Do not fail to register, unless your name is on the registration books it will be useless to go to the polls. Examining the books and see if your name is all right. Do not wait until it is convenient, but make it convenient.

It is said the Grant Republicans in Washington openly boast that they will own Garfield if he is elected, because after the defeat in Maine it was only with the help of Grantmen that Ohio and Indiana was carried. It is also said that in the event of Garfield's election Curtis, Sherman and Schurz will have to give place to the old guard.

It is said that the Republicans will send money to this State, South Carolina and Florida to carry these States for Garfield. If this be so, it is evident that the success of the Republicans in Ohio and Indiana does not induce enough confidence in the National Committee. It argues weakness to send money away from doubtful to Democratic States.

The success of the Republican party in the October elections is by no means evidence of success in the Presidential election. The majority in Indiana is small and can be easily overcome. The Democratic candidate in that State was unpopular and was a hindrance to the party. Local differences, too, had their effect. All these things will not exist hereafter, and the Democrats are sure with hard work to carry the State in November; and their recent defeat will awaken new energy in the caucus.

This election is a little less than 8 weeks off. In the meantime a great deal of work can be done. The Republicans are working like devils and intend to gain the victory if possible. To overcome this the Democrats must not flag in their labors, but work on to the end. Belief in success will not give us the victory. This belief must be followed up by hard ticks without intermission. We have a few who know no cessation and never submit. Eternal vigilance is the price of political success as well as of liberty.

THE Messenger says:

James E. O'Hara, who in his recent speech in this town, on the occasion of the republican county convention, fired the demoralized in most reckless, bitter and venomous language, only equalled in savagery by the sentiments uttered in the notorious address issued by the republican county executive committee to speak at Study X Roads on Saturday last, and at Grantham's 25th inst. We suppose O'Hara is brought here to rally the negroes. Then let white men do their duty.

The two factions of the Democratic party in New York city have merged. Irving Hall nominate Judge of the Superior Court. Tammany nominates Register and Recorder. Two of the Aldermen at large will be nominated by the Irving Hall and two by the Tammany Hall faction. The Mayor W. H. Grace was nominated by a conference committee of both factions. Marine justices will be nominated by the German organizations in the city.

This is all that was needed to make New York State Democratic; and now the thirty-five electoral votes of the Empire State will be given to Hancock and English.

Every Democrat should do all the work he can for the party. Individual works pays as well if not better than any other. Each man should do what he can in his own neighborhood.

HANCOCK AND THE TARIFFE.

Genl. Randolph wrote a letter to Genl. Hancock, asking his views on the tariff question. This is his reply:

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, N. Y., Oct. 12.—

MY DEAR GOVERNOR: I have received your favor of the 11 inst. In my letter of acceptance I expressed my full sympathy with our American industries. I thought I spoke plainly enough to satisfy our Jersey friends regarding my tariff views. I am too sound an American to advocate any departure from the general features of the policy that has been largely instrumental in building up our industries and keeping Americans from the competition of the underpaid labor of Europe. If we intend to remain honest and pay the public debt, as good people of all parties do, and if we mean to administer the functions of government, then we must raise revenue in some way or other. With a reduced and harmonious country we shall certainly pay off the public debt, but the necessity of receiving money for the administration of the government will continue as long as human nature lasts. All parties agree that the best way for us to raise revenue is largely by tariff. So far as we are concerned, therefore, all talk about free trade is folly. But the tariff question will probably be treated with as much interest and people by some such bill as Eaton's. I believe that a combination of intelligent experts, representing both the government and American industry, will suggest to me a bill that will reflect the interests of any crusade and incusades existing in our present laws, and confirm in a system which will be judicious, just, harmonious, and inexpensively protective as well as stable in its effect.

I am, very truly yours,
W. S. HANCOCK
To Hon. Thos. Randolph, Northgate, N. J.

The State Executive Committee of Indiana has issued an address showing the causes of the Democratic defeat in that State, and reasons why Hancock will carry it in November. It is as follows:

To the Democratic and independent Voters of Indiana:

The result of the election last Tuesday is a deep disappointment to us all. The extent of the success which the republican party has achieved in this State is as much a surprise to the republicans as it is to the democrats, and proves that a majority of the republican party were as ignorant of the means which their corrupt leaders were employing as we were. The temporary loss of our State is a calamity that time will enable us to retrieve; but the injury which our free institutions will sustain, from the frauds and corruption practiced by the republican leaders to secure their triumph, is irreparable. The causes which enabled the republicans to succeed in the recent election are now plainly the partial success of their scheme to divide the State for political purposes, the corrupt use of money for purposes of obtaining votes, the legitimate and use of reporters, protected by deputy marshals, and the aid derived by them from the use of the Federal machinery of elections, under pretense of supervising the election of members of Congress. In the Presidential election we will not have to encounter these traps to the same extent as in our State. The corrupt band will have to be divided among many States, their reporters will be all at home, and those of them who were discharged from the ranks of the deputy marshals on the arrival of the republican band will be likely to make their appearance in our State soon again. We shall have no Federal marshal or Federal machinery to contend against us; we are thoroughly united in our counsels, and whatever our adversaries may say to the contrary, we are not now at bay or on the defensive. Put new life and energy into your country and towns' organizations, and take all the measures in your power to bring out your full strength to the polls. The same vote polled by us in October, if polled in November, will be sure to us in the State. The average vote against us at the last election will not exceed 4,000 and may fall below that figure. This same crowd, in our opinion, will be overcome in the Presidential election. A change of three votes in each precinct will accomplish it. Between us, you have a leader in this contest who never sounds a retreat, and he commands an army that never surrenders.

Second—W. H. English, T. A. Hendricks, J. R. McDonald, Franklin Linsay, Sam. Fleming, J. M. Cramp, O. Slaten, ex-executive committee.

AN ADDRESS TO THE COUNTY TREASURERS.

We publishing address to the Democrats—The colors issued by Wm. H. Davis, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, Read it to the Democratic and Conservative Voices of the Country.

The election of President and Vice-President is now before you. State and local dissensions are eliminated from the issues of the day. The magnitude of a victory or a defeat can only be estimated by the forces and means employed in securing it. In fraud and corruption the people of the country were defeated in their purpose in 1856 and the rightly elected President was kept from office. With the combined capital of the Republic party, aided by repeated assessments upon an army of immigrants; with the power of the Federal Government represented by U. S. Marshals at the polls; with intimidation, fraud and a resort to every手段 of influence known to Republican methods concentrated in two States, our adversaries have succeeded in procuring the inevitable return of their local candidates.
