How good we feel when we forgive Another who has done some wrong? It thrills us like the cadences Of some joy laden, lifting song. We feel the true nobility, Of gentleness; of how to live; We mark his thankfulness with pride When we forgive.

To know that we may rise above The pettiness of rage and hate And wipe away all trace of hurt Is something fine, and-something great, To let our great resentment flow Like heedless waters through a sieve-It makes the better men of us When we forgive.

To clasp hands with the erring ones, And vow that what is past is past Will coax the sun of gladness out Where now the sky is overcast. Ah! Life is happy, after all, And more than worth the while to live. We always realize our good When we forgive.

We understand the weakness of The other man; and so at length We come to grasp the wonderness Of our transcendent moral strength When we forgive we only learn Our better part, and do not see *That we are being kind to one

BY L. M. MONTGOMERY.

Through the wide-open portals of the morning's splendid gates, Across the silver hill-tops where the dawn-glory waits, O'er valleys scarfed with pearly mists and meadows flowery

Comes with its guerdon of dear hopes a beautiful new day.

A day that's all unwritten, yet, a day that is to be Made what we will to make of it, comes now to you and me, A promise and a hadpiness are dawning for us here, Born of God's love and kindness to all His children dear.

Now we may banish from our hearts the pain of yesterday; Its fears, mistakes, and failures may all be put away, For here's a new beginning and here's a world made new, With tender, helpful words to speak and loving deeds to do.

Let's fill its page with gracious thoughts and write a record fair Of brave endeavor, kindly acts, and hope and faith and prayer. And thus when sunset splendor fades to twilight deep and gray We'll win the blessing that it brings, this beautiful new day.

 TOO LATE.

They came too late the fragrant, dewy blooms, Nourished where sunshine beats the whole long day, Life held no solace for her darkened hours, And fields were barren as she went her way

Ah! take them back, the words so long unsaid, The spoken words to starving heart denied : Ye gave a stone where she asked for bread; She held it in her empty hand and died

The sweet pink roses lie upon her breast; She passed through wastes whereon no pink bud grows; She passed and sleeps—what matters all the rest? She hath no need for any fairest rose. Take them away and bear her softly forth

Where singing birds and tender grasses wait; Holding your peace-your words are little worth-For love and roses, all are come too late. -Boston Transcript
