Newbern Journal, October 22.

If the Raleigh News-Observer's "specials" from other counties of the State have as little basis as those it credits from Craven county, its "outrage" news editor ought to be put on the retired list.

Newbern Journal.

After carefully reading and thoughtfully pondering over the editorials which flow through the columns of those esteemed contemporaries, the Raleigh News and Observer and Fayetteville Observer the Journal feels like asking the question "Are there any Democrats in North Carolina?"

THE first Thanksgiving dinner was celebrated in this country two hundred and seventy-six years ago at Plymouth, Massachusetts. The whole American army was present—it numbered twenty men. Miles Standish, the backward lover of Priscilla, sat at the feast, while Priscilla served at the tables. The story will appear in the November number of the Ladies' Home Journal.

We note with interest that a school book congress was called together at Nashville on Tuesday, for the purpose of formulating some plan by which the South could be supplied books written and published in the South. This is a matter which has been under serious consideration for some time, but the present move is the first that has been made of a general character looking toward its establishment. There is one Southern Publishing Company already that has succeeded in getting one of their books taken up—we speak of the "B. F. Johnson Co.," of Richmond, Va. Their Lee's History has been adopted in our county schools. This book not only gives historic facts from a Southern standpoint, but is furnished at a much more reasonable rate than we have been charged here-to-fore.

THE complete novel in the November issue of Lippincott's is "The Price of a Wife," by John Strange Winter (Mrs. Stannard). It is a tale of English domestic life, and one of the best which the author of "Bootes' Baby" has written of late years. Among the short stories are "Out of Meeting," a remarkable story, half story, half sketch, by the late Thomas Wharton. The contention of Mr. Lecky's latest book is answered from the standpoint of American democracy, by Fred Perry Powers, under the heading, "Government by Gentlemen." Frederick H. Dewey calls attention to certain "Oddities of a Famous Climate" namely that of California. The poetry of the number is by Ella Higginson and Susie M. Best.

THE persistency, of some of our friends, in the support of the free coinage of silver calls to mind a story told by Senator Evarts at a dinner given to Senator Spooner some years ago, at which Senator Stewart insisted on presenting his usual oration on the silver cause. "I am reminded," said Senator Evarts, "of an experience in visiting an insane asylum, where I found a man astride a table which he imagined a horse and which he was lashing and spurring vigorously. Thinking to humor his fancy, I spoke to him and remarked to him that he had a very nice hobby. 'Hobby,' he replied, 'this is no hobby, it is a horse.' 'What is the difference, my friend, said I, 'between a hobby and a horse?' 'The difference, said he, giving the table another lash with the whip, 'is that you can get off of a horse but you can't get off of a hobby.'"

BE ACCURATE. The Times of last week says:

"According to the ADVANCE the advocates of the free coinage of silver are to be classed with the socialists and anarchists. * * * Whenever you (farmers) want comfort why just think of what wheat is bringing and imagine your cotton is selling in proportion, but don't allow yourself to think. If you do, the ADVANCE will hang you on the gibbet and say to the world: 'Behold an anarchist.'"

It would be distinctly unpleasant to be forced to speak of the editors of the Times as LIARS, but unless they are a little more careful in their (supposed) quotations from this paper, such a course will be found necessary. We have never believed that the free-coinage of silver would correct the evils which now exist, but while such has been our opinion we have never called any man or men names for thinking otherwise.

We accord to every individual the right, which we claim for ourself, "to think as we please." If we do not agree why the 'only thing that remains is to wait and see what the future has in store. We are all but human and "to err is human."

—The Shakers of Mount Lebanon, a community of honest, God-fearing men and women, have prepared the Shaker Digestive Cordial for many years, and it is always the same, simple, honest curative medicine that has helped to make the Shakers the healthy, long-lived people that they are. The Shakers never have indigestion. This is partly owing to their simple mode of life, partly to the wonderful properties of Shaker Digestive Cordial. Indigestion is caused by the stomach glands not supplying enough digestive juice. Shaker Digestive Cordial supplies what's wanting. Shaker Digestive Cordial invigorates the stomach and all its glands so that after awhile they don't need help. As evidence of the honesty of Shaker Digestive Cordial, the formula is printed on every bottle. Sold druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

A WISE MAN CHANGES, A FOOL NEVER.

The Kinston Free Press is inclined to be a little caustic. It honors us by quoting a portion of an editorial and comments as follows:

The Wilson ADVANCE, though claiming to be a Democratic paper takes no stock in silver or in W. J. Bryan. It says: "To us, the Chicago platform is simply "a last year's bird nest," then the ADVANCE made a migratory bird politically—here today somewhere else tomorrow. Perhaps it may go with the yellow birds next time. We purpose staying in the political home built last year by the Democrats at Chicago. Bryan and silver, we believe, will triumph in 1900.

As we have on many other occasions stated, because we think one way, it does not follow that we lose respect for those on the other side.

Brother Herbert may stick to "Bryan and Silver" just as long as he likes, and if his side is right we hope it may succeed, but in the mean time there is ample room for both of us and we inhabit a land that is (called) free. As for our "migratory" characteristics, if we are not somewhat in error, (and if so we ask information) it is, and has been, the policy of the party to build a new platform immediately BEFORE each and every campaign and we feel well assured that if Brother Herbert did not believe that we had a right to say what we thought was proper material for the NEXT platform, then he would take down his sign, "FREE PRESS."

Wilson Times. It is common for those in favor of the gold standard to cry out that silver is cheap money—worth less than fifty cents in the dollar; and the government is endorsing this position that a silver dollar is not worth more than fifty cents in the dollar; now if this is so why does the government issue that money as worth one dollar? Why do they deal out a piece of money they say is not worth fifty cents, yet pass it for a full dollar? When we ask for a fish what do they give us? When we ask for bread what do they give us? The shame of this deed will rebound on somebody's head yet. P. D. GOLD.

We had long since ceased to feel surprise at anything appearing in the editorial columns of the Times (from the pen of either of its editors) but we must admit that we were surprised to read the above article, signed P. D. Gold. We cannot understand how any man, occupying the position in a community that Mr. Gold occupies, could allow his name to be connected with a statement which, if not absolutely false, is at least calculated to leave a false impression upon the mind of the reader.

He says the government is endorsing the position that a silver dollar is not worth more than fifty cents in the dollar, and having made this assertion he proceeds to ask the question, "Why do they deal out a piece of money they say is not worth fifty cents, yet pass it for a full dollar?" In the first place, "the government" has no personality and therefore cannot endorse anything, but passing this inaccuracy in grammar (and others) by, and taking it for granted that he means the administrative officials, in charge of that branch of the government, still his assertion is untrue, in part, as it has only been claimed that, THE COMMERCIAL VALUE OF THE BULLION CONTAINED IN A SILVER DOLLAR IS WORTH LESS THAN FIFTY CENTS." No question has been raised as to its purchasing power value. He might just as reasonably question the issue of paper money which has no intrinsic value whatever.

The only comment necessary in such cases is to be found in the closing sentence of this masterly (?) effusion: "The shame of this deed will rebound on somebody's head yet."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, tone hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Farmers say that over seven eighths of all the cotton is picked; that the top crop in a few specially cultivated and fertile spots is practically all remaining in the fields; that all the good cotton is picked. They say they think the crop is one fourth off as compared with its condition August 1st, but that the crop is better than was thought October 1st it would be. The increase in average brings it up to a normal crop.

There has been very little cholera among hogs in the State this year, and there will be almost enough pork to supply the people. The shortage of the late crop of corn makes the supply of that food not nearly so large as was expected.

WINSTON SENTINEL.—District Attorney Holton remarked recently that blockading must stop. Every department has taken stand against it and the law will be enforced. It appears that a great many men in the Piedmont section, who have been running small government stills, do as much if not more blockading, as regular "moonshiners." A number of such cases were tried at the last term of the Federal Court at Greensboro. A number of old offenders have been promising Judge Dick that they would quit, but they have not kept their promises, and now His Honor proposes to enforce the law.

GETTING READY

Every expectant mother has a trying ordeal to face. If she does not

Nature is not given proper assistance.

Mother's Friend

is the best help you can use at this time. It is a liniment, and when regularly applied several months before baby comes, it makes the advent easy and nearly painless. It relieves and prevents "morning sickness," relaxes the overstrained muscles, relieves the distended feeling, shortens labor, makes recovery rapid and certain without any dangerous after-effects.

Mother's friend is good for only one purpose, viz.: to relieve motherhood of danger and pain.
