President's Address to the National Association of Janufacturers.

NO REFERENCE DO THE GAGE BILL

The Chief Magistrate Recalls the Decbrations of the St. Louis Convention and Declares That the Stability of the National Currency Must Be Upheld. New York, Jan. 28.-The third annual banquet of the National Association of Manufacturers of the United States, which took place last night at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, was one of the largest and most elaborate affairs of the kind ever given in this city. President Mckinley was escorted from the Windsor hotel by the committee of merchants and at once taken to the royal chambers. Haff an hour later he appeared in the reception room, where he held a levee for more than an hour.

Warner Miller called the gathering to order and Theodore C. Search, president of the organization, introduced the speakers. The wildest enthusiasm prevailed when President McKiniey was introduced. "

The president, after thanking his hearers for their cordial greeting, referred to their first convention, held in Cincinnati in 1895, when, as governor of the state, he we comed them. He proceeded:

"Much prefitable trade is still unenjoyed by our people because of their present insufficient facilities for reaching desirable markets. Much of it is lost because of a lack of information and ignorance of the conditions and needs of others. It is our du y to make American enterprise and industrial ambition, as well as achievement, terms of respect and praise, not only at home, but among the family of nations the world over.

"There is another duty resting upon the national government-'to coin money and regulate the value thereof.' This duty requires that our government shall regulate the value of its money by the highest standards of commercial honesty and honor. The money of the United States is and must forever be unquesmain, they must be removed. If weak places are discovered, they must be strengthened. Nothing should ever tempt us-nothing wil ever tempt usto scale down the sacred debt of the nation through a legal technicality. Whatever may be the language of the contract, the United States will discharge all obligations in the currency recognized as the best throughout the civilized world at the times of payment. Nor will we ever consent that the wages of abor orits frugal savings shall be scaled down by permitting payment in dollars of less value than the dollars accepted as the best in every enlightened nation

"It will not suffice for citizens nowadays to say simply that they are in favor of sound money. That is not enough. The people's purpose must be given the vitality of public law. Better an honest effort, with failure, than ing a duty. Discu on cannot hurtcause. Let us have full and free discussion. platform is still as commanding upon Republicans and those who served with them in the last can paign as on the day it was adopted and promulgated. Happily the tagiff part of the platform has already been entrafted into public statute. But that other plank, not already builded into our constitution, is of binding force upon all of us. What " 'The Republican party is unreservedly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payments in 1879; since then every dollar has been as good as gold. We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote, and until such agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved. "The country is now emerging from trying conditions. It is only just beginning to recover from the depression in certain lines of business long continued and altogether unparalleled.

Progress, therefore, will naturally be slow, but let us not be impatient. Rather let us exercice a just patience, which in time will surely bring its own

Let us reselve to uphold the stability of our currency and credit, and illustrate the purity of our nationa and municipal government, and then, though the rain descends and the floods come and the winds blow, the nation will stand, for it is founded upon a rock."

Fill ustering Steamer Wrecked. Providence, r. I., Jan. 26.-The small two masted fillbustering steamer Tillie, of New York, was abandoned at sea last Sunday afternoon while off Barnegat. Nineteen of those on board of Night mails for all points close at 9 p.m. her were saved in the midst of a terrible storm by the schooner Governor Ames, but four men could not be taken off, and went down with the vessel. Forty tons of dynamite, three dynamite guns and a considerable quantity of ammunition, undoubtedly intended for the warring Cubans, were on board the Tillie when she sank.

DEATH OF REAR ADMIRAL BRAINE Entered the Navy from Texas, as a

Midshipman, In 1846. New York, Jan. 31.-Daniel Lawrence Braine, rear admiral of the United States navy, retired, died at his home in Brooklyn last night from heart failure, following an attack of theumatism. He had not been senjously ill' until last Friday, since which time his family physician has been in almost constant attendance. He leaves a widow, three sons and a daughter.

Admiral Braine was born in New York, May 18, 1829. He was appointed to the navy from Texas as a midshipman in 1846, and during the Mexican war was engaged in most of the important actions. He was made passed midshipman in 1852, master in 1855 and lieutenant in 1858. In the civil war he served with distinction, and in 1862 he received his commission as lieutenant commander. On July 25, 1866, he was commissioned commander, became captain in 1874, commodore in 1885, and president of the naval board inspection, at New York, on July f of the same year. LIZZIE DE KALB IS INNOCENT.

Condemned Man Says That He and Clemmer Alone Conspired to Make Way With His Wife, and That Miss De Kalb Knew Nothing of the Plot.

Philadelphia, Jan. 31 .- A special to The Inquirer from Norristown, Pa.: states that Charles O. Kaiser, convicted of the murder of his wife, Emma Kaiser, has made a confession in which he admits having conspired with James A. Clemmer to commit the crime, but placing the blame for having fired the fatal shot on Clemmer, who is now in the county jail awaiting trial for his alleged share in the crime. Lizzje De Kath, who is under arrest charged with being implicated in the murder, is, according to Kaiser's confession, innocent of any knowledge of their purpose to kill Mrs. Kaiser.

Kaiser in his confession says that he never had any intention of doing away with his wife until after he had heard that she was untrue to him. Previous to that time, he said, he had always loved her. As soon, however, as he was told that she was untrue he lost all love for her; and when soon afterward he met Clemmer in Philadelphia he it was who tempted him to enter into a scheme to get rid of Mrs. Kaiser. Clemmer, the convicted man says, told him that they were both in need of money, and inasmuch as his wife was untrue to him he should have no compunctions about ending her life.

The confession then states that Clemmer told him that he was an agent for the Covenant Life Insurance company, of Galesburg, Ills., and induced him to take out an insurance policy for $5,000. This was in the summer of 1896. Clemmer then told him how easy it was to dispose of Mrs. Kaiser, and persuaded him to induce his wife to make a will in his (Kaiser's) favor.

Kaiser says that Clemmer and he arranged to kill Mrs. Kaiser by means of Spain has decided to send the cruiser poison, but that blan fell through, and it was afterward decided to make i appear that the crime was committed by highwaymen.

Plans to this end were arranged, and on three separate occasions Mrs. Kaiser went driving accompanied by Lizzie De Kaib, but the plans of the conspirators failed of accomplishment until October, 1896. On the 29th of that month the plan finally succeeded. Kaised had met Clemmer, and all the details were arranged. Clemmer was to meet him and Mrs. Kaiser at a given point in the guise of a highwayman.

Kaiser then goes on to say that when he reached the given point Clemmer made his appearance and commanded the carriage containing Kaiser and his wife to be halted, at the same time demanding money and valuables. These were handed out, upon which the pistol was placed against Mrs. Kaiser's head by Clemmer, who ared. The secand shot was put through Kaiser's arm. The remainder of Kaiser's confession differs in no particular with the facts already brought out at the trial as to his subsequent movements. He insists, however, that the De Kalb woman knew nothing of the murder until after it had been accomplished.

This latter feature of the confession corroborates the statement made by Lizzie De Kalb just after her arrest.

PHILADELPHIA'S FAILED BANK. Comptroller Dawes Appoints George

H. Earle, Jr., as Receiver. Philadelphia, Jan. 31.-Comptroller Dawes arrived from Washington last Thursday afternoon and had a conferencewith George H. Earle, Jr., and Richard Y. Cook, managers of the "Singerly plan" of liquidation of the affairs of the failed Chestnut Street National. bank. After the conference Mr. Dawes gave out a statement in which he declared that he could not modify the conditions he had recently imposed, and as a result announced that, "as indicating his confidence in the intentions of the managers," he would appoint Mr. Earle as the receiver of the bank. As a result the official notification of Mr. Earle's appointment came from Washington on Saturday, and his commission arrived today.

The appointment of Mr. Earle generally approved by the press of this city, but a number of depositors in the bank, in recent interviews, expressed themselves as displeased with the appointment. They approve the comptreller's new conditions of the Singerly plan of liquidation, as they claim that under these conditions creditors are better protested in their legal rights than they were under the plan as originally presented, but they hold that as Mr. Earle is assignee for several of Mr. Singerly's other enterprises they would have preferred another selection. It is confidently believed by those, interviewed that a plan of voluntary liquidation will yet be adopted, and that the receivership will be of short dura-

Battle Between Whit s and Blacks in Arkansas Imm nent. Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 29.-Trouble between blacks and whites in Lonoke county is apprehended, which, when once started, may outrival anything of the kind witnessed in the south in In the town of Lonoke several negroes have been killed by whites, and others have been driven away. Notices bearing date of Jan. 23 have been tacked on the door of nearly every negro house in the town of Lonoke and on many vabins in the surrounding country ordering every negro in Lonoke who remain. The notices are not signed, but are Notices have also been posted on the doors of negro schoolhouses warning the teachers to close the schools and leave. Many of the negroes have taken their families and moved out of the county: But a large number have avowed their purpose of remaining in their home and defending them at the cost of their lives, if necessary. One prominent colored man; in an open letter to his race, advised the colored men of Lonoke to supply themselves with arms and be prepared to protect themselves. "When the negroes of Lonoke county kill about 25 of these lawless white men," he said, "the outrages"
