

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

SOME of those tobacco fellows in Kentucky are showing yellow streaks.

THAW was careful this time to pick out a lawyer who does not look like Napoleon.

SPEAKER CANNON hates to see anybody monkeying with the buzz saw named the tariff.

EVIDENTLY Kentucky is loath to give up the idea of trying Caleb Powers every year.

SENATOR TILLMAN seems to have resigned first place to that new cut up from Arkansas.

MONEY is again getting so plentiful that a man can carry a piece around in his pocket for luck.

DEPT. of anti-nature fakirs: G. O. P. Elephant watching anxiously to see which way the cat jumps.

THERE is no certainty that we shall get much of anything from the present Congress but free seeds.

GOV. HUGHES amide somehow reminds one of the masterly silence of Mr. Alton B. Parker in 1904.

GOLDEN days for the preachers. No more whiskey devils to fight, churches are beginning to raise salaries.

THE problem of what to do with ex-presidents is not half so pressing as that of what to do with the would-be presidents.

GIRLS who want to take advantage of their leap year privilege should not let up on the man as long as he doesn't actually run.

COMPTROLLER of the Currency Ridgeley says that panics are inevitable. President Cleveland was not given the benefit of this amiable philosophy.

IF Rev. Dr. McArthur, of New York, keeps on no doubt he will discover that George Washington was locked in the village pillory for beating his wife.

"THE mantle of Moses has fallen on Hoke Smith," says an admiring Georgia contemporary. You don't say so! It must have given him an awful jolt!

THE story of that Missouri man who enlisted in the army because he was out of work and next day fell heir to a fortune has not started, rush on the recruiting stations as yet.

GEORGE ADE, the Indiana poet and humorist, wants to be a delegate to the Chicago Convention in order to cast a vote for Fairbanks. This is the best joke Ade has sprung for a long time.

IF the Washington Herald keeps on poking fun at Georgia prohibition, the country at large may soon send enough virtuous Congressmen to the capital to make Washington wonderfully dry.

"A lecturer in St. Louis said he was surprised at President Roosevelt," according to the Cleveland Leader. That must have been a long time ago, however. Nobody is ever surprised these days.

MISS Vera Fedorovna Komissarjewskaia, Russia's leading actress, is to tour this country. In these days of paper trusts it is hard on managers to be forced to enlarge their programmes for the accommodation of the lady's name.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT says that Secretary Taft will win the Republican nomination on the first ballot. Would it not be safer to say that he is sure of the Federal brigade?

THE sheriff in a certain Georgia county has a stock of whiskey on hand by right of levy, but the court has enjoined him from selling it. This must seem like getting money from home to the sheriff.

MARK TWAIN is said to have over fifty thousand dollars tied up in a trust company as a result of the late stringency, and it is doubtful if even the leading humorist of the country can see the joke in the situation.

THE Wilmington Star does not believe that the extra session of the legislature will pass a State prohibition bill, and says:

Such action would be so foolish, so inconsistent, and so full of peril to the Democratic party that the "sober, second thought" will prevail, and even the prohibitionist leaders will decide to "let well enough alone."

THE extra session of the Legislature that convened Tuesday, is the second since the war between the States.

The only other session since the war was that called by Governor Thomas J. Jarvis in 1879 for the purpose of selling the Western North Carolina Railroad, which was a burden to the State. Before calling the session Governor Jarvis had received a proposition for the purchase of the road from W. J. Best, of New York, and associates. Mr. Best asked Mr. Jarvis to call the legislature together in order that the sale might be made. Before doing so, however, the governor telegraphed to Senator Vance, who was then in Washington, as follows:

"Have a purchaser for Western North Carolina Railroad."

Senator Vance replied in these words: "Don't let him get away."

The members of the General Assembly of North Carolina, now in extra session, were elected upon a local-option platform; therefore, we heartily endorse what the Wilmington Messenger has to say on the question of State prohibition at this time. The Messenger says:

"We hope the Democratic members will have enough regard for the rights of the people as guaranteed to them by the platform of the party not to take from them the principles of local self-government on this subject. The advocates of State prohibition should postpone action until after the State convention and election of members of the next legislature. If the Democratic party in convention endorses State prohibition and the people at the polls elect on this issue a legislature favoring it, then all good Democrats should bow to the will of the party as expressed in the convention and at the polls. But it is not treating the people right to take from them this privilege so long as it is guaranteed to them by the party platform and that by a legislature which was elected at a time when the issue was not raised."

MAKE IT YOURSELF.

Says Many Persons Here Can Be Made Happy Again By Using This.

There is so much Rheumatism here in our neighborhood now that the following advice by an eminent authority, who writes for readers of a large Eastern daily paper, will be highly appreciated by those who suffer: Get from any good pharmacy Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime. Also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

Our home druggists say they will either supply the ingredients or mix the prescription ready to take if our readers ask them.

He who speaks from experience leaves a lot of things unsaid.

NORTH STATE NEWS.

Items of Interest From all Sections of the State.

The Piedmont Supply Company of Durham is in the hands of a receiver.

The ferry house at Bryson City, Swain county, was destroyed by fire last week.

A fire at Guilford College destroyed King Hall and library, causing a $20,000 loss.

The Palmetto Company, well-known jewelers of Charlotte, has made an assignment. Liabilities, $5,000.

Announcement is made in Charlotte that five cotton mills there will be consolidated under one management.

Machinery for the Chatham Woolen Mills at Winston-Salem has arrived and the mill will be put in operation soon.

A silver medal was awarded by the Jamestown Exposition to Whiting Brothers, of Raleigh, for the best display of grapes and figs.

Becoming suddenly deranged, James W. Pritchard, of Pasquotank county, committed suicide by blowing his brains out with a rifle.

It is almost a certainty that High Point will have three new State banking institutions within the next three or four months, making six banks altogether.

Zelie Gregory, 80 years old, was knocked down with an axe in the hands of his son in defense of his aged mother, in Mecklenburg county, Thursday last.

At Pine Level, United States Deputy Marshal Barnes arrested a fellow giving his name as John B. Huterson, and address, Raleigh, for complicity in a postoffice robbery.

The Cleveland county Democrats are early in the field. The executive committee met a week ago and fixed July 11th as the date for holding the primaries in that county.

A steel highway bridge is to be constructed jointly by New Hanover and Pender counties, over Northeast river at Castle Hayne, to take the place of the toll ferry now maintained there. It will cost $24,000.

At a called meeting of the directors of the Farmers' Protective Association in Greensboro, it was decided that prompt and determined action should be taken to prevent an increased crop of tobacco this year.

George W. Vanderbilt's taxes in Buncombe county this year amount to about $24,000. He paid half the amount by the close of the year, but like some of us who are not millionaires, is standing off the tax collector for a season for the remainder.

The Southern Railway is understood to be steadily decreasing its operating forces on account of the lack of business. It is said that within the past few days about 45 men have been laid off and that in addition fifteen engineers have been sent back to firing.

The News and Observer Tuesday published a communication from John A. Mitchener, of Selma, outlining the plan of a memorial to Henry L. Wyatt, the first soldier of the Confederacy to give his life in response to the call of his State. Every citizen of North Carolina should read it and respond to the patriotic appeal it contains.

As the result of a head-on collision at Cameron, fifty-four miles south of Raleigh, between a Seaboard Air Line freight and the northbound fast-passenger train, No. 48 Friday, two men were killed and twenty injured, none seriously.

Engineer E. H. Vaughan and Hemp Townsend, a negro fireman, both of the passenger train were killed. Both were from Raleigh.

William Woods, who lives on Pee Dee River in Richmond county, shot an eagle as it was flying away with an infant that belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Woods. The eagle swooped down picked up the child in its talons and laboriously began flopping away. Woods ran and got his rifle and at the risk of shooting the child fired away and injured the wing of the bird. It came down slowly and the child was saved after the bird had come to earth. Woods fired another shot and killed the eagle.

The better way--Mothers are learning to use Vick's Croup and Pneumonia Salve for Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, etc. Don't dose the child.

Did you ever have occasion to envy the disposition of a so-called reformer.

For Cash ARLINGTON

The hearty old chaps who are good judges of whiskey and thrive on it will tell you at the first taste that ARLINGTON RYE is as fine a whiskey as ever was poured out of a bottle. It ought to be—it MUST be, for it is distilled from the choicest materials that money can buy, by unequalled processes, carefully matured in the wood in the good, old way and absolutely uniform in quality.

It's whiskey that does you good. It has no ill after-effects but produces that stimulating and energizing result which only a perfectly pure liquor can. Don't trifle with your stomach—drink the best.

Ask the man behind the bar for ARLINGTON RYE—If it's a good place, he has it.
