The Bloomer Girls.

AN EXPERIENCE ANY OF THEM MAY EXPECT.

At Tower Grove Park, there was big crowd and one section of it noticed an incident which may lead to the abandonment of the bloomer habit by one young woman, or it may lead merely to her acquiring a more accurate knowledge of the eccentricities of the costume one believed to be fashioned for the exclusive use, comfort and protection of the male of the human species, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat. Yesterday this young woman and another young woman equally pleasing to the eye, equally expert in the management of the wheel, sped swiftly along the smooth roads and byways of Tower Grove Park. They were a handsome pair and attracted the attention of most people whom they passed. After a while they began to attract more attention; at least one of them did. The dif fusive glance of the man who was casually looking at everything at once gave place to a concentrated gaze at one object; women blushed and looked angry and men blushed and looked twice; small boys didn't blush and did giggle and the young woman from Olive street was the cause of all. Finally a mounted policeman's eagle eye fell on her. He put spurs to his horse and after a hot

200 yards overtook the girls. "Excuse me, miss," said he, there is something wrong with your

The other young woman glanced a wheel. "Ob, Lord," she gurgled, "they are coming down."

At this the Olive street young wom stopped her wheel and dismounted. I wasn't a wise thing to do, perhaps, but probably it helped her to arrive at speedier realization of her companion remark than would have resulted from a mental process, for be it known that when the upper section of a pair of bloomers when in the household of the masses God grant I may see him once is the more apparent to the wearer when she is standing than when she is sitting When the girl stood up what had been an incon-iderable, though noticeable, his tus in the continuity of her apparel, be- last years in the number of girls who

The girl in trouble appeared to be the coolest person in the crowd of 200 people. With a deft jerk or two and a wriggle and a twist she restored the garment to its former position, and stood holding it with one hand while to me to be a condition calculated to have she beckoned to the officer with the other He approached, and she asked him for so nething.
