WILSON LOCALS.

A WEEK'S NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD FOR BUSY READERS.

Home Matters Picked up on Our Streets by our Reporter—What He Sees and Hears.

—The streets were crowded on Saturday last. It looked like an old time Saturday gathering.

—Hot weather will make the excursion idea sprout. Another crowd passed Wilson Tuesday on its way to Norfolk.

—Already the tide of trade has begun to flow. Tobacco sales will start the ball and advertising will as surely keep the ball moving.

—If the hair has been made to grow a natural color on bald heads in thousands of cases, by using Hall's Hair Renewer, why will it not in your case?

—The Wilson Fire Company left for Fayetteville Tuesday to be present at the meeting of the State firemen's Association. The boys looked tip top in their new suits.

—The Newbern fire company, 25 strong, stopped off at Wilson on Monday last for dinner. They expected to take some prizes in the tournaments to be held at Fayetteville.

—Quite a crowd was attracted on Tuesday evening by a small boy who was dragging an immense moccasin along the streets. The snake was about eight feet long and nine inches in circumference.

Sunday School Rally.

Everybody interested in the cause is invited to attend and help make the rally a grand success.

The Excursion Monday.
When the excursion train, from Dunn, N. C., passed Wilson Monday there were about seventy-five waiting at the depot to board it and take a run down to Wilmington and the ocean. Those who went report a very pleasant trip.

The train reached Wilson on its return trip at twelve o'clock—with many a poor tired pleasure seeker.

The Kinsey Institute.
The new school building is rapidly approaching completion and every day one sees new features to attract attention. The steam heating apparatus is being placed and the connections with the city sewer pipes are being made. When completed this building will embody all the very latest ideas in sanitary plumbing and will be one of the pleasantest and best equipped school buildings in the State.

Keep the Law.

The new town ordinances are out and every citizen of the town should read them over carefully and see that he fully understands just exactly what he is called upon to do. When this idea is grasped he should do his duty promptly and cheerfully, without regard to what his neighbor may be doing or leaving undone.

Already some good men have protested, not against the law but, because "somebody else" has not done his duty. If everybody would quietly attend strictly to their own particular affairs the officers would have very little trouble in getting "that other fellow" in line.

Help the officials; don't make their duties harder to perform.

"A Heart Party."

A most enjoyable and unique party, complimentary to their guest, Miss Susie Tucker, of Raleigh, N. C., was given by Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Britton on Tuesday night at the residence of Mrs. Britton's mother. The house and lawn were brilliantly illuminated and decorated with stands of flowers. A happy party of young people were in attendance and the hours sped most delightfully. Each guest was presented with a small hand painted card heart which was attached to the lapels of the young men's coats and the corsages of the young ladies. Cream and cake was served on the lawn and the guests then engaged in the game of seeking the heart. The first prize, a beautiful paper cutter, was won by Mr. Garland S. Tucker, and was presented to him by Miss Mabel Foote in a neat little speech. Miss Ellen Branch won the "booby" prize, a tin horn, which was presented by Mr. Pleasant Gold.

Midnight came ere the merry-makers departed, all congratulating themselves on spending a most pleasant evening and meeting a most charming young lady, Miss Susie Tucker.

Misses Olga Britton and Susie Williams met the guests as they entered and placed the hearts upon them.

The True Remedy.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at B. W. Hargrave's Drug Store.

Death of Richmond Maury.

—A telegram was received here Tuesday night announcing the sudden death of Mr. Richmond Maury, at Danville, of acute appendicitis. Mr. Maury had large business interests here and spent a good deal of time here during the tobacco season. Mr. Robt. Allen, manager, and Mr. W. I. Skinner, buyer for the Wilson branch of the firm, went to Richmond to attend the funeral. The following is clipped from a Richmond paper:

HIS BUSINESS CAREER.

Mr. Maury first engaged in business as clerk for Hill, Skinner & Watkins. After the dissolution of this firm he accepted a position with C. B. Hill & Co., and later went into business on his own account as a tobacco buyer, trading under the firm name of Richmond Maury & Co.

He moved to Danville several years ago where the firm name was continued. He was up to the time of his death engaged in buying and selling leaf in Wilson, N. C., and Danville. He also represented a large English firm as buyer.

Mr. Maury, had always been remarkably successful in business and was doing well at the time of his death.

LEAVES WIFE AND TWO CHILDREN.

The deceased was married about six years ago to Miss Mary Jordan, of Smithfield, Isle of Wight county, who survives with two children, one son and one daughter.

Mr. Maury, during his residence in Richmond, was a member of the Westmoreland Club, and St. James Episcopal Church. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance in Richmond and vicinity, and his affable disposition and his unaffected simplicity won the highest esteem of all to whom he was known. The statement would be a safe one that no more deservedly popular young man ever lived in the city.—Richmond, Va., Leader.

North Carolina is well represented at the meeting of the Southern Dental Association at Old Point this week.

Waterspouts have done great damage to crops in Cherokee county. No less than thirteen occurred in a distance of nine miles. Six were seen in another section.
