NUMBER 39.

Poor Poetry, but Good Sense.

There is very little trouble
That happens us to-day;
It is the sorrows of to-morrow
That drive our joys away.
We sometimes sit and wonder,
And stew, and foam, and fret
For fear something may happen;
But it hasn't happened yet.
There was once a lonely woman
Who cried down by the sea;
"What if my pretty children
All should be perished?"
Now this particular woman
Who thus did fret and fret
Is still a maiden lady,
So it hasn't happened yet.

A Serious For Days.

We see two boys standing side by side. Both are intelligent looking and kind-looking; but one becomes an idle, shiftless fellow, and the other an influential and useful man. Perhaps when they were boys no one could have seen much difference between them; when they were men, the contrast was marked. One became dissolute step by step; the other became virtuous step by step. As one went up, the other went down.

It is a question of great moment. What will you be? One determines he will do right and improve his powers and opportunities to the utmost. He is industrious, learns his business, becomes a partner or proprietor, and is known as a man of influence and power. Another does not determine to be bad, but is lazy and neglects to improve his opportunities. He shirks work, he "fools around"; next he is seen with tobacco and probably beer and whiskey; his appearance shows he is unhealthy; he does not do his work well; he loses his position and becomes intemperate and probably a criminal.

There are many to day who are standing at the parting-place. You can take one path and you will go down as sure as the sun rises. If you prefer to hang around a saloon, instead of reading good books at home, then you are on the road to ruin. If you do obey your parents, if you run away from school, if you lie, if you swear, you will surely go down in life.

If a boy steadily improves his timidity to learn his business, obeys his father and mother, is truthful and industrious, is respectful and pleasing toward others he will succeed. No one can stop his doing well in life. He has determined that he will be a noble specimen of a man, and every good person will help him.—Franklin Times.

What Do You Take Medicine For?

Because you are sick and want to get well, of course.
Then remember that Hood's Sarsaparilla will do so with perseverance equaling or approaching the tenacity with which your perseverance equaling or approaching the tenacity with which your complaint has clung to you. It takes time and care to eradicate old and deep-seated maladies, particularly when they have been so long hidden in the system that they have become chronic. Remember that all permanent and positive cures are brought about with reasonable moderation. Hood's Sarsaparilla attacks disease vigorously and never leaves the field until it has conquered.

Birds Fight by Stars.

Did you ever venture any conjecture as to how migratory birds manage to keep up their flight in a due north direction after night? It has been proved that on clear nights they often wing their northern flight in the rarified atmosphere three miles above the earth's surface. This being true, it is clear that guidance by the topography of the country is out of the question, how then, are they able to keep their beaks pointed toward the north pole? The scientific ornithologist comes to the rescue with the declaration that they are guided by the stars and in support of his opinion cites as evidence the fact that when the stars are obscured by clouds the birds become bewildered and seek the ground.—St. Louis Republic.

MYERS ON THE SCENE

The Criminal Stands Where He Probably Stood Before.

HIS SHOES FITTED TO THE TRACKS.

The Trip From Cincinnati Without Incident—The Story of Brown Allen and the Woman Still Related—Arrest of Ben Allen.

ATLANTA, September 24.—Will Myers, over whom hangs the most conspicuous evidence of the tragedy of Forester Crowley, has been carried to the scene of the murder, and his shoes fitted to the tracks where the mutilated body was found. It was perfect, and as the tracks have been traced from the day of the murder, the shoe is regarded as another important link to the chain already so strongly entwined about him.

Myers arrived in Atlanta yesterday morning at 11 a. m. accompanied by Detective Doherty of Cincinnati, and Chief Connally and officers who met him in Chattanooga. The trip was a quiet one, and though for days a current rumor, no effort was made to intercept the train and fetch the prisoner. The young man, he is still detained at the station house. He still adheres to the story of being a tool in the hands of one, Brown Allen, and tells the narrative with remarkable clearness and nerve. He says that Ben Allen is not the Allen in question, and that the latter, a handsome young man, well dressed with a good bearing, was a stranger until they met at a cigar store on the corner of Whitehall and Marietta, several days ago. His story of the plot is one that has been worked by professional criminals the world over and is believed to have been framed in Myers' mind by some cheap work of fiction rather than by an actual experience.

Ben Allen, the gambler and ex-convict, was arrested in Birmingham yesterday and will arrive here today. In the meantime John H. Brown, who has yet retained, however, but few people associate their names, of the first two, at any rate, with the brutal crime.

The detectives are working day and night on the case and the Allen mystery will probably be solved in a few days. IS SHE MADAMINE POLLARD?

A Mystery Surrounds a Woman Guest at the Lexington, Kentucky, Hotel.

LEXINGTON, Ky., September 24.—There is a mystery attached to a guest at the Leland hotel here which is puzzling even Landlord Brooks. Several days ago a woman appeared at the hotel and requested to be given a room without registering. She said, "She is an invalid. Since her appearance she has continuously worn a heavy veil over her face, and when in the parlor wears a sunbonnet. She appears nervous and asks the other guests who they are in the parlor, where she is generally waiting, what is wanted.

A carriage drives up every afternoon and she enters it, remaining away until night. She carefully evades all questions and will tell nothing of herself or her name. She seems to pretend to be old, but those who have watched her say she is a young woman. Landlord Brooks' wife has been trying to find out something of her, but can not.

HIGHWAYMEN IN NEW YORK.

The Street Cars Held Up on the Principal Streets and Passengers Robbed.

NEW YORK, September 24.—A crowd of colored hoodlums held up an Eighth avenue horse car at the corner of Bank and Hudson streets last evening, and relieved several of the passengers of their watches and chains.

About a dozen members of the gang marched down the street shouting "fire" and "police" in the hopes of causing a crowd to gather so that they could ply their profession.

The scheme did not work, and at the corner of Bank and Hudson streets the gang stood in front of an uptown horse car, and while some of the members held the horses' heads the others ran around the sides of the car grabbing watches and pocketbooks. The passenger in the car was terror-stricken and made no attempt to defend himself from the highwaymen. The police succeeded in capturing only one of the gang.

RAILROAD OFFICES IN ASHES.

Destructive Blaze in the Passenger, Freight and Fruit Depots.

NEW ORLEANS, September 24.—Fire broke out early this morning in the yards of the Queen and Crescent railroad company, and damaged to the extent of $20,000 was done. The passenger and fruit depots, six box cars and considerable merchandise was destroyed. A serious part of the loss consisted of the destruction of valuable records in the offices of the passenger and freight agents.

IN THE WINDS FATAL WAKE.

Over Seventy-Five Lives Already Lost and the Injured are Dying Hourly.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., September 24.—Every hour brings additional reports of the destruction wrought by Friday night's cyclone. It is now certain that the loss of life will be in the neighborhood of seventy-five while the injured will number several times as many. Some of those hurt are expected to die and it is not unlikely that fully one hundred persons will be numbered in the list of the cyclone's fury. The property loss is very heavy and it is almost impossible at this time to obtain anything more than rough estimates of the damage done.

North of Algona seems to have been the scene of the greatest harvest of death, more persons being killed in Kosciusko county than in any other county through the tornado passed. Nineteen funerals were held at Algona yesterday.

North of Emmetsburg, which seems to have been the area where the cyclone first assumed dangerous proportions, two lives were crushed out. From here the deadly storm went tearing across the country demolishing in its path. For the most part of its course it travelled through a farming district, Leroy and Spring Valley, Minn., being the only two towns of any consequence that were damaged but even here the deaths were comparatively few.

As the storm travelled through the country and avoided villages and towns the property loss is largely confined to farm buildings and these being badly scattered render even an approximate estimate of the loss in such a vast territory impossible. The damage at not less than $1,000,000.

PROTEST AGAINST THE TARIFF.

Distillers Under Bond at 90 Cents Protecting the Interest of the Tariff.

CHICAGO, September 24.—The Distilling and Cattle-feeding company filed protests today at revenue offices both in Chicago and Peoria against the new tariff law's provisions for increased bonds which the distillers are compelled to give to secure the payment of the tax on the spirits bonded before the new law went into effect. Distillers working under bond to protect the interest of the tariff, are protesting against the new law's provisions for increased bonds which the distillers are compelled to give to secure the payment of the tax on the spirits bonded before the new law went into effect.
