Stinson, of Wilmamantic, Conn. who after almost losing hope of recovery, on account of the failure of so many remedies, finally tried Foley's Kidney Cure, which he says was "just the thing" for him, as four bottles cured him completely. "Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes S. A. Adams, Hemlock, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his limbs being affected. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at any drug store.

WRONG TO TELL THE TRUTH.

Mary Eleanor O'Donnell Gives Some Good Advice to Woman Kind.

It is a good plan to speak the truth when you can, but there are times when the truth should be qualified for a few moments, put to one side under the shadow of kindness.

You are not called upon to put in words every thought that comes into your mind.

Your dearest enemy may look as pale as a boy after a tussle with his first cigar, or as joyful as a burial permit, but why tell her of it?

There's no chance of a doubt that she knows it.

You aren't giving her any fresh or valuable information.

And if one cannot say pleasant things in their better nature, why say anything at all?

I never knew any really nice, lovable woman who were unflinchingly truthful.

But I have known a few iron-visaged, square-jawed women who were so brutally honest that I have most ingloriously fled at the mention of their approach and hid myself with a congenial spirit who is in the habit of skirting delicately around painful truths.

It is also well to remember that for every mean thing one says just so many mean things will be said about one.

Every time you delight the wicked instincts of your heart by ripping up and making over the feelings of some other woman you may know that sooner or later you will get your pay, with a little interest thrown in.

It's surely coming to you.

One of the most appealing things in this great old world is the frightful disregard some people have for other people's feelings.

And there is many a case of plain truth that masquerades under the name of truth.

The shrug of a shoulder can ruin the good name of a woman, and many there are who do not hesitate to shrug and to speak too.

Scandals and unkind misconceptions are things that a woman should not know, even when she knows them.

Truth is commendable and necessary, but there are times when silence makes a bigger hit.

This world is a jolly old place, and so far as worlds go it certainly cannot be beat.

But just a little more human kindness—a drop of charity where charity is needed—and it would be the ideal state.

There are those who say they do not care what others say—but they do.

A discharged servant can distribute insinuations that will have their effect.

But when one is suffering from injustice let the comforting thought ever be that there is no need of one's trying to make individual settlements.

The world will attend to the debt and collect it for you.

You cannot undo the wrong done by doing a wrong to some one else.

When things bank up until you can't stand them any longer, have your little overflow meeting for a good cry in the soul like a poutice to a throbbing tooth—and then brace up, get what inspiration you can from the sunshine, fresh air and good books and helpful friends.

The Lord was wise when he put into each human conscience. But alas, this organ of self-punishment does not always expand and develop.

The man or woman who knows the misery of regret can feel that he or she is on the right track, anyway.

Just a little more kindness.

Don't take it upon yourself to print out other people's weaknesses.

Softly, reverently, let us answer. We are so full of faults, always sinning, sometimes repenting.

We shall pass through this world but once. If there is any kindness we can show, or any good thing we can do to any fellow-being, let us do it now. Let us not defer or neglect it, for we shall not pass this way again.

LITTLE SINS.

The little faults, the little sins, so-called, which may seem so inconsequential, may, nevertheless, hide from us the vision of the Eternal. You need not break the glasses of a telescope, or coat them over with paint, in order to prevent you from seeing through them. Just breathe upon them, and the dew of your breath will shut out all the stars. So it does not require great crimes to hide the light of God's countenance. Little faults can do it just as well.

Take a shield and cast a spear upon it, and it will leave on it one great dent. Prick it all over with a million little needle shafts and they will take the polish from it more than the piercing of the spear. So it is not so much the great sins which take the freshness from our conscience, as the numberless petty faults which we are all the time committing. N. Y. Observer.

THE ONLY TRUE RELIGION.

Men talk much about "practical religion" but differ greatly as to what it comprises. Many limit it to benevolent gifts and kindly ministrations to public religious services. But it is more. It includes a personal faith in Christ, holy communion with God and a pure life. There can be no real and abiding practice of Christianity without a renovated nature and a sanctified heart.—Presbyterian.

A TRANSCEND.

The New Curate—"Your husband is a confirmed invalid, is he not?"

Mrs. Gubbins—"Confirmed, sir? No, sir, he ain't a member of the Church of England."

The New Curate—"I mean, is he a permanent invalid?"

Mrs. Gubbins—"Permanent? Lor, no! Doctor says he can't last through the summer."

When a man is getting far out of the fall of others he is sure to be a warm advocate of their rights to fall.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Although your body may make the news papers full of the names of the wonderful cures made by Dr. King's Swamp-Root, the great Family, Liver and Kidney Remedy, it is the great medical discovery of the age, and it is the only medicine that will cure you of all your troubles, and it is the only medicine that will cure you of all your troubles, and it is the only medicine that will cure you of all your troubles.

When things bank up until you can't stand them any longer, have your little overflow meeting for a good cry in the soul like a poutice to a throbbing tooth—and then brace up, get what inspiration you can from the sunshine, fresh air and good books and helpful friends.
