man-of-War Goes Down in Fifteen Minutes After Colliding With Another Vessel of the Fleet-Admiral Lost.

London, June 24.—Hundreds of lives have been lost by the sinking of the British battle ship Victoria, flagship of the Mediterranean squadron, which was run into off Tripoli by the English battle ship Camperdown, also belonging to the Mediterranean squadron. Vice Admiral Sir George Tryon is among the lost.

The Victoria and the Camperdown were maneuvering off Tripoli during the afternoon. During the evolutions the two battle ships collided, both going at a good rate of speed. The Camperdown's ram struck the Victoria forward of the turret on the starboard side. An enormous hole was made in the side of the Victoria, through which the water began to pour in torrents. The immense hull of the ill-fated battleship began to settle immediately. and, before those on board of her could east lose their small boats, she shot to the bottom with nearly all of those on board.
