Scribner's Magazine for July con ains several articles that are particularly adapted to the season-questions that interest people in early summer. The leading article is "Life at the Athletic Clubs," by Duncan Edwards, who was a famous college athlete and has retained a keen interest in every form of athletic sport. His article has the advantage of being written by one who has a personal While at Peekskill, N. Y., Mr. J. A knowledge of the clubs which he describes, in many large cities. It is particularly full of descriptions of outdoor life at this season of the year at Travers Island, the Cresent, the Orange, and other clubs that have country as well as city houses. Al lovers of outdoor sport will be glad that Mr. Edwards favors the present attitude of the larger clubs in which competitive sports are being softened into a general pursuit of exercise open-air life, and good fellowship. The illustrations in this article are fuller than have ever been attempted in a single paper, numbering nearly forty, and representing clubs from New York to San Francisco.

It is a Matter of Ratios. As the discussion of the silver question goes forward the distinction between the kind of bimetallism the silver mine owners want and the kind of bimetallism others want will be brought out clearly. The silver mine-owners want to double the price of their silver and contend for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. They are unwilling to wait for an international agreement but want the United States try free silver coinage by itself, unassisted in the perilous experiment by other commercial countries. Our mine-owners are aware that other na tions will never agree to boom silver by taking the ratio 16 to 1, but wil insist on making the international coinage ratio nearer the market ratio which is about 32 to 1. The cry for free coinage at 16 to 1, therefore, disregards genuine bimetallism and hon-
