Our Rivers.

GREATNESS OF OUR LAND.

Some Interesting Facts About the Father of Waters.

How many Americans appreciate the grandeur of their country's geography? How many know that there is no river system on earth which even distantly compares with that of the Mississippi and its tributaries?

The census tells us that these rivers, all flowing through one channel into the Gulf of Mexico, aggregate more than 100,000 miles in length. The Amazon, the Nile, the Ganges, and all the rest of the great river systems on earth put together scarcely approach this magnificent system.

Think of it! A steamer leaving Pittsburgh can visit twenty-three states without passing through any artificial channel. It can go up the Allegheny and Monongahela, the Big Sandy, the Kentucky, the Wabash, the Tennessee and the Cumberland-clear into Alabama—before reaching the mouth of the Ohio.

Below Cairo it can traverse not only the Mississippi, but the St. Francis, the Arkansas, the White, Red, the Yazoo, the Tallapoosa, the Alabama, the Ocmulgee, the great bayous and all the tributaries of those streams.

Above Cairo in the upper Mississippi, the Illinois, the Missouri, the Yellowstone, the Platte, the Big Horn and a score of tributaries can call at 1,650 towns and cities on its way.

These rivers drain an area of 1,683,393 square miles occupied by a population of 24,298,332 in 1890.

The commerce of this great river system was carried on in 1889 by 7,453 vessels, with an aggregate tonnage of 3,393,370 and a value of $15,535,095.

So rich is that commerce that its annual gross earnings exceed the total value of the craft engaged in it by nearly a million dollars. It carries nearly 11,000,000 passengers and nearly 33,000,000 tons of freight per year.

And this is only one of the great river systems of our country—one of many that include such mighty systems of that of the Yukon, that of the Columbia, that of the Colorado and that of the Alabama at Tombigbee.

And from one end to the other of all these rivers there is no custom house to stop traffic or to levy one cent of tribute upon it!

It is worth every American's while to reflect upon the grandeur of our land and to rejoice in it. It is worth while to remember also that the resources of this marvelous country are far less than half developed.—(New York Sun)
