LOVE IN LATER LIFE.

Will You Love Her When The Wrinkles Begin to Appear and When Her Hair Begins to Show Steaks of Gray?

It is a shame to any man who has courted and persuaded some girl in the freshness of her youthful beauty to leave her home and go with him and after years of toil and worry, child bearing and heart-aches when the shoulders begin to stoop, the wrinkles begin to appear in her face, and her hair shows streaks of gray, it is a shame that can never be put into words strong enough to express it, for the husband to show any waning of his love for her, or his loyalty to her, because of her fading beauty or diminishing intellect. It is the most pathetic tragedy that the world furnishes, to see a man treat his wife rudely, or pass her by in cold neglect, when once he has made all sorts of professions of constant love and never-ending affection. How can such a man look such a woman in the face?

If he really loved her when she was young he would continue to love her when she is old. If his love was anything but animal passion when she was fresh and dimpled and rosy, it would abide the changes that have come to her through the toil and stress of trying to make her home a happy place.

A man ought to be horsewhipped who would go back on that woman who has been true to him, and given him the best part of her life. He ought to be horsewhipped in public. There is no crime he could commit the equal of this one. He doesn't deserve to be called husband. He is not worthy of the name father. He is simply a low-down ruffin, and the wonder is that any woman can continue to drag out a miserable existence trying to be true to such a man. He is unworthy of the respect of all self-respecting men and women.

When a man is hen-pecked his wife rules the roost.

A girl doesn't have to take a cake, if she only takes it.

No woman likes to admit that she sees herself plain in the mirror.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has indigestion food becomes strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation, if the stomach is so weak that it cannot digest abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is weak, the body will be weak, also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of several organs, the weakness of the stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, headache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Dr. Louis Pasteur, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my death began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, which, I thought, I would not have been so heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctor's treatment did me no good. I was obliged to stop work, and I presented for me, and although I look that I was not getting any better, I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Medical Discovery, and upon taking the first bottle, I felt a little better, and my stomach began to feel better, and my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly, and I was able to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me, and I can't give it higher praise." Do I be wheedled by a petty gratifying doctor into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

To gain knowledge of your own body—its sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 100 pages, bound in our own stamps for paper-covered, or a stamp for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 661 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

AVOID ALUM

AN UNSEEN DANGER IN FOOD

TO GUARD AGAINST the unseen dangers at sea, the United States Government maintains lighthouses.

To guard your home against the unseen dangers of food products, the Government has enacted a pure food law. The law compels the manufacturers of baking powder to print the ingredients on the label of each can.

The Government has made the label your protection—so that you can avoid alum—read it carefully, if it does not say pure cream of tartar, hand it back and.

Say plainly—

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL is a pure, cream of tartar baking powder—a pure product of grapes—aids the digestion—adds to the healthfulness of food.

THE BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.

One woman went out on the way of shame, And the wide world marveled and read her name And praised her beauty and gaped and cheered When, light and fluttering, she appeared. But one little woman in bodden gray Went out to the suffering night and day, And never for her was the trumpet of fame And never a cheer as she went or came.

One woman went out on the path of lies, And the whole wide world praised her justious eyes And paused and listened when she would speak And marked the roses that graced her cheek. But one little woman in dingy black Went out where the weary were on the rack And carried the woes of the sad and lone And comforted many and was unknown.

One woman set foot on the road of wrong, They blazoned her deeds in a joyous song That told of her daring, her charm and wit, And the world went humming and singing it. But one little woman in homely gown Went seeking for sorrow about the town, And smiles came to gladden where she found tears, But never for her were the thrilling cheers.

But somewhere the record is fairly kept, Unless at his task has the angel slept, And doubtless there, when the warper reads The beautiful tale of the golden deeds, In shining letters will stand each name, Of these little women who had no fame, But who went patiently day by day To do their work in the Master's way. And further than all of the outmost suns Will ring the names of the Beautiful Ones.

Made Happy for Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the despondent complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by any drug store. Price 50c.

"A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM."

How The Prayer of Katie Douglas Was Answered

Katie Douglas was a little girl only six years of age, who had been led to Christ by her Sunday School teacher. She had studied her Bible enough to know what being a Christian meant, and she had learned the beauty of service. But Katie had a burden on her mind and heart which caused her to lose much of the joy which she might have otherwise experienced. Her father and mother and brothers and sisters were not Christians. Each night before going to sleep she had asked God that they might learn to love Him, but her quiet prayers seemed to make no impression on an ungodly home.

A revival was in progress in the church where she was accustomed to attend Sunday School, and she was finally successful in persuading her people to attend.

After a most searching and convincing sermon by the pastor and an appeal to the unsaved to come forward and take their places at the altar, the pastor was surprised to see Katie, who had been seated at the rear of the church, wedge her way through the crowd and kneel down with a number of others who had accepted the invitation and had come to seek Christ.

The pastor upon noticing the child in her rather conspicuous place, and fearing lest she might create a disturbance and thus become a barrier in the way of those who were seeking the Saviour decided to go to her during the interval of prayer and tell her to return to her seat in the rear end of the room.

As soon as circumstances would warrant it he went forthwith to where Katie was kneeling. But as he drew nearer to her he heard her breathing forth a little petition to her heavenly Father, "O, Jesus, bless my papa and my mamma. O, Jesus, bless my sisters and my brothers, Amen."

As those words ascended through the stillness of that solemn night, the pastor's heart softened and the entreaty seemed to come to him as it did to the disciples on that other occasion when Christ was here upon earth and children clamored to see Him. "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

To deny Katie the privilege of communing with God would now have seemed to the pastor a sin almost too black to be forgiven.

On the following night when sinners were again gathered about the altar Katie Douglas wended her way up to the front and once more took her place among the crowd. She was again heard to repeat the message, "O, Jesus, bless my papa and my mamma. O, Jesus, bless my sisters and my brothers."

While Katie was still praying this simple little prayer a young man and woman came forward and

A Live Wire

Whether it is a live wire connecting some part of the body with the brain. They are so numerous that if you penetrate the skin with the point of a needle you will touch a nerve and receive a shock—pain it is called. Aches and pains come from a pressure, strain or injury to a nerve; the more prominent the nerve the greater the pain. When the pain comes from a large nerve it is called whether it be the facial nerves, or the heart, stomach, sciatic or other prominent nerve branches. To stop pain, then, you must relieve the strain or pressure upon the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this.

"I suffered intense pain caused by neuralgia. I doctored and used many remedies without getting relief until I got Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They did me better good than all the medicine I ever had. They got me out of my bed, my headache, and that was my only relief. I feel better now."—MRS. W. M.
