NUMBER 21.

WE now have, I am glad to say, another lot of these Ladies' Black Hose, Fast Black, Regular Made, at 12 1-2c. per pair. You have paid us 23c. for the same goods often.

The Floor Matting is here at last; but the 14c. grade will have to be sold at 15c. as it cost us 1c. more. It is cheap enough, though, even at the advance.

The Curtain Poles—And—The Patent Sifters are here at last. It took just six weeks to get them, but it paid us to wait, as we got them so as to sell the Poles at the same old price, 10c., and the sifters at less than ever before—10c. each.

WE could only get one piece of the Silk Finished Foulard so much sought after, at 12 1/2c. per yard. It is very pretty and will go quick.

Hood's Cures.
In saying that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, its proprietors make no idle or extravagant claim. The advertising of Hood's Sarsaparilla is always within the bounds of reason, because it is true; it always appeals to the sober, common sense of thinking people, and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements, which in the financial world, would be accepted without a moment's hesitation. Read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla, all from reliable, grateful people. They tell the story. Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Marvelous Results.
From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last several hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Hargrave's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

ONE SWEEP OF PERIL
The Valleys of Pennsylvania Are Valleys of Death.

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD REPEATED.
Tremendous Floods Overflow the Rivers and Branches, and Down the Hills the Water Rushes, Carrying Death in its Path.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 21.—The Conemaugh river is overflowing, and people are fleeing for their lives. The water in front of the Western Union Telegraph office is three and a half feet deep.

ALTOONA, Pa., May 21.—The reservoir at Kittanning Point, which supplies this city with water, broke this morning and the water is rushing in a mighty flood on Hollidaysburg and Gayport.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 21.—At 1 o'clock Sunday morning the great boom with its million of dollars worth of lumber, gave way, and the city of Williamsport is awakened to a sense of great financial disaster. The river is 25 feet high.

IN WATER'S TRAGIC WAKE.
The Great Johnstown Flood to Be Remembered in Death and Destruction.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 21.—With the horrors of the disastrous flood of 1889, that which spread death and destruction throughout this valley, is brought to memory by the threatened danger of a sweep of water that promises to be as great as that of five years ago, and the people of this city and all through the west branch valley are in a state of panic.

Since Friday night a steady and almost continuous downpour of rain has been swelling all of the streams, and late last night numerous cloud bursts along the Pine Creek and other tributaries of the west branch of the Susquehanna have made it impossible to confine the water within the banks of the streams. It has therefore spread out over the country and with every point is pouring in the main river.

Throughout the day and night the rain has fallen here and continues to fall. Advice from all points up the river say the same conditions exist. A cloud burst at Keating, 30 miles above Renovo yesterday, raised the river there 30 feet, and the river at Renovo is reported higher than the flood of 1889, when half the town was under water. Above there and extending to the headwaters at Clearfield, every town and hamlet has been reduced by water to the conditions that prevailed in 1889. Along the Philadelphia and Erie railroad, between this point and Emporium, traffic has been practically suspended since last night. Trains are running between Williamsport and Lockhaven, but above the latter point landslides and track washouts have practically swept the tracks away, and the loss will be very heavy.

The Susquehanna Rising.
The Susquehanna here flows to the south of the city, and while it has not yet reached the point of danger, it is crawling up at the rate of a foot an hour. Gradually, a tributary which empties into the river below the city, flows north of Williamsport. It overflowed its banks and spread over a considerable portion of the city last Sunday, flooding many houses and driving the occupants from their homes. All of the houses were occupied by poor people, and the rise was so sudden that the sufferers lost much of their personal property. The fact that the water rushed down upon the city in the dark hours of the night adds an additional element of horror to the situation. The rush of water that swept so much away in 1889 came at daylight, and the work of rescuing the people could be better prepared than after dark. In anticipation, however, of what was expected the fire and church bells of the city were rung at daylight, and the work of rescuing the people of the impending danger.

Praying for Protection.
Since that hour the work of preparing for the worst has been in progress. In the hundreds of homes that were hurriedly vacated, the people are moving out and storing their goods in the houses of those living on the highlands. The business part of the city was a complete wreck five years ago, and hundreds of merchants are moving their stock to places of safety. Conveyances of every description are hurrying through the streets of the city loaded with household goods and merchandise, and the scenes beggar description. The regular church services were all suspended yesterday, and in all of the houses of worship those who attended confined their prayer to the assistance of Providence in the present grave emergency.

Chief Justice of Florida Resigns.
JACKSONV. FLA., May 18.—Advices from Tallahassee, Fla., state that Hon. George P. Raney, chief justice of the supreme court of Florida, has tendered his resignation to the governor, to take effect June 1st. The cause for his resignation is not stated. He has been on the supreme bench nearly twelve years. His second term would have expired in a few months.

Snuffcases Reminiscenced.
CHATTANOOGA, TENN., May 18.—H. C. Snodgrass was renominated for congress at 5 o'clock yesterday morning on the 43rd ballot.

Returning from the convention on the train Dr. A. L. Griffiths, a delegate from Jasper, Tenn., was shot and killed by John L. Stickle, a delegate from White County. Stickle was very drunk.

Over the Bar Without Touching.
FERNANDINA, FLA., May 18.—The British steamship Bellingham sailed from this port today with a cargo of 4300 tons of phosphate for Copenhagen. She drew 30 feet 8 inches of water and went over the bar without touching. This is the deepest laden vessel that has ever gone out over the Fernandina bar.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS
Renewed Zeal and Doubled Efforts in Pushing the Tariff Through.

"THE END IS SIGHT," SAYS ONE.

In the House General Legislation Will Continue the Week—Busy Days Ahead for Representatives in Both the Branches of Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—"The end is in sight," remarked Senator Jones, of the finance committee, "and we expect to begin gathering taxes under the Wilson bill on the first day of July, which begins the new fiscal year." This statement was endorsed by Mr. Harris. The fact that beginning today the senate meets at 10 o'clock, and the belief that the republicans have decided not to interpose unreasonable opposition or prolonged debate on the bill, lead the managers of the bill to take a cheerful view of the situation. Messrs. Harris, Voorhees and Jones, of Arkansas, assert that they have the 42 votes necessary to pass the bill. The republican leaders admit the impossibility of consolidating their votes into a cohesive whole, subject to the call of the parliamentary managers. The metal schedule has now been reached and but two more schedules remain to be acted upon before the sugar schedule is called up. Democrats assert that they will not vote for the bill until the schedules this week, but republicans say the debate on iron ore and the manufacturer of iron will be protected, and that the metal schedule cannot possibly be dropped from the bill. The free lumber debate to follow a week later.

No set speeches have been arranged on the tariff, but it is probable that Mr. Quay will come to the front again, as his name is especially interesting in the metal schedule. Mr. Quay's speech, so far as it has been delivered—in installments April 14, 18 and 20 and May 7, 4 and 8—would make over 150 closely printed newspaper columns.

With seven and a half hours a day for the consideration of the pending bill during the current week, it would seem that some headway ought to be made. Mr. Morgan is expected to have the Chinese treaty disposed of, and it may happen that Mr. Harris will grant him an afternoon for this purpose.

The Week in the House.
Some general legislation is in sight in the house this week. The managers have come to the conclusion that it will be safe now to intermit for a brief period their efforts to send appropriation bills to the senate inasmuch as that body is apparently committed to the tariff bill for a month or more to the exclusion of all other business. Two or three days will be required, it is believed for the consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which will be taken up today and the five-minute rule. Although general debate on the measure has been exhausted, there are features which will be criticised quite extensively in short reports. Among these are the provisions of the bill intended to reorganize the accounting branch of the treasury department, abolishing the offices of second comptroller and deputy second comptroller, and reorganizing the office of the chief clerk.

With the final disposal of this measure, consideration of appropriation bills will be suspended for a time and other matters taken up. The first of these will be the Brown bill to suspend the operation of the 10 per cent. tax law on respect of the clearing house certificates and other substitutes for currency issued during the financial crisis of last year, reported from the committee on banking and currency. The amendment to this offered by Mr. Croker, Democrat of Tennessee, providing for the repeal of the law outright, will be the principal feature of the discussion. The majority of the committee are committed against the unconditional repeal of the law, but it is understood that the great majority of Democrats, all the Populists and a few Republicans will vote for the amendment.

Mr. Croker and Mr. Croker are expected to occupy all of the week. Should their discussion fall short of that period, the Hatch anti-option bill will be taken up.

MURPHY WILL FOLLOW.
New York's Senior Senator to Leave the Tamm. Ship.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Senator Edward Murphy, Jr., will decline a re-election as chairman of the democratic state committee, and it is understood that Lieut. Gov. Sheehan will retire from the executive committee. A prominent democratic politician said this morning:

"Senator Murphy has reached Mr. Croker's conclusion that he has had all the politics one man needs in a lifetime. He has reached the highest office to which he can aspire, in the possession of abundant means, and as he is getting well on in years, feels that it is time for him to retire.

"He it was who advised Mr. Croker to desert the Tammany ship, and now he is belonging to John Osborne was struck by lightning and burned, with eleven head of mules, a large crop of corn and a number of tons of hay.
