KEHUKEE BAPTISTS.

125TH ANNUAL SESSION AT FALLS OF TAR RIVER.

Bright skies and unexceptional weather were given by the Master for holding the 125th annual session of the historic, venerable and beloved Kehukee Association at the Primitive Baptist church at the Falls of Tar river. There was a great outpouring of the people to hear the Word. In fact the attendance by delegates as well as others was never more numerous.

The introductory sermon was preached Saturday by Elder Sylvester Hassell, Psalms 80-19.

The Association was then organized by electing Elder Sylvester Hassell, moderator and Elder M. T. Lawrence, secretary who appointed Messrs. Outerbridge and Slade his assistants.

The following committees were appointed:

Arrangements of preaching, moderator, secretary, and Messrs. Trevathan and Willford.

Finance:—B. I. Alsbrook, and McBrantley.

Investigation of the matter in the church of Beaver Dam, Washington county; Thos. W. Boyd and L. B. Aushorn.

Sermons were then preached by Elders J. E. Adams and D. A. Mewborne. Letters and messengers were received from thirty-three churches.

Correspondence was received either by minutes or by representatives or both from eighteen Associations.

Great Swamp was selected as the place for holding the Association next year, and Hassell appointed to preach the introductory sermon. Elder G. D. Robertson was appointed his alternate.

While the Association lasts three days Sunday is devoted to preaching and praise, no secular business being transacted.

MONDAY.

Opened with praise and prayer by Elder F. A. Chick, Elders B. H. Wooten, L. H. Hardy and S. P. Terry preached.

The Finance committee reported:

Received from churches, 89 47.75

Paid for Printing minutes, 32.70

Clerk's fees, 15.00 47.70

Balance on hand, 05.

Report received and approved.

The following were appointed messengers to sister Association county line: Elders W. A. Ross and McBrantley; Contentnea, Elder W. A. Ross; White Oak, Elder L. S. P. Terry; Black Creek, Elder W. A. Ross & B. I. Alsbrook; Toisnot, Elder W. A. Ross and L. Fleming; Abbotts Creek, Elder W. A. Ross; Little River, Elder B. Greenwood; Eno, Elder W. A. Ross and McBrantley and B. I. Alsbrook.

The committee on Church History Debt reported that all matters had been arranged, committee was discharged. Messrs. Henry Peal and N. Worsely were appointed a committee to receive monies for discharging that debt and ere the Association adjourned enough to discharge it had been paid in.

This debt was incurred in the publication of a history of the church begun by C. B. Hassell and completed by his son Sylvester.

The sales of the books eventually would have extinguished this debt, but the members preferred to wipe it out and let the compiler derive some benefits for his labors.

No compensation was allowed the Hassells for the compilation of the History. They asked none and expected none.

The Association by formal resolution gave the manuscript of the history to Mr. Hassell and his children and the royalty or profits on the sale of the history in the future.

December 4th was selected as a day of Thanksgiving throughout the Association.

There were thirteen visiting Elders or Ministers present.

The table of Churches gave the following information:

Baptisms—57.

Received by letter—14.

Restored—13.

Dismissed by letter—18.

Died—25.

Number of communicants,—1,723.

THE END OF THE WORLD.

A VIVID SCIENTIFIC PICTURE OF THE FINAL CATASTROPHE.

The nebulae in Orion, Saturn, and the moon are indeed suggestive of change—types, they may be called, of the first stage, the middle and the last that matter passes through in the long process of the evolution of worlds.

And, of all changes that change has most interest for us which affects our own planet, the earth, it has reached a later stage than Saturn, though not so late a stage as the moon; but only in long ages and by minute effects will further changes be noticed.

Agas hence it may be discovered that there is some slight change in the earth's orbit; or Mercury, yet nearer to the sun than we, may be seen to pursue a smaller orbit than now, and the terrible fact may come to man that we are drawing nearer to the sun. Time goes on, and the tropics become too hot for existence, and colder regions find a welcome change to warmth.

Age by age goes by, and the end is visibly no nearer; but the figures of astronomers only too surely tell their tale.

Now the tropics are an impassable desert, and all the life on the globe congregates around the poles; Spain has lost her vineyards, and the Alps their snow; England is a burning desert, and Greenland teems with the vegetation of the tropics; in smaller and smaller circles the inhabitants gather round the poles. "But," to quote the words of Mr. Keily Miller, "the narrowed limits of the inhabitable earth can no longer support this vast increase of population, and famine begins to mow down its victims by millions."

"Now, indeed, the end of all life on the earth draws on apace * * * The heat and drouth becomes more and more insupportable; rain and dew fall no longer. All springs of water fail, and the rivers dwindle down to streamlets, and trickle slowly over their stony beds, and now scarcity of water is added to scarcity of food. Those who escape from the famine perish by the drouth, and those who escape from the drouth are reserved for a fate more awful yet. For a time the few remaining inhabitants are partially screened from the overwhelming power of the sun by a dense canopy of clouds formed by the evaporation of every lake and sea.

But soon the sun searches up these vapor banks, and dissipates them into space as fast as they can form. Then the fiery orb shines out in unutterable splendor without the lightest cloud wreath to interpose between himself and his victims. Then the last denizens of the world are stricken down and consumed; the last traces of organic life are blotted from its surface."—Longman's Magazine.

EASTERN CAROLINA.

It is strange, passing strange, that so little is known in the outside world, of the wonderful resources of Eastern North Carolina. No other country offers greater inducements to the capitalist seeking investment for his money, or the industrious man of small means who wishes to invest his little all, in a country that will guarantee him the greatest return. Rich in a wonderful wealth of forest, rich in vast fisheries, and better than all, its agricultural interests the most profitable in the world. Let the capitalist come and see for himself and he will become quickly convinced that judicious investments will bring him in greater and surer returns than anywhere else he can invest his money. Let the men of moderate means, carefully examine into our resources and he will surely be convinced that in no other country can he cast his lot, where wealth will more surely follow energy and industry.—Nashville Argonaut.

MISS WINNIE DAVIS.

ILL HEALTH GIVEN AS THE CAUSE FOR THE BROKEN ENGAGEMENT.

A special to the Sun from Syracuse, N. Y., says: The engagement of Miss Winnie Davis, the "Daughter of the Confederacy," to Mr. Wilkinson, of this city, which was announced less than six months ago and which created so great a surprise in all parts of the country, has been broken. Intimate friends here of Miss Davis authorize this statement tonight. They assign as the cause the ill health of the young lady. Miss Davis has not been in good health for some time and she went abroad for the purpose of gaining her strength. Her trip was beneficial, but did not restore her fully to health. Her mother and intimate friends feel that under these circumstances it would be best that the engagement should be broken and this step was reluctantly taken by Miss Davis.

On the other hand Mr. Wilkinson's friends are of the opinion that the recent reverses of his family, his moderate income and the still more recent burning of the old homestead had some weight in shaping Miss Winnie's decision.

Mr. Wilkinson has had nothing to say even to his most intimate friends and conducts himself admirably under the somewhat trying ordeal. He refuses to be interviewed on the subject and seems much immersed in business. The statement is made in a local paper that some time ago a prominent gentleman of this city received a request from the south for information concerning Mr. Wilkinson. The failure of Wilkinson's family was particularly inquired into. "This was thought by some to be quite insignificant at the time."

WHAT A WOMAN CAN DO.

"What a woman can do," is well exemplified by the career of Mrs. Alice Houghton, who was at the Palmer House yesterday. Mrs. Houghton is a tall, handsome woman, with the rapid brusque manner of one who knows the business methods of the big, booming west. She ought to know them too, for those same methods have made for Mrs. Houghton over $250,000 in three years. She is the real estate queen of Washington territory, and she handles property whose value would take away the breath of the common real estate dealer, even in Chicago.

"I believe a woman can do anything she takes a fancy to," said Mrs. Houghton. "I started out with a lucky speculation in real estate at Spokane Falls, by which I made $10,000. I didn't put it away in a safe deposit vault. I invested it and made more. Then I hired an office and began commission deals. I have done a business since which has run up occasionally to the amount of $200,000 a week. Real estate is still booming in Spokane."

Mrs. Houghton is on her way to New York now to confer with the president of the Northern Pacific, by which she is retained, on a matter of right of way. She does the biggest commission business in Spokane Falls and is wildly enthusiastic about her home. What she said about Carter Harrison, who doesn't like Spokane Falls, would make Mr. Harrison feel badly.—Chicago Tribune.

A HAPPY CHILDHOOD.

Dear mother, do not I beg of you, try to make your little woman "lady-like." Nature will do that in spite of you. Of course, you will teach her good manners, as you do your sons; but do let her enjoy her youth unconscious of what custom has decreed "proper" for girls. Let her develop a strong, healthy body to endure the strains which must come upon it later. Don't add another "broken-down" woman to the world. Let her romp, encourage her to climb; fit her for tramps in the country with her brothers; try not let her suspect her hereditary bondage to clothes. This is one of the hardest things to accomplish, for public sentiment is all against you; but do your best. Dress her as strongly and plainly as she can bear and not feel herself unpleasantly unlike her mates; and then let her run and grow and forget that she is doomed to be bandaged, and swathed, and pinched and made uncomfortable all the days of her life after her happy school years. Give her a free careless, happy girlhood to look back upon, to keep in her mind as a sunny picture forever.—Oliver Thorne Miller.
