TOO HIGH FOR A START.
EMBARRASSING SITUATION RELIEVED
BY A READY MAN.
N. C. Goodwin, the comedian enjoys telling of an amusing incident at the performance of a burlesque in which in the old days he was a principal performer.
It seems that a young woman, well known in Buffalo for her amateur work, had been given an opportunity to prove her claim to availability on the professional stage. She was billed to render a song, the refrain of which was, "The autumn days have come; ten thousand leaves are falling." The spirit for professional honors was in so extreme a state of excitement that she took too high a key. "Ten thousand—!" she screamed, and then stopped short, for want of breath.
"At this critical juncture," observes Goodwin, "some irresponsible 'god' in the gallery, perhaps an auctioneer by calling, shouted in a stentorian tone: "Start it at five thousand, old girl! Start it at five thousand!"

A PRAYER.
BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.
Hear thou my prayer, great God of opulence;
Give me no blessings, save as recompense
For blessings which I lovingly bestow
On needy stranger or on suffering foe.
If Wealth, by chance, should on my path appear,
Let Wisdom and Benevolence stand near,
And charity within my portal wait,
To guard me from acquaintance intimate.
Yet in this intricate great art of loving
Guide me away from misdirected giving,
And show me how to spur the laggard soul
To strive alone once more to gain the goal.
Reply my worldly efforts to attain
Only as I develop heart and brain;
Nor brand me with the "Duller Sign" above
A bosom void of sympathy and love.
If on the carrying winds my name be blown
To any land or time beyond my own,
Let it not be as one who gained the day
By crowding others from the chosen way;
Rather as one who missed the highest place
Pursuing to cheer spent runners in the race.
To do—to have—is lesser than to be.
No greater boon I ask, dear God, from Thee.

ALL INVITED.
Not long ago, one Sunday morning, a minister forgot to give the usual announcement of social events for the week. He had uttered some words of his final blessing, when a deacon, in a whisper, invited his attention to the omission. Whereupon the clergyman ceased praying and said:
"Brethren, I omitted to inform you that an oyster supper will be served at Brother Mullin's home next Friday evening, the 29th instant. All are invited to come, bringing their own bowls and spoons." Then, continuing his invocation, quite unconscious of the humor of the situation, the worthy man added: "And may the Lord have mercy on your souls! Amen."—Harper's Weekly.

HOW TO HOLD A HUSBAND.
The best known guide to married happiness is to hold the husband as you would the lover—by cheerfulness of disposition, patience and keeping your youth looks. Of course a great many women are handicapped by those ill looks which women are heir to. The constantly recurring troubles which afflict her are apt to cause a sour disposition, nervousness and a beleaguered mind.
Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., after a long experience in treating such diseases, found that certain roots and herbs made into a liquid extract, would help the majority of cases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Thousands of women have testified to its merits, and it is put up in shape to be easily procured and is sold by all medicine dealers. This is a potent tonic for the womanly system. So much faith has Dr. Pierce in its merits that he offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prostration or Falling of Womb, which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.
"I cannot express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mrs. Julia Wehrly, of Cambridge, Chester County, Md. "I took Favorite Prescription and feel like thanking you a thousand times for the good you have done me, and for the kind and fatherly letters which you wrote. I shall always speak a good word for your medicine whenever I can."
Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send six one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or six stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 653 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHANGE OF HEART.
An elderly professor who had grown weary of the bachelor state determined to marry and asked a lady whom he had known for a long time to be his wife. The question was a surprise to her and her answer was a confused "No." On reflection, however, she reconsidered the matter, and the next time she met the professor she said to him: "By the way, Professor—, do you remember that question you asked me the other day?" The professor replied that he did. "Well," she went on, "I've been thinking over the answer I gave, and I've changed my mind."
"So have I," replied the professor.—Harper's Weekly.

SHE IS FULL OF BLOOD.
Not long ago a German gardener, who lives a couple of miles south of the city, bought a cow which, the seller told him, was a full-blooded Jersey. Last week the cow strayed away from her owner's pasture and was lost. The next day the following sign was nailed to a tree near the gardener's home:
"Lost—From the pasture away. Von Chersow cow, full of blood. Reward shall be paid. Fritz."—Kansas City Star.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.
During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stoetland, Pastor of the first M. E. Church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and it is a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children."
Sold by W. M. Cohen, Weldon, N. C.; W. R. Beavers, Edfield, N. C.; J. A. Hawks, Garysburg, N. C.

Tired Nervous
When you feel languid, tired, nervous and irritable, your vitality is low—your supply of nerve energy exhausted, and your system running down for lack of power.
The organs of the body are working poorly, or not at all, and you are not getting the nourishment needed. This soon impoverishes the blood and instead of throwing off the impurities, distributes it all through the body. This brings disease and misery.
Feed the nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine, a nerve food, a nerve medicine, that nourishes and strengthens the nerves, and see how quickly you will get strong and vigorous.
"My wife suffered with nervousness previous to a recent attack of typhoid fever, but after her recovery from the fever, she was much worse, and could hardly control herself being exceedingly nervous when the least excited, she was very restless at night, and never had a good night's rest. She also suffered much from nervous headache. Dr. Miles' Nervine was recommended by a friend. After the first three doses she had a good night's rest, and at the end of the first week's treatment she was wonderfully improved. Continued use of Nervine has completely cured her entire cure."
OTTO KOLB,
1221 Cherry St., Evansville, Ind.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the bottle is genuine. If it fails, he will refund your money.

PUBLIC IS AROUSED.

The public is aroused to a knowledge of the curative merits of that of great medicinal tonic, Electric Bitters, for sick stomach, liver and kidneys.—Mary H. Waters, of 546 St. Clair Ave., Columbus, O., writes: "For several months, I was given up to die. I had fever and ague, my nerves were wrecked; I could not sleep, and my stomach was so weak, from useless doctors' drugs, that I could not eat. Soon after beginning to take Electric Bitters, I obtained relief, and in a short time I was entirely cured." Guaranteed at all druggists; price 50c.

Make Hay While the Sun Shines.
There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers that are liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some member of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal.
For sale by W. M. Cohen, Weldon, N. C.; W. E. Beavers, Edfield, N. C.; J. A. Hawks, Garysburg, N. C.

FIENDISH SUFFERING
is often caused by stores, ulcers and cancers, that eat away your skin. Wm. Boddell, of Flat Rock, Mich., says: "I have used Bucklen's Arois Salve, for Ulcers, Sores and Cancers. It is the best healing dressing I ever found." Soothes and heals cuts, burns and scalds; 25c at all druggists; guaranteed.

A NEW PSALM.
Lives of nurses oft remind us
We can hypnotize our pals
And departing leave behind us
Husbands for surviving gals.
—Milwaukee Sentinel.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.
MR. WINLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over 60 years by millions of mothers for their children while teaching, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winlow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.
If the devil is dead his successors know a whole lot more about human nature than he did.
They Appeal to Our Sympathies.
The bilious and dyspeptic are constant sufferers and appeal to our sympathies. There is not one of them, however, who may not be brought back to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. They also regulate the bowels.
For sale by W. M. Cohen, Weldon, N. C.; W. E. Beavers, Edfield, N. C.; J. A. Hawks, Garysburg, N. C.

A TOUCHING STORY
is the saving from death of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was in declining health, with serious throat trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve a cough or cold.—At all druggists; 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

THE SPORTING WORLD

Shortstop Gleason, Philadelphia.
Kid Gleason, the veteran shortstop, has been doing splendid work for Manager Hugh Duffy of the Philadelphia Nationals. The team is, in fact, stronger than has been the case for several years, and Gleason's work has been no small factor in producing this result.
Gleason is probably the oldest shortstop in the major leagues today, and yet no one denies that he has many good games left in him yet.
Eye of Feet in Wrestling.
Scores of supposedly adult wrestlers are usefully lacking in the knowledge of the great usefulness of the feet and legs in offensive as well as in defensive operations. Many a man spends hours in developing holds in which he uses his hands and arms alone. He thus overlooks a most important feature of the wrestler's art.
Great wrestlers use their feet and legs in a hundred different ways. Sometimes they turn a man on his back in the most surprising fashion by twisting his body with their feet. By encircling an arm or a leg with a bent leg and countering in that way a man can very often turn a perilous position into one of great advantage. Every ambitious wrestler should seek the instruction of some expert in this matter.
The feet and legs, too, often prevent a hold from resulting in a fall when a man is defending himself. By twisting a leg around an opponent's or by grapevining with a foot he can hold himself practically immovable.
Again, when an opponent moves to take advantage of an opening, the under man can frequently place one of his feet in the way as an effective block.
Earnestly study your feet in their relation to wrestling, in their relation to both branches, offensive and defensive.

Says Athletics Harmed Health.
The severe strain undergone by college athletes unfits them to a great extent for business or professional life because of weakness induced by over-exertion is the opinion of John Cranston, Harvard's former football coach and center of the great team which defeated Yale in 1890.
"I have had several serious illnesses since I left college, which I attribute to the cold strain of my athletic training," said Cranston recently. "On the whole, I cannot say that athletics have benefited me any in my business career. I sincerely believe that I would have been better off in my life than college if I had left athletics alone."
With the idea of ascertaining the actual effect of the long training and the great efforts incident to contests college presidents are collecting statistics regarding the health of famous athletes and their accomplishments in the affairs of life.
These statistics will not be ready for official publication before next October, but President Jones of the University of Illinois says that undoubtedly they will cause much surprise to the men who declare that the college athlete develops into the vigorous man who does things.

A Twenty Pound Athlete.
Smann Sing Hpo, the smallest acrobat in the world, made his first appearance before the London public at the Lyceum recently.
He is twenty-two years of age. His height is 34 inches, his chest measurement 22 1/2 inches, his hip measurement also 22 1/2 inches and his fighting weight twenty pounds.
Sing Hpo, unlike the ordinary dwarf, is exceedingly well developed and symmetrically built. He wears an immaculate frock coat, some 15 inches in length; a pair of daintily cut trousers, a fancy vest, perfectly correct collar and tie and a shiny silk hat of 1905 shape, just large enough to fit over the top of an ordinary man.
Sing Hpo's accomplishments are not, however, confined to acrobatic tricks. He is a good linguist, for he speaks English well, German fluently and French slightly, not to mention his native Burmese. He can box and wrestle too.
Perhaps the most amazing thing about Sing Hpo is the fact that his appetite is not at all in proportion to his size. He is accustomed to sit down with ordinary mortals and eat just as much as any one at the table.
Harry All Night Now.
All Jack Barry needs is a frequent change of scene. He is playing as fast ball for Cincinnati now as he did for the Phillies and Chicago when he first joined them.

Mollie and Johnnie.
When Mollie takes her dollies out, she takes them all. I have no doubt. For dollies, too, must have fresh air. To keep complexion clear and fair. And so each day she takes them out. To give them health and looks no doubt. There's Mary and Jane and Ann and Kate. And more I see—I've counted eight. There's Bessie and Dot and Maggie and Nan. Each wearing a veil to ward off the sun. For dollies, too, need just such care. As people do to make them fair. And so each day she takes them out. To keep them well and beautiful, no doubt.
When Johnnie takes his soldiers out, he drills them all. I have no doubt. For each must learn his proper place. To fall in line, to turn, and face. Quick step, march! Halt! Steady! Fire! And, see, was there ever a battle more dire?
Soldiers he dead just where they fell. A great victory's been won, as Johnnie will tell. A victory for the red and white and blue. A victory for his soldiers true. And so each day he takes them out. Great battles to fight and win, no doubt.

FOR THE CHILDREN

How to Play Football.
If it is "freed" that children are amusing themselves with, they place themselves about the playground, taking as their position either a tree, fence, stone or other not so abundant object. Grass and gravel would hardly do in most cases, for there is usually too much of them about. There is a great deal of running in the game, and each child is safe when he can run from one stone to another or from one tree to another, according as he has chosen his first position. To be able to run from grass to grass would not ordinarily make a very exciting chase.
While in position the players, who are all fivefoots, place their hands over their eyes and constantly open and close the latter in imitation of a real frothy opening and closing his wings over his glowing body. The child that has been chosen chaser taps a frothy while his hands are open as a signal that he is to run to a new position. At least the chaser tries to tap at this time, but should the blow chance to fall when the hands are closed, the tapper is chased by the other flock, each one of whom administers a slight cuff to him for his clumsiness, being careful not to hit hard or to strike the head.
The tap being properly given, the child struck runs for a goal similar to his own. If he reaches it, he is safe; if he does not and is caught he becomes chaser himself. Should any player be so unfortunate as to capture no one while taking this part he is, after a reasonable number of efforts, allowed to call out "Freed!" Every one must seek a new position at that call, and in the general confusion that will result some one is sure to be taken.

Shut Your Eyes.
Every member of the body has its own use. Teeth are to bite with, ears to hear with, brain to think with, etc.
One day a little girl was being questioned by her mother, who asked, "What are your eyes for?" "To see with," replied her small daughter.
The next question, "What are your eyelids for?" was rather difficult, and the little girl pondered for some minutes. Then she replied, "They must have been given to us to keep our eyes from seeing what they ought not to see."
This was a clever answer. The eyelids, of course, to protect the eye from dust and undue exposure, but it can also be used to great advantage in protecting this delicate organ from looking upon things that are injurious.
Shut your eyes, children, from all dust, from every little particle of evil, and let them shine only in the presence of good things.

Globe Party.
One player takes a handkerchief and, throwing it at another, cries, "Europe!" A timekeeper then begins counting ten rather rapidly, and the person to whom the handkerchief was thrown must name some place, river, mountain, person or thing connected with the countries of Europe before number ten is reached. It may be arranged that the person answering correctly puts the next test question. If incorrectly or unable to answer, a forfeit must be paid.
The players must be alert and alive, for often the one throwing the handkerchief looks at one while throwing it in quite another direction. "Look of Indoor and Outdoor Games."

A Devoted Mother.
Every one knows how devotedly the mother bird cares for her young while they are nestlings. She never leaves them alone long at a time and cares for them in the tenderest way. It was, however, a surprise to watch a mother the other day when the weather was dreadfully warm. When the sun shone on the nest the mother hovered over it with wings and tail spread wide. When it was hottest she sat foremost on the nest, spreading her tail feathers until the white tips of them showed. Then she kept up a constant quivering, fanning her wings and tail to give protection to the frail noddles in the nest. This mother was a humming bird.

The Cannon Ball Tree.
This is a native of New Guinea. It grows to the height of sixty feet, and its flowers are remarkable for their beauty and fragrance. The blossoms are of the richest crimson, appearing in large bunches. The fruit resembles enormous cannon balls; hence the name. Some say the name comes from the noise the fruit makes in descending. Domestic utensils are made from the shell, and the contents contain several kinds of acid besides sugar and gum and furnish an excellent drink for sickness. Singular as this may appear, the pulp when in a ripe state is filthy, with a most unpleasant odor.

PECULIAR DISAPPEARANCE.

J. D. Runyan, of Battleville, O., laid the peculiar disappearance of his painful, symptoms, of indigestion and biliousness, to Dr. King's New Life Pills. He says: "They are a perfect remedy, for dizziness, sour stomach, headache, constipation, etc." Guaranteed at all druggists' price 25c.
No woman likes to send a telegram, because it is hard to tell what you don't mean in ten words.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.
Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.
It is the great medicinal triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmor, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.
Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmor & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
