The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

ITEMS OF INTEREST CONCERNING THE DEVELOPMENTS AT THAT PLACE.

Work is progressing rapidly on the foundations for the new factories. Twenty-five hands are engaged in grading Roanoke avenue which extends to the Raleigh and Gaston railroad.

The plans for the twenty cottages to be erected at once have been received and work begins in ten days. The new hotel to be erected here will be a three story brick building and of the latest architectural designs. The plans and specifications have already been received and accepted by the company.

The granite which is being delivered here by the Grystone Company will be used for the foundations for the mills and wheels. The company has a very fine lot of brick already to be laid as soon as needed.

All the work which has been done here is of a most substantial order, and is put in to stay. The canal has a full head of water and the banks have been thoroughly tested. The company is well pleased with the work of construction.

Large numbers of visitors come out daily and appear much interested in the work going on. Inquiries are being received almost daily in regard to mill sites and water supply. It is expected that several residences will be erected here soon and that several families will move here as soon as completed.

A neat and substantial church will also be erected here and many more improvements which cannot now be thought of are contemplated. ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

SOME VERY ENTERTAINING ITEMS FROM THE PAGES OF NORTH CAROLINA'S FIRST ALMANAC.

Charlotte News. The oldest copy to be found in the State, of a North Carolina almanac, is perhaps, the one in our State library. It was printed and sold by Abram Hodges, of Halifax town, in the year 1795, just one hundred years ago, supposing it to have been issued a month or so in advance of the incoming year as almanacs are now. Its title on its first page is "Hodges North Carolina Almanac," and is calculated for the latitude and longitude of North Carolina.

It is a very small book only 4 x 6 inches of 32 pages and is in a good state of preservation. All the State information it contains is the militia law of that day and the time of holding the Supreme Courts of law and equity, county courts and circuit and district courts of the United States. The number of counties at that period was 58 showing that 38 counties have been formed since that day. As one feature of all almanacs is its anecdotes, it is remarkable that there is not an anecdote or joke in it. Considering this fact the philippic historian might conclude that 1795 was a serious time. This idea is somewhat strengthened by another fact, that it contains the manual of arms for drilling military companies, an evidence that the martial spirit born of the stormy days of Revolutionary war was still alive. The military gravity of its pages is, however, relieved by a series of some of its pages, entitled "The Lion and the Tarragon," written by some citizen of Halifax, July, 1793, who signs himself "Columbus." It is a narrative of a comb between a eged lion which an Hibernian is exhibiting in the eastern towns of the State and a swamp terrapin upon a wager of one hundred dollars. It is need less almost to say that in the poem the monarch of the swamp comes off the victor.

The almanac is interleaved, that is, it originally had a blank page opposite each monthly calendar for the keeping of a diary or other memoranda. These leaves are all written over with dated incidents in the family, business, personal life of the owner, who, from the written name and date across the face of the first page was one Samuel Simpson, and in note on very stiff paper forming a double cover to the book the address is Col. Samuel Simpson. From the items written on the interleafs, it is clear that he was a planter, who owned a farm and fishery in one of the eastern counties. It is also evident that he was a man of family, owned negroes, grew wheat, corn and flax, raised stock, raised hogs, made and sold lumber and shingles, travelled a good deal to various points in the eastern section, and was often sick with malarial fever. The following are some of the memoranda: Feb. 1st, went to Raleigh. 3rd arrived at Raleigh, 6th, left Raleigh for Fayetteville 11th, arrived at home. 20th taken sick, 24th planted English peas, 26th hauled some, very few fish. Fresh rice fast.

As showing that our eastern farmers, at that day raised their own meat, I give the following: December 2nd killed hogs, 89 head, salted down 2,787 pounds. To this must be added from the record of a few weeks before; 17 hogs, weight 1750, making a total 4,537 pounds of hog meat for the year. There are many other items of marriages, deaths, quittings, corn shuckings, elections, going to courts, visiting neighbors sowing and reaping, the weather, etc., but to give any of them would be extending this article at too great length. I close with the remark that it would be a good idea for every farmer and business man to keep a record of his home and business life as Col. Samuel Simpson has done, who though long ago "passed over the river," yet speaks to this generation, of times and seasons, a hundred years ago in this old copy of Hodges North Carolina Almanac. JAR. THE ROANOKE NEWS.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1894

Local Intelligence.

COTTON is 4 1/2 to day. FULL moon yesterday. EGGS are getting high. CHRISTMAS draweth nigh. OLD Santa Claus is on the way. LARGE crowd in town Saturday. HIGH and dry—a thirsty giraffe. WEDLOCK should never be bolted. THE cotton fields begin to look bare. THE Halcyn Days begin tomorrow. THE days of the turkey are numbered. LAST Sunday was a very delightful day.

PICK out your presents before the rush. THE toys and the boys, the old folks anoyas. NEXT Sunday is the third Sunday in Advent. MONDAY was a dark and dreary looking day. SHOPPERS are now busy buying Christmas goods. THE streets present a holiday appearance daily. WILL the Sunday schools have Christmas trees? DON'T sit in a draught, it may cause a check on life. IT is not easy for a pretty girl to believe that love is blind. WE hope our subscribers will remember us and pay up. CHRISTMAS is most here and the little children are happy. PEOPLE already begin to feel Christmas in their bones. 1894 will soon be numbered among the years of the past. THE crop of winter girls for 1894 is exceedingly beautiful. FANCY goods dealers are now displaying their Christmas toys. MERCHANTS busy attending to the wants of the holiday trade. THE ministers have all returned to their homes from Conference. "WE have them on the list"—some subscribers who will not pay up. LIVE merchants advertise, and live merchants always give good bargains. THERE are enough enterprises starting up around Weldon to make it a thrifty city. NO man ever attains dignity so great but that some one will call him by his first name. CONSULT the advertisements of the ROANOKE NEWS when you wish to purchase anything. A brown setter dog, the property of Mr. H. T. Rollins, has been lost. See notice offering reward. THE man who advertises frequently is kept busy stocking up his store and storing up a stocking. ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of Mr. J. L. Judkins, which appears in another column. THE man who imagines that piety is an "inward misery" is always liable to mistake liver trouble for religion. THERE is scarcely any business at all in the Mayor's court, and that speak well for the town as a law abiding place. THE pulpit of the Methodist Episcopal church was occupied last Sunday morning by Rev. Mr. Ader, and at night Rev. P. N. Stainback preached. REV. MR. HILLIARD, of Monroe, conducted morning and evening services at Grace Episcopal church last Sunday, and delivered two very instructive sermons. MARRIED—Mr. Clarence T. Boykin and Miss Sallie C. Epes were married here yesterday, Rev. P. N. Stainback officiating. Mr. Boykin and Miss Epes are both members of prominent Virginia families. A CLERK OF INFERIOR COURT—As will seen by notice in another column the board of justices will meet at Halifax, Monday, January 7th, 1895, for the purpose of electing a clerk of the inferior court, vice S. M. Gary, resigned. Messrs. Sangster and Rogerson, two clever gentlemen, of Richmond, Va., are here representing the Columbia Building and Loan Association. They have already placed over a hundred shares among the most prominent men of this place. They offer rare inducements to investors. AUNT HALY'S LOG CABIN—On the fourth page of this issue we present to our readers the first installment of "Christmas in Aunt Haly's Log Cabin." The story is written in the negro dialect and is humorous and pathetic. It will be concluded in our next. Don't fail to read it. A FIXED fact in the Holiday trade for 1894 is that our store is the place of all others to buy nice, appropriate Christmas presents and get them cheap. We have a splendid variety of gift-objects in all styles and grades and offer the best opportunity to select a suitable gift at such a price as you feel willing to pay. "Prices to suit your purse" is no idle boast with us, but a positive every day fact, and we hope you will be among the many who will take advantage of our generous trade inducements this year. S. MEYER, Enfield, N. C.

COLLEGE CASKET.—The "College Casket" is a bright little monthly paper published by the Victoria Literary Society of the Suffolk College. Miss Estelle Edwards, of this place, is the local editor and Misses Taylor and Britt are the editors. We are indebted to Miss Edwards for the November number, which is a perfect little gem. S. MEYER'S new holiday stock recommends itself to those who are seeking really practical and useful presents for friends. We have made it a point to be well supplied in this particular and we do not believe there is any person, young or old, who would not find practical use for dozens of articles which we have for sale. Come to headquarters for useful and ornamental gifts at lowest prices. S. MEYER, Enfield, N. C. DIED UNDER THE OPERATION.—Mr. John H. Taylor, of Northampton, was taken to Richmond last Friday by Dr. R. H. Stancill, when an operation was performed. Mr. Taylor died under the operation from heart disease, and his remains were taken home Sunday for interment. Mr. Taylor was a prominent citizen of Northampton, and was quite well known here. Much sympathy is expressed for his family in their sad affliction. GOOD TIME ON A WHEEL.—Mr. W. W. Wiggins wheeled from here to Warrenton last Saturday on his bicycle and reached the latter place in time to write back to Weldon on the train which leaves there about one o'clock. He made the trip in five hours, a distance of forty miles. Considering the many rough roads he had to pass over, this is a most remarkable record, and we venture to say that few wheelmen could have accomplished it. BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY OF HOLIDAY GOODS.—It is a pleasure to visit the store of Mrs. P. A. Lewis, where Christmas goods are most temptingly displayed. Mrs. Lewis has anticipated the wants of every child in Halifax and Northampton counties in her selection of goods for the holiday trade and those who are looking around for presents can find just what they want there. There are so many beautiful dolls, toys, pianos, etc., that it is impossible to enumerate. Give her a call and see for yourself. CHRISTMAS PRESENTS.—Old Joe Whitaker says, everybody turns over in mind, the presents they would like to give Christmas, but alas! when the supreme moment comes, it is decided that the presents "in your mind," amount to more than you can afford these times. And so, to help you out of this dilemma, he would suggest an elegant and stylish tie. He has them in all shapes, for men, women, and children, all can be suited. Then, too, if so disposed, an inexpensive but beautiful pin could be added. Go to see him at Enfield. He'll do you good. TELEPHONE LINE.—Mr. Paul Garrett, who has push and energy enough in him for any ten men, has just completed a telephone line from his office at this place to his large vine plant up at the aqueduct. Mr. Garrett now has one of the largest vine establishments in this State and his goods are sold from Maine to California. He is a level headed business man and does business on business principles. The new telephone line will prove a great convenience to him in handling the large number of orders which are constantly flowing into his hands. FOR ANOTHER YEAR.—The congregation of the Methodist Episcopal church is delighted to welcome back to this charge Rev. P. T. Troy, who for another year at least will continue to minister to them in holy things. Mr. Troy and his excellent family are all very popular here and the people irrespective of denominational lines gladly welcome him home again. It is also with pleasure we learn that Rev. W. S. Black, D. D., has been returned to this district as presiding elder. The full list of appointments appear in another column. WE had the pleasure of a call last Friday from Mr. J. W. White, a prominent farmer of the Littleton section. Governor Altgeld, wife and daughter, of Illinois, passed through Weldon Sunday on a private car, en route to Chicago from a Southern tour. Miss Anna Sneed, one of the loveliest and most charming representatives of Fluvanna county, Va., is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. E. Daniel. ADVERTISING to a business is as necessary as oil is to an engine, and the latter requires it continuously. Edison is not at work on a plan to grease the hulls of vessels, which he says will so lessen the friction, that the Campana can make the run from New York to Liverpool in four days. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. FINE GROCERIES Family Grocery CHEAP GROCERIES. FRUITS & CONFECTIONERIES. COME AND SEE. Come one, come all, both large and small, examine my stock, before buying at all. For my stock is complete and prices low. To compete with the products the farmers grow. I thank my kind friends for the patronage of the past. And assure them all I'll be true to the last. And guarantee them in every respect. The goods purchased from me they'll never regret. Therefore come all, both large and small, For I will deal honestly with you all. Do not delay, come right away. And make your purchases to-day. J. L. JUDKINS, dec 13 1y.

ANOTHER GOLDEN LINK.—Yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rodwell, at 130 a'clock, another golden link was formed in the tie that binds Virginia and North Carolina into closer bonds of union, the occasion being the marriage of Captain James D. Simpson, of Richmond, Va., to Miss Kate, the beautiful daughter of the late Hamlin Allen, Esq. The bride was attired in a lovely gown of white silk, orange blossoms and long veil and carried in her hand an exquisite bouquet of Bride's roses, and the groom, who is one of the handsomest young men of the capital city, was looking his best. The ceremony was most impressively performed by Rev. G. W. Harmon, pastor of the Baptist church, in the presence of a few immediate friends and relatives of the family. The happy pair left on the Atlantic Coast Line for an extended tour to Washington, New York and Niagara Falls, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends. THE ROANOKE NEWS extends its warmest congratulations, wishing them a long life of sunshine and happiness. BUILD THE BRIDGE.—The people of Weldon have long felt the need of a bridge over the Roanoke river and the matter has been discussed repeatedly, but nothing has ever resulted to cause the citizens of Halifax and Northampton counties to believe that the bridge would be built. Every one familiar with the building of county bridges knows that the most costly work of the structure, especially over a great stream like the Roanoke, is the piers. Well, now with solid granite piers already built and where the river is narrowest what is to prevent the citizens of Weldon having a good substantial bridge at a moderate cost. The old site of the Petersburg railroad bridge offers the desired end. The piers are there, strong, firm and substantial. The railroad company having abandoned the old right of way for so many years in probability they will never use it again. In fact it is pretty certain that the company will never run their road through Mush Island again. Halifax and Northampton counties would each make a liberal appropriation for the purpose of building a bridge so much needed by both counties. Let the business men of the town take the matter in hand and see if this suggestion is not worth considering. THE TIME TABLE. IN WHICH YOU WILL FIND CORRECTLY SCHEDULED THE ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF YOUR FRIENDS AND ACQUAINTANCES. Dr. W. Paul Moore, of Jackson, was here Monday. Mr. T. C.
