How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons' Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy. NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc. I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the stomach and bowels.

HE QUIT FOR GOOD.

A SENSIBLE MAN WHO KNEW IT WAS TIME TO LOOK TO HIS HOME.

"No, boys, I am going to quit—this time for good," said a melancholy young man to a crowd of cronies as they stopped him in front of a saloon and asked him to "take something." "You know I have been with you for years, and the 'painting' we have done has given this town a vermilion hue. But I must quit now. It may go a little hard with me at first, but in a short while I guess I will be able to rid myself of all desire for those jolly rants and revels that we have had together. Yes, the resolution is a sudden one, but it is none the less firm.

"You see after I was married I quit you fellows for a long time and then gravitated back to you. It was not that I loved my wife any the less. I just got careless and thoughtless. Somehow I seemed to think that since I was providing her with all the material luxuries of life she ought to be satisfied. I didn't intend to neglect her, you know, and thought she didn't care if I did come down town occasionally at night.

"Since these nocturnal absences from home have become so frequent I notice that a change has appeared in her nature. Her sparkling vivacity that used to charm and electrify me commenced to wane. Still she strives hard to appear happy. But she is not the woman she used to be. Her face has grown wan, her cheeks sunken, and the merry gleam has left her eye. When I arise in the morning with reddened eyes and no appetite she looks at me pityingly and bugs the baby closer to her bosom than I ever noticed her do before.

"No, she has never spoken to me about it. You see, that's the devil of it. If she would just pitch in and give me a tongue lashing her sorrowing look would not make me feel so like a dog. She just looks—that's all. Oh, no, she doesn't fear for herself except as I am affected. That look tells me plainer than words that she feels I am killing myself and will soon be lost to her. This morning she told baby to kiss papa good-bye. There was a strange pathos in her voice when she spoke the words that I never heard before. And then she turned away and broke into low sobs that she tried to hide from me.

"Good God, boys, I didn't think those things ever existed out of the novels or off the stage! That's the reason I tell you that I have quit. I like you all, know you are splendid fellows, and that you are my friends. But—but—er—she's the best friend I ever had or expect to have, and—and—well, I'm going to be her friend too." The crowd dispersed. Nobody "took anything."—St. Louis Chronicle.

JOHN ALLEN'S LATEST.

"There are quite a number of citizens here from the South, but I am the only prominent man I have seen from our section," said Congressman John Allen, of Mississippi. "You remember the reply of the man when asked who were at a certain meeting. 'Myself and several other prominent persons' was what he said. I am, as you see, suffering from a sprained leg. I got it running so hard for Congress in my district. Really, this campaign of education on the tariff is not altogether encouraging. The other day I tried to show one of my colored constituents the error of the Republican policy of protection. He works for about $8 a month. 'Hiram,' said I, 'what did you pay for that knife you've got there in your hand?' 'Fifty cents,' he said. 'Well, don't you know,' I said, 'that if it wasn't for the tariff you could have got it for 25 cents?' 'Hubb!' he said, 'what do I care for a quarter?'—Chicago Letter in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

If you are troubled by a tickling sensation in the throat and cannot sleep for coughing you will find that a few teaspoonfuls of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will stop your cough and enable you to get a good night's rest. Continue the treatment, and in a day or two it will be effectually cured.

HE WAS SHOT

THROUGH THE HEART AND YET LIVED—A REMARKABLE FACT REVEALED BY A POST MORTEM EXAMINATION.

A post mortem examination held over William Tillman, colored, who was shot and mortally wounded last Friday night by Ben Huskins, revealed the remarkable fact that the bullet, a (32 calibre) had passed through the negro's heart, notwithstanding which he lived until Tuesday afternoon. The bullet, Dr. Wilder says, passed through the right ventricle of the heart. From the point of entrance to exit was two inches. The bullet did not pass directly through the centre of the ventricle, but rather in an oblique direction. The track of the ball from its entrance of the ventricle to its exit was three-quarters of an inch. The post mortem was held by Dr. H. M. Wilder, assisted by Drs. Faison and Montgomery. The astonishing fact revealed by it was an interesting theme of discussion yesterday amongst the medical fraternity. Such an occurrence has been known in medical science but rarely—never before in this country. The negro was up and walking about the morning after he was shot.

Dr. Paul Barringer, of the University of Virginia, who is at present in the city, says there is no record of such a remarkable wound occurring on either side during the late war—it is the first instance he has ever known of a man being shot through the heart and living for any period of time over a few minutes. Dr. Barringer will take the heart to the University of Virginia to be placed with the specimens in the medical department. Charlotte Observer.

ON THE SITUATION.

A Washington special to the Baltimore Sun says: Congressman Springer, of Illinois, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, returned to this city last night in full health. In the course of an interview he says that the people of the country are entitled to a thorough revision of the tariff, and the work ought to be done as early as possible. An extra session seems to him to be absolutely necessary. The new tariff bill, he added, cannot be modeled on the lines of the Mills bill, for that measure was framed in response to Mr. Cleveland's exhibit of a surplus of $100,000,000 in the Treasury. The next tariff must open the way toward an increase of the revenues, not their reduction. There is an absolute necessity, Mr. Springer continued, for an extra session to provide means for meeting the threatened deficiency in the Treasury on the 1st of July. While the deficiency must be met, no new imposition must be placed upon the people.

STATE PENSIONS.

State Auditor Sanderlin and his assistants have been busily engaged in sending out pension warrants. The amount this year is $97,000, an increase of $10,000 derived from the additional tax paid by railroads, thanks to Senator Aycock's committee and the Railroad Commission. This year those who are incompetent to perform manual labor (there are 51) will get $68; those who lost a leg above the knee, or an arm above the elbow, (there are 236) will get $51; the 366 who lost a foot or leg below the knee, or hand or arm below the elbows, or have a leg or arm rendered utterly useless by reason of a wound or permanent injury, get $34; the 1,239 who lost one eye and to all widows remaining unmarried, and all other soldiers who are otherwise disabled to perform manual labor by reason of wounds received while in the Confederate service, get $17.

Mr. G. S. Mason, 184 Huron street, Toledo, O., speaks like a man who thoroughly believes what he says. He writes from his home: "Salvation Oil only costs 25 cents and I want to state to you here myself and wife value it fifty times what it cost. One and a half bottles cured my wife of a bad case of rheumatism this week."

MAN EATING FROGS.

THIS YARN FROM GEORGIA WOULD MAKE MUNCHAUSEN BLUSH.

Savannah News.

People living on the line of the Chickamauga are excited over a number of strange and enormous frogs that infest the neighborhood. These frogs were brought from the Mississippi swamp in 1886 and put in the Chickamauga river. They are said to be of enormous size when grown. These, being very small when brought, are just now beginning to show what they can do. One has been catching chickens, but they live principally upon fish. When the fish are driven away by high tide and they are starved for a few days they will attack a person.

The one that passed through Lafayette would have been captured, but the man had to go to his house for his gun, and the frog made one leap and was out of reach of a fair shot after devouring quite a number of chickens. The Lafayette Messenger reports that M. M. Burrows, Mr. Manly, and his son William were out in the bottoms a few days later and discovered one of these frogs on the river bank. The men, seeing the danger they were in, immediately made an attempt to get away. Mr. Manly, being an old man, directed his course to an empty cotton house which was near by for refuge. Just as he was entering the house the frog seized his coat tail, leaving him almost breathless and with nothing but the shoulders and sleeves of his coat.

A few minutes later Monroe came near the house where Mr. Manly had taken refuge, and seeing the frog tussling with the fragments of the coat, and fearing that it had devoured his father and brother, made a determined attack on the creature, but was forced to retreat after being badly hurt.

BREAK OF NATURE.

THE IMPRINT OF A HUMAN FACE UPON A BABY'S HAND.

The little hamlet of Roseburgh, S. C., is to the fore with a curiosity which is ahead of all others. This is a 3-weeks old baby, whose right hand bears the imprint of a human face. The face occupies nearly the whole palm, and is as clearly outlined as if drawn on porcelain. It is the countenance of a little child about three years old lying asleep, with the eyelashes drawn in fine dark lines on the full cheeks. The mouth seems to be slightly parted and the lip are delicately tinted.

The baby whose palm contains this singular portraiture is the child of Clark Osborne, a thriving merchant of Roseburgh, and Mrs. Osborne declares that the face in the infant's palm is that of a little girl she lost about three months before the baby's birth. Relatives and intimate friends also profess to be able to see a strong resemblance to the dead child.

When the baby was first put in its mother's arms, she looked at the hands, and with a loud cry fainted away, but on coming to herself exhibited the little creature's hands to the attendants, who saw at once the strange likeness to the dead and gone sister. Mrs. Osborne was at first much frightened over the singular circumstance, but at last became convinced that this strange portrait was sent to comfort her. Physicians say, however, that the mother's caresses of the dead child impressed the unborn infant, who merely repeated her mental pictures of the little girl as she last beheld it.

The image on the palm was much clearer the first few days of the baby's life than now, and is thought to be gradually fading. The family are very sensitive on the subject, and have refused to show the child except to relatives and most intimate friends, but a dime museum manager has already made propositions, which have been declined.—Philadelphia Times.

A NEW RELIGIOUS CREED.

THE HOLY ONES—THEY WORSHIP IN THE OPEN AIR—GIVE UP THEIR JEWELRY.

For more than a year there have been around Raleigh white and colored people who claim to be holy, and they have been preaching and proselyting all they could to their peculiar religious belief. When this sect was first started in this city it was by a white man and several white women. After they had been here for a few months they left and were succeeded by a negro man by the name of E. Loney, who came here from Richmond, Va. Loney claims to be sent of God to give the last warning to the saints, and admonishes his heroes to sell all their property and give it to the sustenance of the Gospel.

With Loney came women and they have been preaching and exhorting in and around Raleigh for the past year. He teaches that unless men and women are sanctified by the Gospel before marriage, they are violating God's law by living together as man and wife. Those who were married before they were sanctified must leave their wives and husbands or they will be lost and damned forever.

The Holy ones prefer to follow the example of the early Christians and worship in the open air, they do not go into a building unless compelled to do so by the weather. At every meeting they call upon all members to give up all their jewelry, declaring that they cannot be holy unless they give up all property of this character. The ornaments and trinkets are usually taken off and piled up together in a heap on the ground, surrounded by the congregation, and then Loney and the four women take possession of it and it is never seen any more by the former owners.

They also teach that it is wrong to call in a physician in the event of sickness, saying that God will do his will with the sick—if he desires they will recover and get well, otherwise, they will die and no physician could save them. One colored woman is known to have carried the doctrine so far that she would allow no physician to attend her sick child and the result was death.

There is a feature of Mormonism also. They teach that the men of the sect may have as many wives as they choose, if the women also belong to the sect, and that they may barter with the male members for a new wife provided the woman belongs to the holy ones.

This new religious sect has rapidly increased and now numbers several hundred. Baroin Snipes and J. Wilcox, of Mason village, have been converted and have joined and have been assisting Loney in preaching and exhorting. Many women have been turned nearly crazy by these doctrines, and many of them have sold their personal property and given it to these three men and have joined the sect and left their husbands and children.

Loney, Snipes and Wilcox have taken up with the wives of other men. Two weeks ago these three men and fifteen women left Raleigh for Wilmington, where they are reported to have been preaching in the Sam Jones Tabernacle. Snipes took with him Easter Shepherd, the wife of Washington Shepherd, and on Thursday last the outraged husband retained Mr. J. C. L. Harris for the purpose of having his wife brought back and to bring Snipes to the bar of justice.

L. M. Mason and N. O. Kelly have published a card expressing this crowd in some degree and calling the attention of the public to their palpable violations of the moral law. The entire eighteen are reported to have left Wilmington on Thursday last on a Southern tour. They are all colored.

A QUICK AND ABSOLUTE CURE for the TOBACCO HABIT!
