congressional district are giving space to an account of the proceedings of a recent meeting of negro politicians at Edenton. The purpose of the meet- year old son of Mr. A. D. Parker ing seemed to be to protest against the way its members, and their race from instant death on record, last at large are ignored in the distribution of offices, and their special grievance was against Congressman Harry Skinner, who for some reason, has not met the expectations of the man in the black. Away up in the mountains at Asheville, the "man and brother" seems also to have been injured in his aspirations for official recognition, and down in the Cape Fear section a negro editor has given voice to the general lamentation of the sons of Ham. Our esteemed contemporaries, the Wilmington Messenger and Raleigh News and Observer and some others, have given much space to a reproduction of the wailing of the last named disturber of the peace, but for what essential purpose we do not know. Our friends should know that nothing makes the ordinary negro so happy as an opportunity to "orate and resolute." Let him be never so tull of wrath at actual or imagiced wrongs, a chance to make a speech, or draught a resolution, or "write a piece" in the papers will fill him to the top with joy and make him forgettul of all but his present importance. His mouth is his safety valve for pent up wrath. As soon as it opens his anger escapes and by the time he reaches his twenty thirdly he will be in print—and there you are.

It is strange that some of our democratic friends have failed to appreciate this trait in the negro character. It is the string by which he is led and the more noise he makes the better the republican he is going to be when he gets through shouting. We would rather trust the one who works in the field by day and greases his tace with 'possum fat at night, not knowing or caring for anything else, than the sleek looking fellow who gets mad and makes speeches.

For ourself, we do not care to make room for these meaningless diatribes. We know they will echo but as tinkling brass after the first promise made their authors by Pritchard, or Skinner, or Russell, or Butler, or who ever else may chance to dish out the rations and guide the destiny of the republican party. Even if it were in all things desirable, there is no more chance to divide the negro vote in North Csrolina than to separate the roar and mist from the falls of Niagara; for, so long as there are Hyphosphites of Lime, Soda and white men to encourage them in the hope of holding office or exercising power, so long will the negroes vote as a body with those who lead them. That they love office and would love to exercise authority is beyond doubt. We do not blame them for it, but by too free and indiscriminate notices that is not the question. The matter to consider is whether or not they are sales, which really prevents the padoing too much of it already and pers' better service to the market and where its further increase will lead us. The question is whether or not the time has come when public interests are safe in the hands of many who now control them. If so, then, as good citizens, we should quietly say afford this and is it right in respect to amen and send up our psalms of those who pay for other ads? thanksgiving. If not then the question arises what shall be done about earried too far generosity, not to

We put the question square to the intelligent, thoughtful, taxpaying, non-office seeking citizens of this section, without regard to political associations, are you satisfied with what has been done in recent years in North Carolina? Are you proud of the tangle in which almost every public interest is involved? Are you sure that all things are as they should be and that worse is not coming? If so, well and good so far as you are concerned. You are entitled to your own opinion and we shall not say you nay. But, if not, isn't it about time to think of getting back to a safe and intelligent conduct of State affairs? Is it wise to allow pride or a false shame to hold you back from a duty you owe yourself and your neighbor? Much depends upon the

A Most Miraculous Escape.

Lest week's Roanoke News gave Some of the papers of the first the following account of lightning's freak in Weldon:

"Little Leslie Parker, the three made the most miraculous escape Sunday, at the home of its parents, corner of Sycamore and Third "About seven o'clock, a heavy rain storm crme up and the little boy went out on the porch with a tin can in his hand to catch some water from the eaves of the building, Just as he reached the edge of the porch there was a blinding flash of lightning tollowed by a terrific report, and Little Leslie fell out as if dead. The inmates of the house rushed out and Mr. Parker caught the limp little figure in his arms and ran across the street to Dr. Green, who lives opposite. The physician began at once to work on the little fellow. was fully ten minutes defore the child showed the least signs of life and about one hour and a half before the doctor could discover its pulse. In vestigation revealed the following facts: The lightning struck the roof of the building, and that being metal it ran down to the eaves of the house. Here it forked, one portion of the fluid passing down a post of the porch and the other shattering a window to the pantry. The post was a large one, but it was split and splinters were torn out and scattered upon the floor. Little Leslie stood within two feet of this post and received a portion of this deadly fluid upon his as docile as any lamb ever led to the head. The hair was burned where slaughter. The source of their highest joys is at the same time the cause of their greatest wretchedness? The very attributes which make it possible for women to be happy wives and mothers also render them liable to the utmost physical misery and pain.

The sufferings of body and mind caused by some weakness of the distinctly feminine organs are so almost universal among women that the question might well be asked: "Is this Nature's punishment for the crime of being a woman?' The true answer is No! These sufferings are neither natural nor necessary. They would not exist if the organism was healthy. No woman ought to endure such troubles. There is no need of it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a perfect and positive cure for feminine weakness and disease. It gives health and strength to the special organs and nerve-centres; heals inflam-

Especially should the American Federation of Labor, which meets in December, take a strong position in favor of postal savings banks. The demand for their establishment should be reiterated so persistently that congress cannot longer ignore the subject. The vote upon the adoption of the postal savings bank resolutions at Bloomington was unanimous, which indicates the general sentiment of workingmen on the subject.

A Great Walnut Tree .

A massive curled walnut tree, probably the largest in Eastern Kentucky or Southwestern Virginia, was sold, on Elkhorn creek, Letcher county, Ky., Saturday, to an Eastern syndicate, they paying $400 for it. The tree, although buried far back in the wilds of Cumberland mountain, where civilization is hardly known, will be split into small pieces and then carted out.

It will then be hauled overland through Pound Gap to Forton and shipped to Cincinnatti, where it will be manufactured into the finest furniture. The tree in question is nearly sixteen feet to the first limb. It is estimated that it will cost more than a $1,000 to get it to Norton, Va, the nearest railroad, but it will make $15,000 worth of furniture. They cannot lose, in fact, they will make big money.
