THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The President this afternoon issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

By the grace and favor of Almighty God, the people of this nation have been led to the closing days of the passing year which have been full of the blessings of peace and the comforts of plenty. Bountiful compensation has come to us for the work of our minds and of our hands in every department of human industry.

Now, therefore, I, Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States of America, do hereby appoint Thursday, the 27th day of the present month of November, to be observed as a day of Prayer and Thanksgiving; and I do invite the people, upon that day to cease from their labors, to meet in their accustomed houses of worship and to join in rendering gratitude and praise to our Beneficent Creator for the rich blessings He has granted to us as a nation, and invoking the continuance of His protection and grace for the future. I commend to my fellow citizens the privilege of remembering the poor, the homeless and the sorrowful. Let us endeavor to merit the promised recompense of charity and the gracious acceptance of our praise.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and fiftieth.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

By the President:
James G. Blaine, Secretary of State.

RIGHT SORT.

The first thing she noticed as he entered the parlor was the unusual pallor of his face, and she anxiously asked:

"Are you ill?"

"No."

"Heard any bad news?"

"No."

"Been frightened?"

"No."

"Then what is it?"

"Nothing."

"Ah! Henry, but you cannot deceive me! Love's eyes are sharp. You are anxious and worried, but you need not be. I have expected it."

"What?"

"That the McKinley bill would knock our wedding into the middle of next week."

"And you—!"

"I'll wait for you one thousand years—for all time—until old Bill McKinley has turned to dust, and his dust been absorbed by the pig-weeds of America."

HURRAH FOR VANCE.

Hurrah for Vance! we now shall hear
From mountains to seaboard;
To all good men he is most dear
And should not be ignored.

The Tar Heels cast to him will stick
As long as there is tar;
They saw him go through thin and thick
When he was in the war.

The mountaineers will firmly stand
To him, their good old knight,
Who were with him in battle land
And saw he was all right.

Stand up, Vance, and show your head,
And that will surely do,
For you will always take the lead
Wherever you will go.

You need not mind Republicans,
What they will say of thee,
For they did speak as mean of girls
That they did not go to see.

The girls did hear some slanders that
They did not like a bit,
And told the chaps to get their hat
And take the road and quit.

Yes, they did say, "clear out for home,
And that at double quick,
And it again you here will come
You will get old papa's stick."

Stand up, great Vance, for you are blest,
And that will surely do,
For you will always get the best
Wherever you will go.

Three times you were our Governor,
Then to the senate went,
Where you did stand Excelsior
In every good intent.

Back you will go to Washington
And fill your honored seat,
And when your statesman work is done
You still will be more great.

When you are tired then come home
And wear a hat of silk,
And you can dwell at your Gombroon
And drink good buttermilk.
