WILSON LOCALS.

A WEEK'S NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD FOR BUSY READERS.

Home Matters Picked up on Our Streets by our Reporter—What He Sees and Hears.

Nearly all women have good hair, though many are gray, and few are bald. Hall's Hair Renewer restores the natural color, and thickens the growth of the hair.

On Wednesday, December 14th, Mr. Robt. Farmer, son of Mr. W. E. Farmer, agent of the A. C. L. at this place will be united in marriage to Miss Alice Doyle, of Norfolk, Va. Mr. Farmer is at present located in holding a responsible position with the railroad at that place. Miss Doyle is one of Norfolk's most accomplished young ladies.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chibblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by B. W. Hargrave.

The New Warehouse.

Work is progressing as rapidly as the weather will permit on the new warehouse of the A. C. L., opposite the freight depot on the west side of the railroad. This building has long been needed at this place and we are glad to see it going up. We understand it will be used for storing tobacco prior to shipment. The building will be divided into sections, one for each point to which the weed is shipped, thus making it easier to handle the enormous output from the various stemmies which are located in Wilson. The house will be built of wood.

Killed His Chickens.

Some person or persons went into the yard of Mr. Joel Price, who lives on the edge of town, and wrung the necks of all his chickens which were in a coop. After this they threw the bodies in a pile and left.

Now this is something which should be looked into and if the guilty parties can be caught they should be made to suffer to the full extent of the law.

Heals the Klondike.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages; and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure; would have it, even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, Bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Trial bottles free at B. W. Hargrave's Drug Store. Regular size 50 cts. and $1.00. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

Goes to Elm City.

Dr. J. E. Brothers, who has been here for some time, will, we understand, make Elm City his home in the future. He is there himself at present and will move his family in a short while.

We regret to lose him as a citizen and practitioner, but can congratulate our neighboring town upon having him locate with them. His Wilson friends will wish him much success in his new home.

An Old Landmark Gone.

Yesterday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock the spirit of another old veteran crossed the River to join his comrades who have gone before.

The citizens of the town were surprised when it was reported that Mr. D. P. Christmas was dead. For some time he had been very feeble, suffering from wounds received in the Civil war, but his many friends did not realize that his end was near.

Mr. Christmas was born in Wake county on December 16th, 1842. He came here when he was very young and ever since has been one of Wilson's best citizens. At the beginning of the war he enlisted in Co. F., 4th Regiment, N. C. V., and served till the end. One of his old comrades, in speaking of his qualities as a soldier said that "a better soldier never went into the Confederate army." He was badly wounded, from which he has suffered a great deal.

For about 28 years he was on the police force of the town, most of the time serving as chief, and a better officer never wore uniform and badge. Several months ago the town commissioners, at one of their meetings, added the office of street commissioner and gave it to Mr. Christmas. In this capacity he served as long as his health would permit.

Mr. Christmas was a member of Mt. Lebanon Lodge No. 117, A. F. & A. M., and of Rameur-Grimes Camp Confederate Veterans.

He leaves a wife and five children, three girls and two boys, to mourn their loss. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to them in their bereavement.

The funeral will be held from the residence this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to the stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by B. W. Hargrave Druggist.

On the War Path.

A white man walked into the Wilson Book Store yesterday and wanted to rent a bicycle. He was evidently a little the worse off for the great amount of good "fire water" he had on board. He pulled out a pistol and threatened to wipe things up. Said he was the son of the Mayor of Wilmington and that his gun had killed five negroes. He was put out in short order before he could say much more and went his way rejoicing.

In Greensboro.

Wilson friends of the Myrtle & Harder Company will be glad to know that, while they did not have packed houses here, there are other cities which appreciate their talent.

A correspondent of the Charlotte Observer, writing from Greensboro, says:

"The Myrtle Harder Company opened a week's engagement at the Academy of Music tonight. Every seat was sold before dark."

Marriage Last Night.

Last night at the home of the bride on Barnes Street, a quiet wedding took place, the contracting parties being Miss Nannie Harrison and Mr. Ed. Natall. Both the young people have a host of friends who will join the News in extending our congratulations.

Spain's Reply May Come Today.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Although the Spanish Peace Commissioners at Paris are given until Monday next to reply to the ultimatum of the United States Commissioners, it is anticipated to a large extent in official circles here that Senor Ries' statement, made yesterday in these dispatches, that he didn't want so much time and would reply Wednesday, may prove prophetic. Others, however, do not think the answer will be forthcoming tomorrow, as Ries' prediction was based it is thought on an answer the character of which will not be the real one given. No one doubts the ultimate acquisition of the archipelago by the United States government as demanded by our Commissioners.

REGIMENT UNDER ARREST.

OFFICERS OF TENTH IMMUNES SAY THE MUTINY IS MORE SERIOUS THAN REPORTED.

Trouble among the leaders of Negro Soldiers to Pass Examination for Commissions—To What?—Officers of Tenth Immunes—Timely Discovery Prevented the Carrying Out of Plans, and Arrests Followed.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 22.—The officers of the Tenth Immunes say the mutiny was more serious than has yet been reported; more than a hundred men left camp in small squads, all armed with rifles.

The entire regiment is still under arrest, guarded by a battalion of the Tenth Immunes, who have orders to shoot any man who attempts to escape.

Officers of the Tenth Immunes say the mutiny was more serious than has yet been reported; more than a hundred men left camp in small squads, all armed with rifles.

They intended to meet and kill the white provost guard and all white people with whom they came in contact and then pillage the town.

They had also sworn to wreak vengeance on the Tenth Immunes, who would not join the outbreak. Timely discovery prevented the carrying out of these plans and arrests followed.

DON'T WANT JIM YOUNG'S REGIMENT

Macon, Nov. 22.—When the information reached here last night that another negro regiment offered by negroes (the Third North Carolina) was to be sent here from Knoxville, there was great dissatisfaction expressed and the universal decision is that they will have to behave themselves after they arrive in Macon.

From the reports which reach here today, giving an account of the mutiny among them and the killing and wounding of several of the so-called "soldiers" at Knoxville yesterday and other actions of the North Carolina regiment it is not thought that they are any better than the Virginia negroes, the whole regiment of whom are still under arrest and at hard labor, and from them trouble is feared as a result of their coming to Macon.

It is agreed on all hands that the greatest trouble arises from the fact that these two regiments are officered by negroes, negro officers invariably having proved a failure in this war, the first in which they ever participated in the service of the U. S.

With white officers the negro troops are not so bad, but with negroes to command them they are worse than bandits in some respects. They refuse to obey officers of their own color, the latter state, and the incompetency of the negro officers is at the bottom of the whole matter.

N. C. NEGRO IN TROUBLE.

He Kills Two Unoffending White Men in Ohio and is Now in Jail.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 22.—An intoxicated negro, after using tip several women and girls in a commercial street here, stopped in front of a house occupied by John E. Fisher, Federal Marshal, and shot John S. Fisher, who was sitting in the yard in the rear of his house drinking and smoking.

The negro demanded a drink. The white man refused, and ordered him out. St. Francis attempted to put the intruder out, when the negro drew a revolver and shot both men.

Both men fell to the ground and the negro ran to the Erie railroad and jumped on to a passing freight train, eastbound. He was overtaken and arrested a few stations away. The men who were shot both died in the hospital soon after.

The negro gave his name as Samuel Carr, and said his home was in Cleveland, N. C. He is 23 years old. He said he arrived here from North Carolina yesterday.

SEPARATE CARS FOR THE RACES.

If the Commission Does Not Fix the Matter the Legislature Will be Asked to Do So.

It now looks as if North Carolina, like most of the other Southern States, is soon to have separate cars for white and colored people.

This can be done by either the Legislature or the Railroad Commission. If the one does not do it the other very probably will.

At the next session of the commission a resolution ordering all railroads in the State to provide separate cars for the two races will be introduced by Commissioner John H. Pearson. This resolution has already been drawn and will doubtless be adopted by the Commission.

If it is not, the Legislature will be asked to pass a law similar to that now in force in South Carolina or Georgia.

For a long time there has been among the travelling public a growing sentiment in favor of such a law, and the campaign just closed having been fought out on this line, they will follow up the victory and urge the passage of a "Jim Crow Car Law."

The resolution to be introduced at the next meeting of the Railroad Commission prescribes equal accommodations for both races, though in separate cars. Such a law, Mr. Pearson thinks, could not be objected to by either race.

The only question, therefore, is as to how it would affect the railroads. If, as in nearly every other State in the Union, all fares were made the same, say 3 cents a mile instead of 2 1/2 and 3 1/4 as now, the railroads would have to run no more cars than at present. But if the two classes of fares are maintained it will be necessary to run at least three cars instead of two, as there must be one first class car for each race, unless the first class car be divided in the middle as would be done with second class coach.

However these details may be settled, it is pretty certain that North Carolina will at an early date have separate cars for the races, and it is very likely that it will be the Railroad Commission and not the Legislature that will have them provided. —News & Observer.

A Neglected Garden.

Asia Minor and its natural dependencies Mesopotamia are among the most desirable places on the earth's surface. In spite of Turkish misrule, Smyrna and Alexandretta are large and growing ports. Under German influence Asia Minor would have half a dozen entrepôts of trade as rich, or even richer, and more flourishing. Not only is the soil of Asia Minor naturally fertile, but there is a profusion of mineral wealth in the mountains and a population hardy and brave without being unduly fanatical.—London Spectator

SHARKEY IS WINNER.

CORBETT LOST THE FIGHT ON A FOUL IN THE NINTH ROUND.

AN UNEXPECTED RESULT.

THE BRINGING OF THE FIGHT WAS A GREAT SURPRISE TO EVERYONE.

Corbett failed him in the Ninth Round, Although Sharkey had the Reputation of Being an Unfair Fighter—Large Sums of Money Lost on Corbett, Who Was the Favorite by Big Odds.

New York, Nov. 22.—It was nearly 11 o'clock tonight when Sharkey and Corbett were ready to begin. The sailor began by being the aggressor, and in the first round put in a blow that almost reached the ribs. Corbett, cleverly evaded his heavy punches and landed squarely on Sharkey's nose. He was laughing at the end of the round.

In the second round Corbett put up a superb defence, but the sailor kept on rushing, and got in some heavy blows on Corbett's neck and slightly below the belt. He sent Corbett down with a tremendous right on the jaw, but Corbett was soon on his feet again.

Jim was nervous in the third, but the blows were about even. Tom got in a tremendous left on the ear in the next round and got Corbett scared. He recovered in the fifth, however, and got in blows on Sharkey's nose. The sailor, however, got in some heavy swings, and made Corbett clinch.

Sharkey went in the seventh round with a rush, and put a "left hook" on Corbett's mouth, that was the best blow since the fight began.

Corbett then got in good work in earnest, and landed beautifully on Tom's head and body. Both were tired when the bell sounded, but there was plenty of action in the next round. A swing on the jaw sent Corbett toward the ropes, but he came back like a tiger and landed his right on the mouth of Sharkey.

Sharkey gave Corbett no rest, but failed to reach his jaw, which he evidently was trying to touch.

It was evident when the ninth began that Corbett was improving in his work. Corbett hit Sharkey below the belt, but it was evidently an accident.

Corbett was outpointing the sailor in beautiful style, but Tom had the strength. While they were fighting hard, McVey, Corbett's second, jumped into the ring and cried, "time is up," but there was no reason for it.

He was thrown out of the ring, and Referee Kelly said that as Corbett's second had broken the rule by getting into the ring he must give the decision to Sharkey, but declared all bets off.

The crowd was wild for a minute, but agreed that no other ruling was possible under the circumstances and rules of the ring.

The fight was a great surprise, especially the manner of its ending, Corbett being the last man to be suspected of fouling an opponent, while Sharkey had frequently done so heretofore, and in years past had the reputation of an unfair fighter.

Large sums of money changed hands on the result, Corbett being the favorite in the betting by large odds.

GIGANTIC RABBIT FARM.

Scheme of an Englishman to Can the Gentle Bunny.

"Rabbit! Rabbit! Oh, what er mighty rabbit yoh is! Look our Br'er Rabbit! Dekin Martin, he arter yoh hide."

There is a brand new scheme in Chicago, imported by Martin de Grody of England. De Grody's plan has been carried to success abroad in several instances, and he has arrived here filled with an enthusiasm which is delightful to behold. His scheme is nothing less than the starting of a gigantic rabbit farm with a cannery annex. The gentle, long eared bunny will be carefully raised until he has reached an age mature enough, when, after a slight disappearance, he will again appear before an astonished world, this time nicely cooked, properly conditioned and snugly reposing inside the tin can of commerce.

De Grody says that tame rabbit is esteemed a great delicacy abroad, Paris alone consuming nearly 200,000 pounds a week. Physicians, he says, endorse the meat as one of the cleanest and healthiest of foods. Poor, poor bunny! From a pet to a pot!—Philadelphia Press.

The St. James Gazette recently, commenting upon the prospect of American forces attacking the Spanish coast, said: "The reception of the news evidences a change in public opinion which, at the commencement of the war, thought Europe should notify the United States that the war must be confined to American waters. It is now recognized that the Americans are fully entitled to make war in their own way, and they are indeed driven to retaliate upon Spain in this manner, owing to the tactics which Spain has chosen to pursue."
