

Weak Lungs Bronchitis

For over sixty years doctors have endorsed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for coughs, colds, weak lungs, bronchitis, consumption. You can trust a medicine the best doctors approve. Then trust this the next time you have a hard cough.

The best kind of a testimonial—
"Sold for over sixty years."

Made by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass., U.S.A. Sold everywhere.

Ayer's Pills keep the bowels regular. All vegetable and gently laxative.

A weekly Democratic journal in regard to the national, international, political and agricultural interests of Halifax and surrounding counties.

Advertising rates reasonable and published on application.

The Caleb Powers trial is playing another farewell tour in Kentucky.

The importers have raised the price of champagne. That's more than the most of us can do.

The Thaw trial without Evelyn's testimony will be like a musical comedy without the chorus.

The real trouble will begin when the people refuse to take the gold coins with the motto left off.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt has become a life member of the New York State Assembly of Mothers.

Midshipman Raleigh C. Williams, of Wichita, Kansas, is the strongest man in the Naval Academy.

In nominating a Democratic candidate for next year, don't all mention the name of Tom Johnson at once.

Of course, money talks, as it always has—only it is inclined to use the long-distance phone, a good deal right now.

When King Edward puts on that two pound Cullinan diamond he will feel tempted to get a job as an hotel clerk.

It is another case of the hair of the dog curing the bite, when the tariff-caused panic, is cured by the tariff accumulated surplus.

A New York broker the other day married the waitress of a restaurant. A waitress can always keep the wolf from the door.

Every time some one over sixty years performs a feat that seems out of the ordinary, Dr. Osler finds his name in the papers once more.

A Chicago professor has figured out the date of the flood, which puts him in the class of those who fix the dates now of the destruction of the world.

We do not know what Uncle Sam's people would do were it not for the money of the malefactors and the advice of newspapers in emergencies.

SENATORS Daniel, Bailey, Tamm and Calhoun will attend the Bryan banquet in Washington. This looks like the beginning of Democratic harmony.

PEDESTRIAN Weston says his walk is costing him $1 a mile. And yet so many people object to paying 3 cents a mile for a seat in a first class railroad train.

"A Brief Description of New York," published in 1670, sold the other day for $1,750. And there was much less to describe in those days than there is now.

MR. ROOSEVELT may have to go to New York and assume the leadership of the Republicans, in person. Directing by deputy does not seem to be producing results.

MR. BRYAN says nine-tenths of the Republicans are really Democrats. Possibly this can be verified, the very next time a genuine Democrat is nominated for President.

"CONGRESSMAN Burton has found that he cannot march over the prostrate body of Tom Johnson to the Senate chamber," says the Birmingham Age-Herald. It is doubtful, in any event, that he would have attempted to get over without a step-ladder.

Try as we may, we cannot determine whether it is 42,000 widows weighing 142 pounds, or 142 widows weighing 42,000 pounds, that the Houston Post is talking about.

It is said that only one song out of every 35 women becomes popular, and now when you hear a "popular song" you can just imagine what the other 34 must have been.

AN evening lamp, a mellow open fire, a book, a bottle and a good old friend, a little wife who doesn't mind the smoke and does not talk—could Paradise come brighter?

AFTER a record-breaking run, the Lusitania delivered $100,000, 000 in gold at New York last week, but a good many of its are still waiting for the ship to come in.

WHEN speaking of the "working classes," it might be well for orators to indicate whether they meant those who work for a living or those who work those who work for a living.

Now that the prohibition movement has assumed such magnitude, it is amusing the politicians, the really sincere and honest workers in that cause may well take counsel with themselves.

"How would it do for Roosevelt to resign?" asks the Nashville American. Well, it wouldn't injure the wealth of Senator Foraker or aggravate the disposition of Dr. Long to any great extent.

One statistician has discovered that there has been a 40 per cent decrease in the cost of funerals, but it will be just perverse humanity to neglect this opportunity to get 'em while they are cheap.

"He who hoards money at a time like this, doesn't deserve to have any," remarks an exchange. The workingman who succeeds in hoarding money in a time like this, has got a remarkably economical wife.

If the heirs of George Washington feel that they are not obliged to have a big city in their business, doubtless there is less objection to their taking Cincinnati than any other town in the country.—Washington Herald.

At the John Temple Graves banquet in Atlanta, nothing stronger than coffee was served. When the Colonel gets to his New York editorial job, he will appreciate the force of the song "Home Ain't Nothin' Like This."

WILLIAM E. Corey, head of the Steel Trust, who married Mabel Gillman, the actress, weighs 210 pounds, and is so much worried about his size that he is said to have offered a Turkish bath rubber in New York for one year $100,000 if he would take off the surplus flesh.

Scientists find that there are no less than 3,000,000 microbes on the average dollar bill. This does not mean, however, that there are 300,000,000 on the average hundred dollar bill; the latter does not have the opportunity to accumulate microbes by extensive travel that the former does.

SPEAKER CANNON takes an optimistic view of money conditions. He speaks truly when he says, "New York, the great clearing house of the United States, was the first to suspend payment of currency. It must be the first to resume payment of currency, and the moment New York resumes that will unlock the $3,000,000,000 of currency and thereby restore credit." He thinks New York will be able to do this in "the near future."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has invited the Governors of the States and Territories to meet him at the White House May 13th, 14th and 15th next to discuss the question of means to conserve the natural resources of the country. Invitations are to be extended to the members of both houses of Congress and to the Inland Waterways Commission. The importance and manner in which the subject is to be considered are indicated in the President's letter to the Governors, which was made public at the White House last week.

THERE will be a touch of the dramatic about the closing of the Jamestown Exposition next Saturday, November 30th. The hour of midnight will be the time, and as the bugles of the Twenty-third infantry sound taps, President Tucker will move a lever extinguishing ever electric light on the grounds. Standing on the steps of the Auditorium President Tucker will at 11:30 p. m. begin a valedictory, which will deal with the inception and history of the Exposition.

The program of the day embraces a tournament at 2 o'clock and a chrysanthemum ball at night.

REPRESENTATIVE men from all over the Atlantic Coast States have formed a permanent organization under the name of "The Atlantic Seaboard Waterways Association," the object of which will be to bring about a system of waterways to be built about the interior of the United States, and to connect the Gulf of Mexico. This is the main object of the two days' conference held in Philadelphia by delegates appointed by the governor of trade bodies in the States interested in the Atlantic Inland Waterway project.

The Association adopted resolutions, declaring that all canals should be free, and asking Congress to take up the great project because it is demanded by the commercial interests of 30,000,000 people on the Atlantic Seaboard. Congressman J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, was chosen president, and a vice-president and a delegate at large was elected from each State. The next convention will be held in Baltimore.

KING EDWARD did not create any new peers on his birthday this year. Doubtless this is quite a disappointment to a number of Liberal statesmen lately wondering against the Lords, but severely hoping to get among them.
