NQUIRY BOARD SO REPORTS.

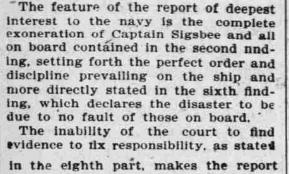

The Report Fails to Place Responsibility For the Disaster.

RUSHING WAR PREPARATIONS.

Washington, March 28 .- The following is a complete abstract of the report of the court of inquiry which investigated the wrecking of the battleship Maine. This abstract is made from the report itself, access to which was obtained yesterday, despite official secrecy unparalleled in the handling of official papers. The report is made up of eight parts, as follows: First-The court finds that at the time of the explosion the battleship Maine was lying in five and one-half to six fathoms of water. Second-The discipline aboard the ship was excellent; everything stowed according to orders-ammunition, guns, stores, etc. The temperature of the magazines at 8 p. m. was normal except in the after ten inch magazine, and that did not explode. Third-The explosion occurred at 9:40 o'clock on the evening of Feb. 15. There were two explosions, with a very short so guarded in expression of blame that neither Spain nor the Spanish are mentioned throughout. The president saw a number of the members of the cabinet at the White House yesterday. They dropped in one by one until those present included Secretaries Bliss, Alger, Gage and Attorney General Griggs. With them also was Assistant Secretary Day, of the state department, who presumably had dispatches to show the president." The gathering was not a special cabinet meeting in the sense in which that terni is generally used, but was simply a talk, between the president and his advisers, such as occurred the previous Sunday, concerning matters on which he desired to consult them.

At it's state, war and navy departments during the earlier portions of the day there was little semblance of the Sabbath. Chiefs of bureaus, clerks, messengers and telegraph operators were all at work. Probably never since the days of the late war have so many officials gathered at the war and navy departments on a Sunday.

Secretary Long, however, did not appear at the navy department during the day, as most of the matters requiring attention were those that could as well be attended to by bureau officers and their assistants. Mrs. Long has been ill for some time and the secretary in part shook off official cares and spent the major portion of the day with her. In the afternoon, in company with Miss Long, the secretary drove down to the Washington navy yard and inspected the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, which is having her guns adjusted and repaired.

Assistant Secretary Day spent a portion of the Sabhath at the state d

FRAUDULENT CONTRACT WORK.

The Officials Are Charged With Having Made Way With Eighty Thousand Dollars of the City's Funds by Unlawful Methods.

New York, March 26 .- In the Kings county criminal court in Brooklyn yesterday nine indictments were handed down by the grand jury against former city officials and contractors of Brooklyn. The indicted men are: Former City Works Commissioner Theodore B. Willis, ex-Police Commissioner W. E. Phillips, Robert W. Fielding, former deputy of city works commissioner; Oscar Knapp, former water purveyor; Fred Milne, inspector; former Alderman William J. Leaycraft, former Alderman Joseph R. Clarke, A. L. Jansen, a clerk in Controller Palmer's office:

W. H. Gon, former superintendent of sewers.

The indictments charge the former officeholders with having, by means of fraudulent contracts for public work, made away with $80,000 of the funds they found in the treasury of the city of Brooklyn when they took office. The affidavits secured by the district attroney and by him laid before the grand jury allege that the accused made it a practice to meet at the residence of William E. Phillips, where plans were discussed and agreed upon for securing contracts upon conditions of peculiar advantage to those interested. It is alleged that Contractor Daniel

Doody supplied the foundation for the whole investigation by practically turning state's evidence after Comptroller bottom of a creek. Coler and his assistants had discovered that $80,000 in cash was missing from the Brooklyn water fund, and that there were evidences of other grave frauds and defalcations. The records charge, the $80,000 in question to "emergency work." The law required that all work the cost of which was to exceed $2,000 should be awarded by contracts, upon advertisement for the regular time. To evade this law, it is alleged, the .officers of the Brooklyn city works department had been in the habit of ordering work and paying for it in interval between them; the ship lifted on the first explosion.

"Fourth-The court can form no definite opinion of the condition of the wreck from the divers' evidence. Fifth-Technical details of wreckage, from which the court deduces that a mine was exploded under the ship on the port side.

Sixth-The explosion was due to no fault of those on board.

Seventh-Opinion of the court stating that the explosion of the mine caused the explosion of the two magazines

Eighth-The court declares that it cannot find evidence to fix the responsibility.

The report is unanimous and is signed by all the members of the court. It does not refer to the existence or non-existence of mines in the harbor of Havana except in the specific finding that a mine was exploded under the ship, and the opinion that the explosion of the two magazines was caused by the explosion of a mine. The report as a whole is a formal, dispassionate recital of facts, and bears the stamp of that strict official. ism which marks naval procedure. It is brief, not exceeding 1,800 words, and among the eight parts goes to the greatest length under the second heading, which deals with the discipline and order of the ship. This the court specifies with extreme minuteness, the least detail of the satisfactory condition of everything on board being given.

The normal temperature of the large forward magazine at 8 o'clock-only an hour and 40 minutes before the explosion-disposes of the question of accidental combustion within these magazines. \ .. i e the court holds that these magazines did not explode from internal causes, they nevertheless are of the opinion that the explosion of the mine under the port side of the ship caused the explosion of the two mazagines. ' This will explain the repartment, and there received a call from the Spanish minister, a rather unusual procedure, indicating important matters for consideration. The conference lasted some time, but its nature could not be learned. The developments in the Cuban situation indicate steady progress in the negotiations between the government of this country and that of Spain looking to the maintenance of peace, for the present at least. There is good authority for saying that Spain's present wish is to secure a cession of hostilities in Cuba rather than to engage in a war with the United States, and that it is more than probable that the negotiations between the government of the United States and the Sagasta ministry will take that turn in the immediate future. It can be stated on the highest authority that there has been no abatement of the president's intention to see that the war is terminated on terms that will render the Cubans practically free.

The events of last week were a succession of exciting incidents. At Boston, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk and San Francisco recruiting for the navy has been going on steadily ever since Monday of last week. On Thursday last Admiral Sicard was retired on sick leave and Captain Sampson appointed to succeed him in command of the fleet at Key West. Captain Robley Evans ("Fighting Bob") was appointed to the command of the Iowa, succeeding Captain Sampson. On Friday Commander W. S. Schley was appointed to command the flying squadron at Hampton Roads. Orders were also issued to have the vessels of the white squadron painted a dark lead color, and that work is now proceeding. On Friday it was announced that agents of this government had purchased a "Schischau" torpedo boat just built for the German government. At New York agents of the government purchased four swift yachts, nine fast sea going tugs and one coasting vessel, which are being transformed into war vessels. Chaplain Chidwick's report, given out last Tuesday, shows that 263 men and two officers are dead as the result of the Maine explosion. The two new war vessels purchased from Brazil have been named New Orleans and Albany. The great event of last week was, of course, the arrival in Washington on Thursday night of the report of the Maine court of inquiry, which was brought to the capital from Key West by Lieutenant Commander Marix, Lieutenants Hood and Jungen, Engineer Bowers and Ship Carpenter Helmes, of the Maine's crew. Another important event of the week was the launching, on Thursday last at Newport News, Va., of the two new battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge.

Last Thursday the body of Lieutenant Jenkins was recovered from the wreck of the Maine, and has been forwarded to his mother at Allegheny; Pa. The Spanish government has cabled officially to Washington that the Spanish naval commission holds the disaster to the Maine to be of internal origin. The government of Spain, it can be stated positively, is not disposed to turn back the torpedo flotilla now proceeding from the Canaries, and would be markable destruction wrought, the ex- disinclined to consider a suggestion sums of $2,000 or less. Further search in the records brought out the fact that most of these small jobs and the money for them had fallen into the hands of a firm that appeared upon the books as Thomas Frazier & Co. Mr. Coler was at first inclined to believe that the firm was a myth, but a little detective work disclosed the fact that Contractor Doody was really Thomas Frazier & Co. All the bills for this "emergency work" had to receive the "O K" of Water Purveyor Knapp, be certified as correct by Deputy City Works Commissioner Fielding, passed by Auditor Sutton, thence through the hands of Comptroller Palmer and were finally paid by City Treasurer Taylor, The indictment of Mr. Clarke was for accepting a consideration for the performance of an official act while in the board of aldermen. It is surmised from this that the grand jury took up the action of the board of aldermen in connection with the granting of trolley franchises and extensions.

Pineville, Ky., March 22 .- One of the bloodiest battles ever fought in the Kentucky mountains took place Sunday afternoon at Puckett's Creek, in Harlan county, about 16 miles from this place, in which three men were killed and two injured. The killed are Thad Shellings, Josiah Leroy and Wes Taylor. They were at a neighbor's drinking, when a quarrel arose between Shellings and Taylor, the former firing the first shot, but missing. Taylor then opened fire, killing Shellings. Leroy opened fire on Taylor, both shooting about the same time. When the fracas was over both were found to be stretched on the ground dead. Two men were wounded by stray bullets.
