MR. RILEY DID NOT KNOW.
Woman Reporter Asked Questions Hard to Answer.
A friend of James Whitcomb Riley tells a story of an encounter the bachelor poet once had with a woman reporter. The energetic young woman after strenuous effort had finally caught Mr. Riley at the telephone. This is the conversation that followed:
"Is this Mr. Riley?"
"Yes. This is Miss—"
"Miss Jones, of the Courier-Journal. I've been trying all day to get an interview with you, Mr. Riley."
"Ah, would it were a view instead of an interview," said the poet, gallantly.
"Oh, thanks. How long will you remain in Louisville, Mr. Riley?"
"Only a short time."
"Is your wife with you?"
"No, ma'am, she is not."
"Where is she, may I ask?"
"You may ask, my dear Miss Jones, but I find it very difficult to answer. I am in absolute ignorance of her whereabouts. For aught I know to the contrary, she may right now be at the other end of this telephone!"
There was much laughter, and afterward an effort to resume the interview. But in vain. Mr. Riley had escaped.

LOVE OF COUNTRY.
In the last days of the Confederacy General Longstreet observed a soldier in tattered clothing standing in mud and a beating rain during a temporary halt of the column. The soldier was soliloquizing for the benefit of the bystanders: "I love my country," he said, "could die for my country. Breathes there a man with soul so dead who to himself hath never said, 'This is my own, my native land? But if I ever do get through with this war—if I do get through sure enough—I'll be damned if I ever fall in love with another country!"

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Dr. H. H. Plummer

Happiness is a wonderful thing. The only way you can really have it is give it to some one else.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

As a soothing and strengthening nerve-tonic, "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subsiding nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, profuse or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic constipation, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to look and use them, and eventually they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues, and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggist sells the "Favorite Prescription" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "Golden Medical Discovery." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

WANTED: A MAN.

A man who never gambles, never drinks and never smokes; A man who doesn't meddle with affairs of other folks; A man who is submissive—never cares to have his way; A man without opinions—doesn't have too much to say; A man who doesn't wander from his bedside, of nights; A man who recognizes all the rules of woman's rights; A man who doesn't delve among the leaves of musty books; A man whose dainty appetite doesn't make him worship cooks; A man who likes society, and all affairs of State, Enough to make him dignified, and reasonably great; A man who has a bank account of comfortable size—Who doesn't watch his pocket-book with greedy, jealous eyes; A man who isn't envious; a man who isn't proud; A man who can be pleasant in 'most any kind of crowd; A man without a mother, of the zealous, thoughtful, kind; A man whose poor relations cannot boast of ties that bind; A witty man, a handsome man, a man without a flaw; In short, a man who will respect the letter of the law. Just such a man may be engaged, and permanently, too. If he will call in person, for no substitute will do. The place is one for life—the matter should not be delayed—Apply, at once, at the abode of almost any maid.

TEARS.

Tears, idle tears, I know not what they mean,
Tears from the depth of some divine despair
Rise in the heart, and gather to the eyes,
In looking on the happy autumn fields,
And thinking of the days that are no more.

Fresh as the first beam glittering on a sail,
That brings our friends up from the under-world,
Sad as the last which reddens over one
That sinks with all we love below the verge;
So sad, so fresh, the days that are no more.

Ah! sad and strange as in dark summer dawns
The earliest pipe of half-awaken'd birds
The dying car, when unto dying eyes
The casement slowly grows a glimmering square;
So sad, so strange, the days that are no more.

Dear as remembered kisses after death,
And sweet as those by hopeless fancy feign'd
On lips that are for others; deep as love,
Deep as first love, and wild with all regret;
O Death in Life, the days that are no more.

Alfred Tennyson.

LA ROCHEFOUCAULD ON LOVE.

Love, like fire, must have continual movement. When it ceases to hope and fear, it ceases to exist.

The reason why lovers are never weary of being together is because they are always talking of themselves.

Coldness in love is a sure means of beloved.

The more we love the nearer we are to hate.

Women who love, more easily pardon great indiscretions than little infidelities.

It is impossible to love a second time what we have once really ceased to love.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does. Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a ever constant union of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real coffee, remember in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child.

Given Up to Die.

B. Spiegel, 1301 N. Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Care was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it help you?

FROM AN OLD MAID'S KODAK.
Consoling Thoughts in Her Hours of Loneliness.

First—However dreary the outlook, as you wait for Prince Charming to show up, it is indefinitely pleasanter than some find it who sit up waiting for their husbands to come home!

Second—As you read the divorce cases, and the stories of deserted wives and mothers, throw envy to the winds and be glad that you missed those mercies, anyway, as well as whatever led to these culminations.

Third—A happy old maid is easily possible, as is an unhappy Mrs. Fourth—Be cheerful over the fact that no man is afraid to be agreeable to you because of your jealous husband—and enjoy all the attentions that come your way, from men, and women, too.

Fifth—If you feel a bit lonely now and then, look about among the "eligibles" of your acquaintance and see how many (or how few) of them all you would be willing to pour breakfast coffee with conversation for 365 times a year.

Sixth—Rejoice and be exceedingly glad that there is no one to smooth his locks with your side-combs because he doesn't "know what the — has become" of his military brushes.

Seventh—Take all the comfort you can in the thought that on "bargain day" you don't have to get home at a certain hour or minute on pain of a refrigerating process if your husband's dinner is late.

Eighth—Be glad, too, that when you go to the bank for a new supply of the "needful" you are not obliged to explain why you need it or what you did with that "last month's five dollars." Nor all men "bough up" as readily as the cashier does.

Ninth—Remember with gratitude that "it is never too late to mend," nor to marry, and be sure to keep your mending (or marriage) basket ever in view of the man whose capture will make you eternally happy.

Tenth—"If at first you don't succeed," don't give up the ship, but wisely deny defeat and do some more until you make the lucky run which will enable you to choose whether you will have "dearly beloved wife of —" carved on your tombstone, or merely "Miss."

WHEN HIS BABY WAS DYING.
The Milkman Was Late That Day, but None Complained.

A few days ago people on Linwood boulevard who patronized a certain milkman missed his familiar before-breakfast ring, says the Kansas City Star. It was late in the morning when he finally made the rounds. And the women scolded.

"I'll have to take milk from somebody else!" one irate housewife snapped.

"All right, madam," he said, softly.

Something in his voice made her pause.

"What made you late?" she demanded, still angry.

A tear wavered on the milkman's eye and trickled slowly down his cheek.

"When—when I left home," he began.

He paused and gulped at something in his throat.

"When I left," he said, "my baby—was dying. I knew someone—would be angry—with me if I didn't—come so I—"

He could say nothing more. The woman said, gently:

"I'm sorry."

Next day the milkman failed to appear. The second day he was around very early.

"We buried her yesterday," was his explanation.

No one chided him. They understood. His baby was dead.
