Rheumacide

Continues to make Miraculous Cures

READ THIS LETTER:
ALMOST A MIRACLE.

DILLON, R. C., Aug. 18th, 1902.

In a month after the disease started I had to give up my work and go to bed. It continued to grow worse until my arms and hands were badly drawn, so much so that I could not use them. My legs were drawn back until my feet touched my hips. I was as helpless as a baby for nearly twelve months. The medicine of my friends and love were hard and unavailing. I suffered death many times over. Was treated by six different physicians in MeColl, Dillon and Marion, but none of them could do me any good, until Dr. J. P. Ewing, of Dillon, came to see me. He told me to try your "RHEUMACIDE." He got me one bottle of the medicine and I began to take it and before the first bottle was used I began to get better. I used five and a half bottles and was completely cured. That was two years ago, and my health has been excellent ever since. Have had no symptoms of rheumatism. I regard "RHEUMACIDE" as by far the best remedy for rheumatism on the market. I cannot say too much for it. I have recommended it to others since and it has cured them.

Will say further, that I began to walk in about six days after I began to take "RHEUMACIDE," with the aid of crutches; in about three months after I began to take it, I could walk as good as anybody, and went back to work again.

Very truly,
JAMES WILKES.

BEING A GOOD FELLOW.

IF IT IS A LOVING GAME IS THE LONG RUN FOR MOST MEN.

Any sensible young man ought to know that he can't be up late at nights abusing his stomach and be in full possession of his faculties for business the next day, and he ought to know also that a man must be clear headed and in full possession of his faculties to hold his own in the keen competition of life. Your "good fellow" is popular for the time being, but when his money is gone and he has lost his job and is on his uppers the "good fellow" business doesn't get him anything. It's "poor fellow" then—another good man gone wrong, and "the boys" are ready to hail another "good fellow" who has the price.

We don't mean by this to say that "the boys" are mercenary. They don't altogether pass up a "good fellow" when he goes broke, but it isn't the same. They say he hit the boozes too hard and couldn't stand the pace. They feel sorry for him, but he is out of it. His good fellowship doesn't excuse him even in the eyes of his friends for having thrown away his opportunity.

The young man who gets the sleep his system needs, is temperate in his habits, lives within his means and shows up for work in the morning with a clear eye and active brain—that's the man business men are looking for. They want employees whom they can trust. Having worked hard and laid by a competence, they want to throw some of the burdens off, and they won't throw them off on the employee who is too much of a "good fellow."

Cut it out, boys. There's nothing in it. There's a whole lot of nonsense in that "good fellow" business. You can't fool the public very long by living beyond your means and keeping up appearances. There must be a showdown some time or other, and that means a loss of self respect and many bitter experiences. Many a bright and promising business man has failed because he tried to travel in too swift a class, whereas had he lived within his means he might have become a "good fellow."

The world doesn't give up its treasures easily. It isn't in the cards for all of us to be millionaires, and mighty few of the "good fellows" get into that class. It's better to earn your way first and go hunting for good times when you have reached the point where you can spare both the time and the money. Then possibly you'll have a different notion about what a good time is.

An extreme rigor is sure to turn everything against it.—Burke.

AN OLD FAVORITE

ELEGY ON THE DEATH OF A MAD DOG

By Oliver Goldsmith

GOOD people all, of every sort,
Give ear unto my song:
And if you find it wondrous short,
It cannot hold you long.

In Lexington there was a man,
Of whom the world might say,
That still a godly race he ran—
Whenever he went to pray.

A kind and gentle heart he had,
To comfort friends and foes;
The next day he was dead—
When he put on his clothes.

And in that town a dog was found,
As many dogs there be,
Both mongrel, puggy, sheep, and hound,
And out of low degree.

This dog and man at first were friends;
But when a pique began,
The dog, to gain some private ends,
Went mad, and bit the man.

Around from all the neighboring streets
The wondering neighbors ran,
And swore the dog had lost his wits,
To bite so good a man!

The wound it seemed both sore and sad
To every Christian eye;
And while they swore the dog was mad,
They swore the man would die.

But soon a wonder came to light,
That showed the rogues they lied—
The man recovered of the bite,
The dog it was that died!

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE Mother's Friend

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is to see her name on a list of famous mothers. Every faculty is keenly alert as she foresees the joy, ambition, success and the life-long satisfaction coming nearer, day by day. In the dear and innocent being so soon to see light, and the uncertainty whether she shall see a sweet girl or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow adds zest to her expectancy.

Mother's Friend applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced by the continued use of this great liniment, MOTHER'S FRIEND.

A GRANDMOTHER'S RULES.

Somebody's grandmother has bequeathed to her descendants these admirable rules of advice:

Always look to the person to whom you speak. When you are addressed, look straight at the person who speaks to you. Do not forget this.

Speak your words plainly; do not mutter or mumble. If words are worth saying they are worth pronouncing distinctly and clearly.

Do not say disagreeable things. If you have nothing pleasant to say, keep silent.

Think three times before you speak once.

Have you something to do that you find hard and would prefer not to do. Do the hard thing first and get it over with. If you have done wrong, go to confess it. If your lesson is tough, master it. If the garden is to be weeded, weed it first and play afterwards. Do first the thing you don't like to do, and then, with a clear conscience, try the rest.—Presbyterian Record.

A SUCCESSFUL TEST.

At a small town in Kent a gentleman employed a carpenter to put up a partition and had it filled with sawdust to deaden the sound. When it was completed, the gentleman called from one side to the carpenter on the other: "Smith, can you hear me?" "Smith immediately answered, "No, sir."—London Tit-Bits.

WAKEFUL CHILDREN.

For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N. Tenth St., Harrisburg Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in early part of the night, which made it very hard for her parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble, and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach and she slept the whole night through. Two boxes of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong.

READ IT THROUGH.

'TWOULD SPOIL THIS STORY TO TELL IT IN THE HEADLINES.

To use an eighteenth century phrase, this is an "er true tale." Having happened in a small Virginia town in the winter of 1902, it is a story much of the present. Up to a short time ago Mrs. John E. Harmon, of Meigs Station Va., had no personal knowledge of the rare curative properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Last January," she says, "my baby took a dreadful cold and at one time I feared she would have pneumonia, but one of my neighbors told me how this remedy had cured her little boy and I began giving it to my baby at once and it soon cured her. I heartily thank the manufacturer of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for placing so great a cure within my reach. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favor. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced as I was."

AWFUL MAD.

A Kentuckian in love telegraphed his girl to come to him in Louisville, to be married. The telegram said Nashville, and thither the girl hurried. When she got there she couldn't find him, concluded he was fooling with her and got so mad that she wouldn't listen to any explanation and gave him the mitten. Then he got mad and sent the telegraph company for $1,999 damages, and then she got madder than when she saw the price, he put upon her and her affections, and now wouldn't look at him through a telescope. If he had made it $100,000 there might have been some show for him to get the girl, if not the damages.

WOMAN'S LOVE.

WHAT STRONGER OR MORE CONSTANT AND ABIDING THING IS THERE ON EARTH?

Raleigh Post.

It is not known just when Bishop will be taken to the penitentiary. The presence of Mrs. Bishop at the jail and her grief, excite much sympathy. Her courage and her faithfulness are very beautiful.—Charlotte Observer.

There is always the way of it. When a woman takes a notion to love a man, no matter how unworthy that man may be, she will love him and stand by him. A man may mistreat a woman, may neglect her, may prove false to every vow he called upon men and Heaven to witness, he may be a libertine and leave her he has sworn to love to live with harlots and yet when trouble comes upon him, earth has no emblem of devotedness like hers. The little pale-faced woman who voluntarily shares a prisoner's cell with Arthur Bishop, a man unworthy to be a husband, would gladly take his place in the penitentiary and let him go out a free man. It is the way of every woman who loves a man. When a woman does not love, when once estranged, a man may prove himself an angel and she will spurn him to follow the man she does love though he may be a fiend incarnate, to the very gates of hell and beg to share misery with him.—Monroe.

And but for this love and fidelity of the woman who loves, let it be mother, wife or sister, a majority of the men would go to the devil at lightning express speed. Woman's love and devotion and prayers have not only saved, but reclaimed thousands, and is doing it daily. It is not to be treated with disrespect for it is the grappling hook that makes a man a MAN in this life and Heaven for him a certainty. It is the shortest road by which the Sermon on the Mount and that Peace which passeth all understanding is made to reach the souls of men.

WELL AGAIN.

The many friends of John Blount will be pleased to learn that he has entirely recovered from his attack of rheumatism. Chamberlain's Pain Balm cured him after the best doctors in the town (Monroe, Ind.) had failed to give relief. The prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost.

DISCOVERED BY ATTENTION.

"I discovered the principle by the merest accident," says Edison, the great inventor. "I was singing to the mouth-piece of a telephone, when the vibration of the voice sent the fine steel point into my finger. That set me to thinking. If I could record the actions of the point and send the point over the same surface afterward, I saw no reason why the thing would not talk. I tried the experiment first on a strip of telegraph paper, and found that the point made an alpha-shaped hole in the paper, and heard a faint 'Hullo! Hullo!' in return. I determined to make a machine that would work accurately. That's the whole story. The phonograph is the result of the pricking of a finger."—Thomas A. Edison.

COLDS ARE DANGEROUS.

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man in on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency to pleurisy pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take.

ANOTHER MAN MADE HAPPY.

"Gentlemen," said the auctioneer, as he held up a gold watch to view, "I'm not saying this watch is a bargain at $75 I'm not saying it would be the cheapest thing you ever bought at $50. No, gentlemen. I do business on the square, and I'll tell you the truth, and what I do say about this elegant timepiece is—

"A dollar and a half," cried a voice.

"Is that it's sold to the man with the red nose," finished the auctioneer, "and if he ever repeats of his bargain I'll take it off his hands at 15 cents."

If it's a bilious attack, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick recovery is certain.

A wife often permits her affection to blind her reason.

AFFECTION FOR THE AGED.

OLD AGE IS MORE KEENLY SENSIBLE TO NEGLECT THAN AT ANY OTHER TIME.

There is a pathetic charm about old age. We are sure that nothing is so lovely as the saintly old grandmother occupying her accustomed place in the chimney-corner. There is something that entrances while we watch the silver-haired patriarch as he fondles his darling grandchild on his knee. They are the salt of the earth, the treasure in the home, the familiar figures in community life. And more than this love of others, there is coming a time in our own individual history when we shall crave the caresses and love of friends. Old age is more keenly sensible to neglect than at any other time. It is not intentional—no, we may commit this neglect amid our devotion to and attendance upon other matters. We forget, however, that the inward craving of age conceives of no apologies and knows no reason why the old-time cares and fondling should be things of the past. It transmits everything into neglect. Age softens the heart and the soul pines for the touch of the hand that would stroke the golden locks of a prattling child. Let's love them more than by a mere sentiment! What would we do without these saints? Amid these reveries, we recall the lines of Elizabeth Gould:

"Put your arms around me—
There, like that;
I want a little petting
At life's setting,
For 'tis harder to be brave
When feeble age comes creeping
And finds me weeping
Dear ones gone.
Just a little petting
At life's setting;
For I'm old, alone, and tired
And my long life's work is done."

WHY?

The reason One Minute Cough Cure relieves a cough in ten minutes, is because it acts first on the mucous membrane right where the cough trouble is—the throat or deep-seated on the lungs, destroying the microbes or cough germs and clearing the passages. One Minute Cough Cure not only destroys the disease germs and clears out their poison, but it gives strength and elasticity to the delicate membrane which protects the throat and lungs. Opens the air passages and promotes unobstructed breathing. Causes the blood to receive its natural supply of oxygen, thus revitalizing the pulmonary organs with such strength and vigor that the lungs and bronchial tubes become bulwarks against the invasion of disease germs, and all Pulmonary Complaints that are capable are quickly cured by the use of in your blood? Physicians call it Chloria. It can be cured by changing red blood yellow under microscope. It works day and night. First, it turns your complexion yellow. Chills, aching sensations creep down your backbone. You feel weak and worthless.

ROBERTS' CHILL TONIC

will stop the trouble now. It enters the blood at once and drives out the yellow poison. If neglected and when Chills, Fevers, Night-Sweats and general break-downs come later on, Roberts' Tonic will cure you then—but why wait? Prevent future sickness. The manufacturers know all about this yellow poison and have perfected Roberts' Tonic to drive it out, nourish your system, restore appetite, purify the blood, prevent and cure Chills, Fevers and Malaria. It has cured thousands—and it will cure you, or your money back. This is fair. Try it. Price, 25 cents. Sold by ALL DRUGGISTS.

—Man often shows the hard side of his disposition to mark more strongly the generous shades.

It is a great affliction for a woman to have her face disfigured by pimples or any form of eruptive disease. It makes her morbid and sensitive, and robs her of social enjoyment. Disfiguring eruptions are caused by impure blood, and are entirely cured by the great blood-purifying medicine—Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes from the blood the poisonous impurities which cause disease. It perfectly and permanently cures scrofulous sores, eczema, tetter, boils, pimples and other eruptive diseases which are caused by the blood's impurity. It increases the action of the blood-making glands and thus increases the supply of pure rich blood.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams of 212 West Main Street, Baltimore, Md. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and had different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. It gains you nothing. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."
