THE SCIENCE OF LIVING.

Dr. George F. Butler recently delivered an address on this subject, under the auspices of the Chicago Medical Society, to an audience of 600 people in the Public Library Building. The address was replete with epigrammatic sentences and may be summed up in this wise:

"It has been said that it is better to be born lucky than rich, but it is in fact better to be born tough than either lucky or rich. After forty eat less and eliminate more. Drink more pure water and keep the peristaltic wave of prosperity constantly moving down the alimentary canal. Many people suffer from too much business and not enough health. When such is the case they had better cut out business and society for a time and come down to mush and milk and first principles. Don't be foolish. Eat less and play more. Indulge in less rest and fume and more fruit and fun. There are people too indolent to be healthy—literally too lazy to live. Work your brains and keep in touch with people. Do something for others and forget yourself. There is nothing so insane and detrimental to mind and health as the conversation of people on their aches and pains and troubles. The froth of whipped eggs is a tonic compared to it. All our appetites are conditional. Enjoyment depends upon the scarcity. A worker in any field whose age is near either the shady or sunny side of fifty should consider himself in his prime, good for another half century of temperate, judicious work. Let grandmas wear bright ribbons and gaudy gowns if the colors become her, and let grandpas be as dandy as he pleases, with flashy neckties and cheerful garb. Both will be younger for it, and, besides, it is in harmony with nature. Gray hair is honorable; that which is dyed is an abomination before the Lord. Cultivate thankfulness and cheerfulness. An ounce of good cheer is worth a pound of melancholy."—Medical News.

IN VIOLET LAND.

BY FRANK L. STANTON.

Let's say this is my grave, Jenny,—this mound of violets blue,
And I'm beneath the violets, dreaming dreams of you!
If but a violet should feel the light touch of your hand,
I think that I should know it in the silence and the sand.

Tears?—Nay, Life has too many! Dear, don't you know, some day,
That we shall kiss Goodbye, and one shall walk the lonesome way?
When the snow is on the mountains, or the color's in the cloud,
There'll be a mound of violets between our hearts an' God!

In the snowfall, in the blossoms, weary feet of one shall roam;
One shall watch from darkened windows in the place the heart calls "Home,"
Vainly in the twilight stillness,—listening for Love's accents sweet,
And the latch-click at the gate there, an' the unretreating feet.

One shall question every shadow, every blossom, every gleam,
And shall tremble in the silence at the echo of a dream!
One shall call and hear no answer,—'tis the story of the years;
Love, that leads us to the starlight, sees the bright stars shine through tears!

Yet unbraid your bright, gold tresses ere Life's morning knows the night;
Let them hide the shadow from me—let them ripple out the light!
Let me feel the joy of loving—let me hold you to my heart,
Facing fearlessly the future—daring even Death to part!

'Tis enough that Love has known us—led our willing feet so far:
We that saw Love's sweetest sunrise—shall we fear the evening star?
Hand-in-hand the way together! Love and Life are swift in flight;
Kim Love's violets "Good morning" till the time to kiss "Good night!"

THE MOTHER GIRL.

She is not a bud of fashion nor a butterfly of style,
And there are no bogus trimmings in the makeup of her smile:
She needs no artificial fixing to enhance her girlish charms,
And a good would go in raptures or the plumpness of her arms
As she washes up the dishes and the minutes speed along,
Dancing gaily as they pass her to the music of her song,
In her eyes a soft expression of a pure maternal love
That must surely be the envy of those angels up above.

She's the joy of every home
Underneath her arching dome
Till she gives her heart's affection to another.
Lucky he who wins the true,
Loving, loyal maiden who
Tries to lift the daily burden from her mother.

When the weekly toil is over and she dons her Sunday gown
There is not a pampered darling on the earth can turn her down.
In the winning game of beauty not a fashionable pearl,
Though ablaze with costly jewels, can outshine the mother girl.
Sweet simplicity is noted in her unassuming grace,
And she needs no color touching to put bloom into her face,
For the blood of health is coursing through her veins; her rosy blush
Isn't made for the occasion by the decorative brush.

She's the very fairest gem
In our beauty diadem.
Search creation and you cannot find another
On the face of all the earth
That possesses half the worth
Of the girl who lifts the burden from her mother.

THE MARRIAGE QUESTION.

The professor who announced that "love and romance die out with the sound of the wedding bells," was the first to start the ball rolling. It would seem a brave woman who marries with this echo in her ears, yet we have not heard that there were fewer marriages during the year. There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter.

During a long period of practice, Doctor Pierce found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured ninety-eight per cent of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $50 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

Why do you waste so many hours on beautifying devices?" inquired the old-fashioned woman. "Why not devote that time to thinking beautiful thoughts?"

"Oh, fudge," retorted the modern dame. "My beauty isn't a thing of beauty."—Byron.

When the body is cleared for action, by Dr. King's New Life Pills, you can tell it by the bloom of health on the cheeks; the brightness of the eyes; the firmness of the flesh and muscles; the serenity of the mind. Try them. At drug stores, 25 cents.

WHY WE GROW OLD.

IF YOU WOULD BE YOUNG WHEN OLD, ADOPT THE SUN DIAL'S MOTTO.

Bitter memories of a sinful life which has gone all wrong make premature furrows in the face, take the brightness from the eyes and the elasticity from the step and make one's life saps and uninteresting, says Orion Sweet Marden in Success.

We grow old because we do not know enough to keep young, just as we do not know enough to keep well. Sickness is a result of ignorance and wrong thinking. The time will come when a man will no more harbor thoughts that will make him sick or weak than he would think of putting his hands into fire. No man can be sick if he always has right thoughts and takes ordinary care of his body. If he will think only youthful thoughts he can maintain his youth far beyond the usual period.

If you would "be young when old," adopt the sun dial's motto, "I record noon but hours of sunshine." Never mind the dark or shadowed hours. Forget the unpleasant, unhappy days. Remember only the days of rich, experiences; let the others drop into oblivion. It is said that "long lives are great hopes." If you keep your hope bright in spite of discouragements, and meet all difficulties with cheerful face, it will be very difficult for age to trace its furrows on your brow. There is longevity in cheerfulness.

SERMONETTES.

God keeps a reward for the man who does right.

It is a lapsed religion that leaves the coachman at the curb.

The best evidence of your own salvation is your interest in that of others.

When God takes our hand He asks us to take the hand of another.

There is no comfort in Repose when his head is pillowed on an aching heart. The circumference of influence depends upon the man at the centre of the circle.

By the prayerful study of the Scriptures comes the knowledge of the divine will.

SAVED BY DYNAMITE.

Sometimes, a flaming city is saved by dynamiting a space that the fire can't cross. Sometimes, a cough hangs on so long, you feel as if nothing but dynamite would cure it. Z. T. Gray, of Calhoun, Ga., writes: "My wife had a very aggravated cough, which kept her awake nights. Two physicians could not help her, so she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which eased her cough, gave her sleep, and finally cured her. Strictly scientific cure for bronchitis and La Grippe. At all druggists' drug stores, price 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

VERY MUCH OPPOSITE.

"Why does he wish to marry her?"
"He says people should marry their opposites."
"Why, they are both dark."
"Yes; but he hasn't a cent and she has a million dollars."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over 60 years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

NEEDS TWO EDITORS.

Visitor (in newspaper office)—"I suppose you have two editors for the 'questions and answers' department?"
Editor—"No; only one. Why did you suppose two were necessary?"
"I thought you'd have to have a woman to ask the questions and a man to answer them."—Galveston News.

WINE OF CARDUI

816 Wells Street, MARINETTE, Wis., Sept. 25, 1903.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ill of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

THE SPIRIT OF HOME.

IT MUST BE WITHIN YOU WOULD CREATE A HOME.

To create a home you must have the spirit of home. Just as the smallest village may have its history, its moral stamp, so the smallest home may have its soul. Oh, the spirit of place, the atmosphere which surrounds us in human dwellings! What a world of mystery!

Here even on the threshold the cold begins to penetrate; you are ill at ease; something intangible repulses you.

There no sooner does the door shut you in than friendliness and good humor envelop you. It is said that walls have ears. They have also voices, a mute eloquence. Everything that a dwelling contains is bathed in an ether of personality. And I find proof of its quality even in the apartments of bachelors and solitary women.

What an abyss between one room and another room!

Here all is dead, indifferent, commonplace; the device of the owner is written all over it even in his fashion of arranging his photographs and books. All is the same to me! There one breathes in animation, a contagious joy in life. The visitor hears repeated in countless fashion: "Whoever you are, guest of an hour, I wish you well. Peace be with you!"—Charles Wagner.

TERRIFIC RACE WITH DEATH.

"Death was fast approaching," writes Ralph F. Fernandes, of Tampa, Fla., describing his fearful race with death, "as a result of liver trouble and heart disease, which had robbed me of sleep and of all interest in life. I had tried many different doctors and several medicines, but got no benefit, until I began to use Electric Bitters. So wonderful was their effect, that in three days I felt like a new man, and to day I am cured of all my troubles." Guaranteed at all druggists' drug stores; price 50c.

RACE SUICIDE.

"What has become of that political party you fellows started a year or two ago?"
"Well—er—the fact is, we couldn't agree on a platform, and we sort of—"
"I see. Died without issue."—Chicago Tribune.

A CREEPING DEATH.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at all druggists' drug stores.
