Fifty-third Congress Finished. ALLISON ON THE TARIFF LEGISLATION Houses Together-President to Permit it to Become Law When the Treasury is Ready.

THE CLOSING WEEK

WASHINGTON, August 20.-There is good reason to believe that the week that opens today will see the close of the second session of the fifty-third congress. The work of the senate is finished; the last of the appropriation bills was completed and the conference reports adopted Friday, and there is nothing now for the senate to do but you and wonder where you have clean up the fag ends of a very busy and a very entertaining session. About the only thing that keeps sena tors here is the tariff bill; and the general impression now is that the president will permit it to become a law just as soon as the treasury officials are ready to carry it into effect. That he does not intend to veto the bill is clear. for the law print is now being prepared at the government printing office. After today it is likely that the senate will meet for a short time daily and then adjourn pending the reception of the tariff bill. Until it is known just when to expect this measure from the president it is not likely that a joint resolution fixing a day for adjournment will be introduced. Senator Allison is Heard. In the meantime there will be an effort, and perhaps a successful one, to pass the house bill to repeal all laws authorizing a rebate of the internal revenue tax on alcohol used in the arts. Senator Sherman, in his "plain talk" on Saturday, showed the necessity for the passage of that measure, and Senator Alison will be heard on the same point, and on the whole subject of this session's tariff legislation today. There is not much for the house
