T, F. ANDERSON, C. H. GATTIS, ELISHA'S REQUEST.

'Let a Double Portion of Thy Spirit Be Upon Me."

Elisha wanted a "double portion" of Elijah's spirit. It was a most beautiful request to make. It is human nature to want to be like those whom we, love. We want a portion of their spririt a double portion it may be. Elisha knew what the old prophets spirit had been. He knew somethig of his faith—the wonderful faith, that call either fire or water out of heaven, that could bring drought to the fields and barreness to the streams and fountains. He wanted a double portion of that spirit. He knew Elijah's courage. He did not forget the affair with the priests of Baal and the scene at the Kishon. He knew more of his tenderness of heart than perhaps of any other human being and what a farewell blessing would be a double portion of that affection and courage be! If he had double his spirit, then he could do double his work. He saw in the old man a spirit of fire and love and iron; of faith and heroism, a judgment that could press its cheek to the cheek of a little child, and at the same time lay hold on the strength of Omnipotence. Was it not a grand request that this grand prophet made? There is an inheritance than is better than money, better than lands, better than banks. It is the true and the beautiful in the lives of those who are about to leave us. It is character, the character of the good and the great who are just waiting to be received up to God. What a request of a son to make of a dying father! "Let a double portion of thy spirit fall upon me!"-double thy faith, double thy honesty, double thy sincerity, thy reverence. Let these things come to me; then I go out into the world with double thy power. Then shall I be twice as useful. The spirit of a young

Respect Stomach

TIVE it food that will not irritate or Tretard the performance of its natural functions, and it will reciprocate in a way agreeable and comforting.

No single ingredient contributes so largely toward wholesome, nourishing, agreeable food as Royal Baking Powder.

Royal Baking Powder's active ingredient, Grape Cream of Tartar, is the most healthful of the fruit products.

This is why Royal Baking Powder makes the food finer, Ighter, more appetizing and anti-dyspeptic, a friend to the stomach and good health.

Imitation Baking Powders Contain Alum

"The use of alum and salts of alumina in food should be PROHIBITED. The constant use of alum compounds exerts a deleterious effect upon the digestive organs and an irritation of the internal organs after absorption.

ROYAL PARING FORTING TO SER YOU

FAREWELL! BUT WHENEVER.

BY THOMAS MOORE.

Farewell 1 but whenever you welcome the hour That awakens the night-song of mirth in your hower. Then think of the friend who once welcomes it, too, And forgot his own griefs to be happy with you His griefs may return-not a hope may remain Of the few that have brightened his pathway of pain-But he ne'er can forget the short vision that threw Its enchantment around him while lingering with you

And still on that evening when pleasure fills up To the highest top sparkle each heart and each cup, Where er my path lies, be it gloomy or bright, My soul, happy triends, will be with you that night, Shall join in your revels, your sports and your wiles, And return to me, beaming all o'er with your smiles. Too blest if it tell me that, 'mid the gay cheer, Some kind voice has murmured: "I wish he were here!"

Let fate do her worst, there are relies of joy, Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy; Which come, in the night time of sorrow and care, And bring back the features which joy used to wear Long be my heart with such memories filled ! Like the vase in which roses have once been distilled. You may break, you may shatter, the vase if you will, But the scent of the roses will hang 'round it still.

THE DAY IS DONE.

BY HENRY WADSWORTH LONGFELLOW

The day is done, and the darkness Falls from the wings of Night, As a feather is wafted downward From an eagle in his flight.

I see the lights of the village Gleam through the rain and the mist, And a feeling of sadness comes o'er me That my soul cannot resist.

A feeling of sadness and longing, That is not akin to pain, And resembles sorrow only As the mist resembles the rain

Come, read to me some poem, Some simple and heartfelt lay, That shall soothe this restless feeling. And banish the thoughts of day

Not from the grand old masters. Not from the bards sublime Whose distinct footsteps echo Through the corridors of Time.

For, like strains of martial music Their mighty thoughts suggest Life's endless toil and endeavor, And tonight I long for rest.

Read from some humbler poet, Whose songs gushed from his heart, As showers from the clouds of summer, Or tears from the eyelids start;

Who through long days of labor, And nights devoid of ease, Still heard in his soul the music Of wonderful melodies.

Such songs have power to quiet The restless pulse of care, And come like the benediction That follows after prayer.

Then read from the treasured volume The poem of thy choice, And lend to the rhyme of the poet The beauty of thy voice.

And the night shall be filled with music, And the cares that infest the day Shall fold their tents, like the Arabs, And as silently steal away.
