SOCIAL CRIMES—CURSING.

In our previous articles we have in a great measure addressed ourselves to those of mature years. In this perhaps we have erred, we will therefore now call attention to a practice that seems to be growing among the boys and young men of our community. It is the habit of cursing and swearing. It may be that our attention has been called to this practice more of late than formerly, but it does really appear that boys are more given to the use of intemperate language now, than was the custom a few years ago. To our mind there is nothing which is so utterly useless (to say the least of it), as the continual use of profane language. It seems, however, that our youths have been impressed with the idea that they cannot be "manly" until they have accustomed their tongues to the formation of words that would cover their sisters face with shame, and cast a shadow of pain across their mother's brow. If they could be permitted a view themselves, as they appear to others, they would doubtless renounce forever this most debasing habit.

We wish to make a request of every young man that may see these lines, and it is this: Stop before using any bad word and ask yourself, Is it necessary for me to emphasize this expression with an oath? We feel confident that long ere the question is flashed through the brain the answer will have been agreed upon, and one bad word will have been suppressed. Try it.

In a recent address before the American Bar Association Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, made this startling assertion:

In criminal cases there should be no appeal. I say it with reluctance, but the truth is that you can trust a jury to do justice to the accused with more safety than you can an appellate court to secure protection to the public by a speedy punishment of a criminal.

There is no question that a more speedy termination of cases, especially criminal cases, is necessary to the welfare of society, but the abolition of the right of appeal in all criminal cases is a startling proposition and the more startling because it is made by a Justice of the Supreme Court. What is needed in North Carolina at present is a radical reform in the jury system. The right of appeal might be restricted and probably ought to be but we are hardly prepared to say that it should be abolished entirely.—Statesville Land-mark.

AS THE money for crops slowly finds its way into the pockets of the farmer, we notice that he grows proportionately more willing to allow other people to bear the burden of financial discussion.

It is strange but true that people who have little or no money know best how that article should be handled.

KENLY NOTES.

Mr. H. F. Edgerton and lady have returned and are boarding at Mr. Jesse Kirby's.

Messrs. Edgerton & Lynn have sold their mill to Mr. George Lynn, of Selma, who is moving it to that place.

Mr. J. R. Rose is acting as agent here at present. The people are glad to see Bob come, he is a good boy.

The type sticker for the ADVANCE some times makes me say some very curious words. Last week he made me say Buckeye for Buckhorn.

There were copious showers in this neighborhood the first of last week and wet some fodder that had been pulled but the people have saved a good lot this year

Mr. S. V. Joyner made a hasty business trip to Greenville last week. He has sold his store here to two young men, Mr. John Barnes and Mr. Pope. They will continue business at the same place.

Mr. R. H. Alford, our efficient and accomodating R. R. agent left last Saturday for Parkton, he has no relatives there yet he goes there frequently and I expect says things that he would not like for Dot to write. It suits me for our young men to go somewhere else to have their sugar talk to ladies.

Mr. J. S. Richardson has sold his drug store to Mr. Walter Jerrell another young man. Dot is opposed to so many young men flocking into town unless there were more young ladies here. We all seek to get some notice from the few that are here which is subject to make them feel that they are more popular than they really are.

Last Sunday I visited some young ladies in town with anticipations of bringing forth smiles which never fail to have the same effect on a heart, that is reaching out for something to cling to that the sun has on a frozen snake.

I was spending the time very pleasantly and on account of a similarity in names in which Jacob of old made love to his future wife, an account of which we read in the 29th chapter of Genesis, when I received the following note: "Old man Dot: You had better go home at once, if you don't the white caps will see you after you do go. White Caps." Now it is wrong for fuzzy faced boys who cannot look at a pretty girl and speak to her at the same time to dictate to whom Cousin Jack and myself shall make love, and if Cousin Jack will join me we will sling the fuzzy faced white caps into the middle of next July. Dot.

WE ARE pleased to note the gradual disappearance of the frown that has so long darkened the faces of our farmer friends. Good crops and fair prospects will make most men forget past troubles.

THE English boat won the race on Tuesday by the narrow margin of 47 seconds. There is some doubt about the race being given them, however, as they fouled the Defender on the start.

GENERAL SOUTHERN NEWS.

EAGLE PASS, TEX., Sept. 6.—Information has reached here that the town of Abasco, in Mexico, a place of 800 inhabitants, was almost entirely washed away on Sunday afternoon, but fifteen houses remaining. Three miles away, at the village of Rodriguez, every house was carried away. Further down, below Jiminez, at the Hacienda of Eucenas, the flood destroyed estimated at $15,000.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 6.—A report comes from Tracy City of a fight in which two illicit distillers were killed by revenue officers in the mountain near that place. The names of the men killed are Jay Rody and Jim Woodie. Rody was a brother of the notorious moonshiner Rody, killed some time since, who was tried for murder in the federal court here at one time, and for a long time was known as the terror of the mountains.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 7.—While Mr. Charles Jones, a highly respectable citizen of Lincoln county, was in Fayetteville Monday night attending lodge, a negro broke into his residence in the country, where his wife and her sister were staying, and committed a criminal assault on his wife. "Doc" King, a farm hand, was arrested and fully identified. Yesterday a mob of 200 men took King from jail and hanged him to a tree.

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 5.—William Anderson Harris, D. D., president of Virginia College for Young Ladies, located at Roanoke, died yesterday, aged 59. Dr. Harris was born in Albemarle county, and was one of the foremost educators in the south, having been president of the Wesleyan Female Institute at Staunton for about twenty-seven years. Before that he had served as president of Martha Washington college at Abingdon, Va.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 5.—At 10 p. m. a mob of 150 or more negroes and whites went to the house of Elder Tanner, colored, to run him out of town. About fifteen shots were discharged, two or three rioters were shot, and also a woman living in the neighborhood. Tanner escaped injury. Policemen finally interfered and broke up the riot. Tanner and some of his supporters were brought to the city jail for protection. Tanner has excited the ire of the colored pastors by preaching a peculiar doctrine.

ATLANTA, Sept. 4.—The Cotton States and International Exposition authorities have received advices of the arrival at San Francisco of Kee Owyang, the concessionaire of the Chinese village, with 204 boy actors and 800 cases of merchandise from Hong Kong. The party left Hong Kong on Aug. 12. The company of Chinese actors will reach Atlanta in a few days. The buildings of the Chinese village are practically completed and the performance in the theater will begin on the opening day of the exposition.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 5.—At Huntington, Carroll county, thirteen houses were demolished by a cyclone yesterday. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway depot was completely wrecked with the exception of the telegraph office, in which several persons were seated. The debris from the freight department fell in such a direction as to protect it. The roof was blown from the main southern normal university building. The public square is almost impassible on account of the timber and debris. No lives were lost.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 3.—United States Senator J. S. Lewis died at his home near Harrisonburg yesterday of a cancerous disease, in the 77th year of his age. He was a lineal descendant of John Lewis, whose father was an original settler in what is now Augusta county. He was elected lieutenant governor on the ticket with Gilbert C. Walker, and the same year was sent to the United States senate. In 1881 he was again elected, and at the expiration of his term retired to private life. He was a prominent figure during reconstruction days.

GREENSBORO, Ga., Sept. 7.—Three men were drowned in the Oconee river. Two negroes, Albert Goss and John Armor, started to the mill with some corn to get it ground. When they reached the ferry they found the river very high from the recent rains. Ira Caldwell, son of the ferryman, undertook to carry them across on a flatboat. When they reached the middle of the stream the boat was caught in the current and swept down the river half a mile and over the dam, fifteen feet high. The boat was shattered on the rocks and the men were all killed or drowned.

HICKMAN, Ky., Sept. 3.—Between midnight and daybreak Will Butcher, a negro, was taken from the city lockup and shot to pieces by whitecaps. Sunday night he got into a quarrel with a crowd of negroes. The police tried to arrest him, but he resisted and threw a brick, striking a prominent white citizen. He was finally put behind the bars. Yesterday morning the door of the lockup was found open and the prisoner gone. Later Butcher was found dead on the river bank, with his head shot to pieces and the body riddled with bullet holes. Eight or ten masks were found near by. No arrests.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 3.—A lot of drunken Italians, who are engaged on the Charleston, Chattanooga and Sutton railroad, went into a saloon at Potter Creek and assaulted George W. Logan and his brother, John Logan, and Bartie Cobb. The men were at the mercy of the Italians, about seventy-five all told. George Logan was shot in the thigh and literally hacked to pieces. His brother, Jack Logan, and Bartie Cobb were horribly cut. The wounded men were brought to the hospital in this city, and today twenty-eight of the Italians are in jail here. The officers are after the others.

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 3.—On Saturday night the Chattanooga Stove company shut down its plant, telling its employes that it would have no further work for them to do until the price of stoves went up. This company employs a hundred men, and its action will be followed by stove manufacturers all over the south. The reason assigned is that the rapid and sudden jumps in the price of iron have not enabled them to accommodate the stove market to the increased cost of material. Circulars announcing a concerted rise in stoves will be sent out this week to the trade by all the southern makers.

Ayer's Hair Vigor tones up the weak hairroots, stimulates the vessels and tissues which supply the hair with nutrition, strengthens the hair itself, and adds the oil which keeps the shafts soft lustrous and silky. The most popular and valuable toilet preparation in the world.

Not an Encouraging Example. "Give me the man who sings at his work," quoted the citizen who believes all he reads. "Well," rejoined the skeptic, "I'm not sure about it. You know the mosquito does that."—Washington Star.

Beauchamp & Beach, Eufala, Ala., writes: "We have handled your Japanese Pile Cure for two years now and can conscientiously say it has given entire satisfaction and is a good seller. We regard it as being the best thing for Hemorrhoids or Piles that we have ever sold. At Hargrave's."

David looked at her tight-fitting dress. "Force of habit, probably," he said after a thoughtful pause.—Rockland Tribune.

He—"Give me a kiss, won't you?" She (hesitatingly)—"Well—I will, if you won't give it away."—Somerville Courier.
