THE BEAUTY OF CHEERFULNESS.

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX.

I KNOW a young woman who always wears a bit of pink or red. She says it makes her feel cheerful. A coral necklace is one of her chief joys. "The moment I put it on," she says, "I feel gay and cheerful."

It is a pleasant theory to work on, and if we could all chase away our doldrums with a scrap of red ribbon we would go about looking like perennial rose gardens.

But whether or no we believe in the psychology of red, we can practice cheerfulness.

There is no sense in bowing our heads before each trouble as though an avalanche was descending upon us.

Life is not long; do not let us waste it in moping and grumbling. The whole secret lies in trying to make the best of things.

Don't give way before the little troubles; save your strength to fight the big ones. Begin each day with a smile.

A frown is bad enough at any time, but it's doubly depressing early in the morning.

Don't bore people by talking about your worries. They will listen at first through politeness, but they will soon begin to dread meeting you.

Be happy and gay and cheerful and you will count your friends by the score.

Be dull, morose and depressing and you will have no friends at all.

It may sound hard and unsympathetic, but it's the way of the world. We human beings are so constituted that we love sunshine and cheerfulness.

We cannot go through the world blind to the sorrow and suffering that lies all around us, but we can do our share toward lightening the burdens of others by offering our sympathy cheerfully instead of gloomily.

And when our own dark hours come, as they must once in a while, it is better to fight things out by ourselves.

Nothing is ever quite so bad as it seems at first.

Just make up your mind that you are going to get the best and the happiest side out of life.

Don't go about hunting woes and worries; you will be sure to find them if you do.

Look out for joys; life is full of them if you look hard enough.

And that is all there is of this little sermon. Its text is "Cheerfulness." Practice it and preach it and life will bring you much joy and peace.—New York Journal.

It is possible to obtain relief from chronic indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA. Some of the most hopeless cases of long standing have yielded to it. It enables you to digest the food you eat and exercises a corrective influence, building up the efficiency of the digestive organs. The stomach is the boiler wherein the steam is made that keeps up your vitality, health and strength. Kodol digests what you eat. Makes the stomach sweet—puts the boiler in condition to do the work nature demands of it—gives you relief from digestive disorder, and puts you in shape to do your best, and feel your best.

UNCLE BERRY'S GREETING.

I'll declar' Marse Tom, you's changed; I hardly know yo' face. An' den you come er stum'n' like you never seed de place; I b'levee you is got Miss Sue's eyes; an' 'sumpin' 'bout dat smile is sorter like Ole Marster, ater I 'dun' thought er while.

Lemme see; but twenty years, Marse Tom, since you went 'way, An' 'f' still I members des ez well ez 'f 'twas yesterday; Both me an' Dolly stood out dar, w'en you driv 'way, an' wait An' watch de buggy 'twel hit n' off from de big road gate.

You ain't fergot Aunt Dolly yit, Marse Tom, I good ez know, De many times dar she's sot here an' 'hel' you w'ile she sew; Dat'vely night Lawd tuk 'er 'way—she know hur time wuz nigh— "Berry," said she, "don't you forgi ter tell Marse Tom good bye."

You ougter see de ole graveyard—de flowers 'bout tu'k charge; In all yo' life you never seed de jass'mine grow so large; An', Marse Tom, dese yer daisies an' de yaller buttercup Is growed so thick dey's kivered mos' Miss Sue an' Marster up.

Me an' you, Marse Tom, dat's all, we's de onliest ones is lef', An' 'f' dis time anudder year you mought be by yers'f; But, honey, fer ter tell de roof, since times is done changed so, I'se tole de Lawd, 'er leavin' you, I b'levee I des liv go.

Stop, Marse Tom! you hear dem bells, you recollicks w'at 'tis— Or is you bin 'way so long you fergot w'at a cow bell is? I'se b'leege ter laff, kaze I des thought 'bout how you use'er ac' W'en we'd start down ter de meader an' Miss Sue call you bac'.

By de way, I'se hyerd de news—fo'kes boun'ter ta'k, dat's true, Kaze dey's so skeerd somebody else will tell hi' 'fo' dey do; Now, look here, Marse Tom, don't git shame, fer dat dey say is proof, If you fixin' fer ter marry, des 'less up wid de roof.

Well, Marse Tom, hit's gittin' late, I s'pose you's tired, too; So I'll go up an' fix yo' bed des like I use'er do; An' 'bout sun up ter-morrer morn' I'll come up an' blea' yo' shoes So you kin git up den or wait, w'ichever way you choose.

REST.

BY ABRAHAM J. RYAN.

My feet are wearied and my hands are tired—
My soul oppressed—
And I desire, what I have long desired,
Rest—only rest.

'Tis hard to plant in Spring and never reap
In barren ways;
'Tis hard to sow—and never garner grain
In harvest days.

The burden of my days is hard to bear,
But God knows best;
And I have prayed—but vain has been my prayer—
For rest—sweet rest.

'Tis hard to plant in Spring and never read
The Autumn yield;
'Tis hard to till, and, when 'tis filled, to weep
O'er fruitless field.

And so I cry a weak and human cry,
So heart oppressed;
And so I sigh a weak and human sigh,
For rest—for rest.

My way has wound across the desert years,
And cares infest
My path, and through the flowing of hot tears
I pine for rest.

'Twas always so; when still a child I laid
On mother's breast,
My wearied little head; e'en when I prayed,
As now—for rest.

And I am restless still; 'twill soon be o'er;
Far down the West
Life's sun is setting, and I see the shore
Where I shall rest.

Not as Rich as Rockefeller.

If you had all the wealth of Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate, you could not buy a better medicine for bowel complaints than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The most eminent physician can not prescribe a better preparation for colic and diarrhoea, both for children and adults. The uniform success of this remedy has shown it to be superior to all others. It never fails, and when reduced with water and sweetened, is pleasant to take. Every family should be supplied with it.

Faith in God makes some hope for man.

It is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take.

How to Ward Off Old Age.

The most successful way of warding off the approach of old age is to maintain a solid digestion. This can be done by eating only food suited to your age and occupation, and when any disorders of the stomach appear take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct it. If you have a weak stomach or are troubled with indigestion, you will find these Tablets to be just what you need.

THE MILLER AND HIS SON.

By Trying to Please Everybody He Had Succeeded in Pleasing Nobody.

MILLER and his son were driving their ass to a fair. On their way, they met a troop of girls. "Look there!" cried one of them, "did you ever see such fools, to be trudging along on foot when they might be riding!" The old man, hearing this, quietly bade his son get on the ass, and walked merrily by his side.

Presently they came to a group of old men in earnest debate. "There!" said one of them, "it proves what I was saying. What respect is shown to old age in these days? Do you see that idle young rogue riding, while his old father has to walk?—Get down, you scapegrace! and let the old man rest his weary limbs."

Upon this the father made his son dismount, and got up himself. In this manner they had not proceeded far when they met a company of women and children. "Why, you lazy old fellow!" cried several tongues at once, "how can you ride upon the ass, while that poor little lad there can hardly keep pace by your side?"

The good natured miller immediately got his son behind him. They had almost now reached the town.

"Pray, honest friend," said a townsman, "is that ass your own?" "Yes," said the old man.

"Oh! One would not have thought so by the way you load him. Why, you two fellows are better able to carry the poor creature than he you!"

"Anything to please you," said the old man.

So, alig'ning with his son, they tied the ass's legs together, and by the help of a pole endeavored to carry him on their shoulders across a bridge. The people ran out in crowds to laugh at the sight till the ass, not liking the noise or the situation, kicked assunder the cords and tumbling off the pole, fell into the river.

Upon this the old man made the best of his way home with his son—convinced that, by endeavoring to please everybody he had succeeded in pleasing nobody, and had lost his ass into the bargain.—From Esop.

Sciatica Cured.

After twenty years of torture. For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Macey, of 3222 Clinton street, Minneapolis, Minn., was tortured by sciatica. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comparison. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until Le-moc Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application of that liniment relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle has effected a permanent cure. It troubles with sciatica or rheumatism why not try a 25c bottle of Pain Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain.

STEVENSON'S PRAYER.

The day returns, and brings us the pretty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man; help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces; let cheerfulness abound with industry. Give us to go blithely on our business all this day; bring us to our resting-beds weary and content and undisturbed; and grant us in the end the gift of sleep.—Robert L. Stevenson.

HAPPY AFTERTHOUGHT.

Miss Maude Adams tells a story of a negro couple once personally known to her. Pete was very bashful, and having decided, firstly that he desired Miss Johnson for his wife, and secondly, that he dared not ask her in person, had recourse to the telephone to make known his passion, says the Philadelphia Ledger. He rang her up at the house of her employment, and inquired:

"Is dat you, Miss Johnson?"
"Yaas," came the reply.
"Well Miss Johnson, I've got a mos' important question to ask you."
"Yaas."
"Will you marry me, Miss Johnson?" and the answer came:
"Yaas. Who is it please?"

Sometimes, remarked a rural philosopher, it's a mighty short road between the fust false step an' de last dollar.

HAPPY AUGURY FOR THE BRIDE.

Dove Alights on Young Woman's Shoulder as She Leaves Church.

IT is seldom that such an augury of good luck greets a bride as was vouchsafed to Miss Mary Waters, of Philadelphia a few days ago. As she stepped out of the church by the newly acquired husband, Michael Doheny, a white dove alighted on her shoulder.

This prosaic, practical bird, he it known, was hungry, and the rice-blessed bride was too good a chance to be missed. All in attendance held their breath, and the bride's heart fairly stood still for fear that the little creature might be frightened away.

After sitting on his chosen perch and pecking rice from the hat of the astonished bride until it had eaten a good square meal, it unfolded its wings of peace, and, after hovering a moment over the happy pair, flew back to its home in the belfry.

It is probable that such another symbolic occurrence might not happen again in a century and Mrs. Doheny is naturally delighted with the harbinger of peace which blessed her with its benediction at the outset of her married life.

Jefferson's Idea.

Joseph Jefferson was a strong believer in early marriages, and he never missed an opportunity to impress his convictions upon the young men, says Everybody's Magazine. In an address at Yale he said:

"I abominate bachelors. The older they grow the more conceited they become. I was talking to one and I asked him why he did not marry. He parried the question by telling me about different young women he had known, finding fault with all of them. But it appeared that all of them had married."

"You are in danger of getting left," I said to him. "You had better hurry up before it is too late."
"Oh," said the bachelor, "there are just as good fish in the sea."
"I know that, I said, "but the bait—isn't there danger of the bait becoming stale?"

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia come nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and the products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not hard work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attacks of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of active medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar process for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper the badge of honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, obstruction of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pills are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate, stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. Use to three a dose.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because its development is slow. Many sudden deaths are caused by heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poison and blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away all by itself.

Bladder troubles most always result from a detachment of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and maldig pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both in English and French sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Epilepsy Fits St. Vitus Dance

Are nerve diseases, and unless checked, lead to destruction of both mind and body. The weak, shattered nerves must have something to strengthen and build them back to health. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a remarkable nerve tonic and stimulant. It strengthens the nerves, relieves the nervous strain, and influences refreshing body-building sleep and rest. Persistent use seldom fails to relieve these afflictions.

"I was taken with epileptic fits; had eleven in less than 12 hours. My sufferer sent for our family physician, but he could do very little for me, and I grew worse every day, and at last they had three doctors with me, and I still got worse. My father heard of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and bought a bottle of Nervine and a box of Liver Pills. I had taken only a few doses until I began to feel better. I took 12 bottles, and it cured me sound and well. It has been worth all the world to me. I recommend it wherever I go. You may use this as a life-long tonic for the merits of your medicine, for I am enjoying the best of health, and feel that my life and health is due to this wonderful medicine."
—R. F. D. No. 2, Boston, Ga.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.
