WITHDRAWAL.

With this issue my connection with THE ADVANCE ceases. During my service of one year as editor of the paper I have formed attachments to the craft which I am glad to acknowledge. There are many things about the newspaper work that are most pleasant, and I should be glad to remain in the business if some congenial features could be eliminated.

My profession as a teacher, however, is sufficiently laborious without continuing that of another hard calling. Being, therefore, well satisfied that divided energies will not contribute to the highest success in any branch of business, I prefer to give up my editorial duties and centre my forces upon my duties in the school-room.

Teaching is my business. While there are many fascinating features about editorial work, still the excited idea that I have of the teacher's calling precludes the possibility of my giving that up entirely.

The most cordial relations have existed between me and my recent colleague, and it is by mutual consent and the most pleasant feelings that I retire. I am very grateful to the kind friends who have given me words of encouragement during my editorial charge. They have been of invaluable assistance to me in what would have been otherwise an arduous task.

With the best wishes for the success of THE ADVANCE and with feelings of utmost kindness for its hosts of readers I remain,

Respectfully,

W. C. ALLEN.

SENATOR SIMAN has introduced a bill in the State legislature which, if passed, will practically prohibit all the assessment insurance companies from doing business in the State.

We noticed a bill introduced in the legislature to abolish the State Guard. That is a revolutionary measure, and should be so regarded. Surely our lawmakers will not favor so extreme a measure.

It is probable that all the contestants for seats in the legislature will be seated. There are about eighteen, all Populists and Republicans. Perhaps their claims are just. If so, they should be seated.

Now is a good time to keep a fresh advertisement before the people. People are now watching to see where the best bargains can be made and they are not going around to inquire whether you have a bargain to offer or not. They are going to those who make the offer.

Miss Mary L. Stevenson, daughter of Vice-President Stevenson, died last Friday at Asheville in this State. She had been sick for a long time and her death was almost daily expected. The Vice-President and family were at her bedside when she breathed her last. The State will be saddened over this grief which has come upon the second man of the nation.

SEVERAL days ago a letter from Senator Hill to Mr. Clark Howell, written two years ago was published. In it Mr. Hill expressed himself as being in favor of bimetallism by international agreement if possible; but by the United States alone if it could not be gotten by international means. That is brave talk, but why has Mr. Hill kept his principles bottled up for two years? Perhaps he is putting himself in training for next year. Who knows?

DISCIPLE OF BILLINGS.

Mr. H. E. King is clerk of the fusion Senate. In endorsing a bill the other day he made the following entry: "Concurred in opposition to print." As will be noted by Mr. King is not on the printed terms of acquiescence. He is a Noah.

AUTHOR OF DIXIE.

In a small town in Ohio lives an old man, who has enjoyed the applause of the world. He has been the favorite of fortune, but now he is in straitened circumstances, and sometimes in absolute want. His name is Daniel Decatur Emmett, the famous author of "Dixie Land." He is in his seventy-eighth year, and quietly waiting for the summons to pass over the river.

The circumstances of that wonderful production of that most famous of songs are peculiar. Emmett, away back in the fifties, belonged to a minstrel troupe that was giving exhibitions to crowded houses in New York. He composed a plantation song, "Old Dan Tucker," which made a tremendous hit. The stage struck people were all wild with enthusiasm over this great production of Emmett.

Night after night that song was rendered to packed houses. By and by the interest began to wane. One Saturday afternoon the manager of the troupe told Emmett that he must have a new song by Monday. The famous author put his wits to work, and all day Sunday worked upon the inspiring air that was to electrify armies.

Monday morning he had "Dixie Land" ready for the printer. It at once struck a popular chord and was sung for weeks and weeks in New York with repeated encores. It was such a vivid picture of the scenes on Southern plantations with such a good impersonation of the Southern negro that it at once took rank with the greatest of national airs.

That was in 1859 just before the breaking out of the war. After the war commenced it was soon adopted by the Southern people as their national song. It has ever since remained as the universal favorite.

It is strange how men can experience such vicissitudes of fortune. This one time popular Ohioan, who was the petted favorite of the public, is now destitute of this world's goods. He neglected to provide for old age in the day of his prosperity, and now he is reaping the result of that neglect. He will always be remembered, however, for he has established a fame that is bound to endure.

THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

France has been in a state of excitement for a week or more. M. Cassimir-Perier has resigned the Presidency. He said that he was induced to do so on account of adverse criticisms and partisan attacks. The chambers of deputies was called together last Thursday to elect a successor. On the second ballot M. Francois Felix Faure was elected by about a hundred votes over M. Brisson. The Duke of Orleans who is staying in England, thereupon issued a manifesto to the people of France, declaring the republic merely nominal, and that monarchy must in the end triumph. He declared that he was ready to work for the restoration of the monarchy whenever the people should see fit to call him to the front.

M. Faure, the new President, is a man of great influence and ability. He has been in public life for quite a long time, and was at the time of his election, a member of the chamber of deputies that elected him. He is bitterly opposed by the socialists in fact the socialistic members of the chamber united their forces against him, but his strength was enough to overcome their opposition.

SOMETHING OF AN ARBITRAGE.

A floating item: "Nearly three weeks ago Senator Ransom of North Carolina had a long and earnest conversation with the President about the state of the Democratic party. The President told the Senator that the dream of his life was to have the party at the end of his term in the Senate healthy condition he found it upon entering upon the duties of the office March 4th, 1893."

This is something as if a man of wealth and resources should suddenly decide that the ruins of Pompeii were objectionable, and should call in expert testimony with a proposition to rebuild that city in a month—Asheville Citizen.

We agree with the above. It is much easier to tear down than it is to build up, and the President will doubtless find that out.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. ### "SURRENDER" HAS SURRENDERED.

Such a storm of disapprobation went up over the country, when the post office department changed Appomattox to Surrender, that the department had to come under. It has now been changed back to Appomattox much to the relief of the people of the South and the whole country as well.

Not only was the South opposed to the name of Appomattox being changed to Surrender, but almost all the North was as well. The leading daily papers of the country North and South, condemned the proposition in scathing terms. Not one that we have heard of had the temerity to defend the Postmaster General in making such a blunder as he did.

Perhaps the department was not all to blame for the indignity, for it seems that some patrons of the office suggested that the name be changed to Surrender. As it is, however, it was an insult to the South, which has been resented by all sections of the country.

Appomattox is an historic name. Surrender smacks of humiliation and a desire to heap up insult upon the defeated. No one wants to perpetuate the humiliation of defeat, but all want to remember the historic spot where the greatest of American generals surrendered to the next greatest.

For that reason we are glad that the indignity has been removed, that the new name has been expunged from the records and that the old name honorable and sacred, will remain as a momento of the greatest event in a century, an event which was alike honorable to both the great actors concerned, and also to both the brave armies there disbanded.

SENATOR BUTLER.

Last Tuesday Marion Butler and Jeter Pritchard were elected by the legislature as the Senators from the State of North Carolina. The career of these two men is remarkable.

Pritchard is a Tennesseean by birth, but he came to this State when a small boy and has risen from an humble type-setter to the position which he will hold after the fourth of March.

Butler's career, perhaps, has been still more remarkable. He is just thirty-two years of age. He is purely the creature of circumstances. He is the most fortunate man, in some respects in the State.

He did not start the movement that has elevated him to the United States Senate. He was shrewd enough, however, to vacillate during the first days of Populism, and finally to cast in his lot with them in flood-tide. He trimmed his sails to suit the passing breeze and by that means has sailed into port.

Butler's ability is not rated high by men of acknowledged gifts. He is not considered statesmanlike, but his shrewdness is looked upon more as that of the demagogue. He will not take that stand in the Senate that the Old North State has enjoyed in the days that are passed and gone.

Whatever may be said of him in that respect, nothing can be said in criticism of his addressness as a party manager. He certainly managed the last campaign with skill, and nothing can equal his hold upon the fusion forces in this State. He has them at his beck.

The Crimes of 1894.

In 1894 in this country, there were 4,912 suicides, an increase of nearly 500 over the year previous. Last year 9,800 persons died by violence, 3,285 more than in '93. Only 132 persons were hanged, and 91 of these were in the South. The total is smaller than in '93 which was smaller than that of the year before.

The embezzlements and defalcations in the United States during the last year amount to the largest total of any year since 1878. The aggregate is $25,234,122, being 26 per cent. greater than the $19,922,692 reported for 1893, and 14 per cent. greater than the $22,154,000 reported for 1884, which was the largest since 1878 till it was surpassed last year—Chicago Tribune.

The Strike in Brooklyn.

The great trolley strike in Brooklyn has reached a point where there can be no more temporizing and where sympathy can no longer condone violence. It is a question of law or anarchy. Yesterday afternoon it became necessary for the police and soldiers to fire volleys over the heads of the mobs to protect their own lives, and again last night the soldiers of the Seventh Regiment were forced to fire a volley to disperse a crowd that assaulted them with stones and bricks and threatened their lives.—N. Y. Sun, 22.

New Bills.

The principal new bills introduced in the Legislature Monday were: To provide a reformatory for youthful criminals; to appoint a joint select Committee of Retrenchment and Reform of Public Institutions, to provide for labeling and marking convict-made goods; to protect and promote the shell-fish industry; to provide for the study of vocalism in public schools; to provide penalties for all adulterations of food; to make sheriffs and other county officers ineligible for more than two terms in succession; to enforce the just and equal payment of the debts of insolvents; to provide for the support of the public schools by a direct appropriation of $150,000 from the State Treasury. A resolution was adopted instructing the Judiciary Committee of the House to draft a bill greatly increasing the jurisdiction of magistrates, so as to cover larceny and abandonment. There was considerable debate on a bill in the Senate to restore 6 per cent. as the legal rate of interest. Most of the discussion was on the penalty clause of the bill. The latter was finally made the special order for next Wednesday. Nearly all the members favor it.

Not many bills were introduced in the Legislature on Tuesday. Those of importance were to exempt cotton mills and iron furnaces from taxation, if built by foreign corporations; to aid public schools by local assessments; to repeal the act giving laborers' liens priority over mortgages; to award public printing by contract; to reduce salaries of State officers.

The vote for Senators was as follows: For Marion Butler and Jeter C. Pritchard (Fusionist), 43 in the Senate and 66 in the House, and for Thomas W. Mason and Lee S. Overman (Democrat), 4 in the Senate and 41 in the House.

William H. Worth took the oath of office as State Treasurer. Associate Justice Clark administering it.

Burned to Death.

A letter from Lenoir county says that Saturday night a house on the farm of S. I. Wooten was burned, and that a negro man lost his life, while a boy, who tried to save the man's life, was so badly burned that his death is certain.

A Des Moines woman who has been troubled with frequent colds, concluded to try an old remedy in a new way, and accordingly took a tablespoonful (four times the usual dose) of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy just before going to bed. The next morning she found that her cold had almost entirely disappeared. During the day she took a few doses of the remedy (one teaspoonful at a time) and at night again took a tablespoonful before going to bed, and on the following morning awoke free from all symptoms of the cold. Since then she has, on several occasions, used this remedy in like manner, with the same good results, and is much elated over her discovery of so quick a way of curing a cold. For sale by E. M. Nadal.

Machinery Purchased.

The machinery for the knitting-mills at Roanoke Rapids, near Weldon, has been purchased, and is expected in a few days. A force of machinists and millwrights went up to the works at the Rapids last week for the purpose of putting in the wheels for one of the mills there.

In Agony

15 Years With Salt Rheum
Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave a Perfect Cure.
"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "Hood's Sarsaparilla is an excellent medicine. I had eczema in my left leg for fifteen years. Part of the time my leg was a mass of scabs, and about every week corruption would gather under the skin and the scabs would slough off. The itching and burning sensation made me suffer indescribable agonies. I spent a great deal of money for different remedies but did not get relief. About a year ago, leading physicians advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I did so and have taken five bottles. Now all the sores, scabs and pain have vanished and I am enjoying perfect health. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is second to none and highly recommend it to all suffering humane." M. L. CHEVRANT, Leonard, Missouri.

A Grand Time at Buck Horn.

BARNES STORE, Jan. 21st 1895.
MR. EDITOR: Please allow me space in your most valuable paper to tell the people of the county and the readers of the ADVANCE generally, especially those who were not present, something of the occasion above mentioned.

It was the closing exercises of Capt. E. J. Barnes' school at Buck Horn on the 17th inst. Mr. Barnes has been teaching the public school at this place for the past three and a half years and he thinking that perhaps this would be his last school at this place, decided to give the people of the community a "lift" in the way of a concert. This was something of a novelty in this community. This fact together with the fact that Mr. Barnes is so well known and admired as a teacher brought out the people by the hundreds. It was understood that the exercises would open at 7 o'clock p. m. At about 5 o'clock the people commenced coming in from all directions. They were here from Wilson, Johnson, Wayne and Nash. By 6:30 the large church house in which the exercises were held was literally packed, but the people did not cease to come until about five or six hundred had assembled. Every seat, aisle, and every other available space was occupied by some one anxious to see and hear.

All who knew Mr. Barnes expected something grand, notwithstanding it was only a public school. Their most sanguine expectations were fully realized. The deportment of the students and the correctness with which every piece was rendered was sufficient proof of the efficiency of the work done in the school room and the thoroughness of the training each had received.

After the exercises came the address which was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Flowers, a student of the State University. Mr. Flowers is a most eloquent and ornate speaker; he is a self-made young man, and gave much wholesome advice to the young men on the subject of education, which was appreciated by the large audience. Miss Sissie Barnes presided at the organ. She is a very accomplished musician, and added much to the occasion. Everybody went home well pleased.

Mr. Barnes leaves immediately for Smithfield, N. C., where he goes to take charge, as commander of the cadet corps of Turlington Institute. He is a most worthy and excellent young man, and a teacher of no small ability, and carries with him the gratitude of the entire community, old and young. We hope to have him with us again.

C. W. KNIGHT, Committee.

ON CRUTCHES 2 WEEKS

Limb Raw as Beef and Red as Beet. Pain, Burning, and Itching Terrible. Not 5 Hours Sleep in 3 Days. Makes One Application of Cuticura in 5 Minutes is Asleep. A Remarkable Case.

About two years ago I was confined to my room with a breaking out on my leg which my physician pronounced Eczema. About three weeks ago the same disease broke out again on the same leg, and my physician has been attending me regularly, calling from once to twice daily, and has given me all the time getting worse. A friend called to see me, and brought about one half teaspoonful of Cuticura, advising me to try it, telling of himself, brother and mother having been cured by it. I would not try it at first, although I had been on crutches for over two weeks, and at one time I counted between twenty-five and thirty suppurating sores, and had not slept more than five hours in three nights. Monday morning about four o'clock the pain, burning and itching became so severe that I determined to try Cuticura, thinking that if it did no good, it could not make my leg much worse, for it was as raw as a piece of beef and as red as a beet, so I applied the Cuticura, and in five minutes after I laid down I was asleep. Next day I sent and got a box of Cuticura, and I'll pledge my honest word I would not take $100 today for it, if I could not get another. I commenced using Cuticura Monday morning about four o'clock, and today (Tuesday) my leg is nearly well, notwithstanding I had not walked a step without my crutches in two weeks. My gratitude to the man who first compounded Cuticura is profound. May God bless him. T. T. FRAZIER, South Boston, Va.
