CHRISTMAS IN WELDON.—Christmas passed off very quietly in Weldon and fortunately without any casualties to report. Monday night they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fitzhugh at their home in Northampton county. A delightful entertainment was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tilley, at Chockoyotte, New Year's night, but unfortunately on account of delays in railroad connection they did not reach Weldon in time to enjoy this entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Zollicoffer have left for their home in Enfield, followed by the best wishes of many Weldon friends.

Mr. Gary is a most delightful host and the occasion was one of great pleasure to all present.

The table arrangements and decorations were most artistic and perfect in appointment, a unique feature being the placing of a souvenir red and gold horse shoe at each plate, with the name of the guests in gold letters.

The dinner was served in six courses and consisted of such things as good taste and a perfect knowledge of man could suggest.

INTERESTING REVIVAL MEETINGS.—Much interest is being manifested in the series of meetings in progress at the Baptist church this week, by people of all denominations and large congregations attend each service. The congregation is fortunate in having here Rev. Calvin S. Blackwell, D. D., of Norfolk, who is doing the preaching. Dr. Blackwell is one of the foremost pulpit orators of the Southern Baptist Church. He is a forceful speaker, and a man of deep piety and consecration. His sermon Sunday morning was one of great power and thought and deeply impressed all who heard him. Dr. Blackwell's text was taken from the third chapter of the Book of Revelations.

With wonderful power Dr. Blackwell traced the life of man from the cradle to the grave, taking the Bible as a parallel from Genesis to Revelation. Reaching the conclusion of Malachi he turned the blank leaf separating the old from the New Testament and said that blank represented 400 years of the eclipse of faith, in all that time God neither spoke to man nor man to God.

Then with marvelous eloquence and power he told how this silence was broken when the angels came down to sing a song of peace over the cradle at Bethlehem.

Again at night he preached a sermon of great and wonderful power to a large congregation. Services are being held every night this week and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The public cordially invited to attend.

CHRISTMAS TREES.—All the white churches of the town gave Christmas trees to the Sunday School children and the children enjoyed the occasion very much.

The Christmas tree exercises were held at the M. E. Church Monday night, December 27th, and quite a number of useful presents were distributed. The children rendered a Christmas song service which was much enjoyed.

The congregation of the Presbyterian church had their Christmas tree at the residence of Mayor and Mrs. W. W. Wiggins Tuesday night, Dec. 28th.

Wednesday, December 29th, the children of Grace church Sunday School were given a Christmas tree, from which fruits and confections only were distributed, and the exercises were much enjoyed. A choir composed of children and several older people rendered a song service and Rev. H. H. Phelps, the rector of the parish, made a helpful talk.

The Methodists of South Weldon had their Christmas tree Wednesday night, Dec. 29, at the chapel. A number of presents were distributed and the children of South Weldon who attended the exercises were made very happy.

At the Baptist church the Christmas tree exercises were held Thursday night and all members of the Sunday School were given nice presents from the tree. There was a delightful song service by a choir composed of the children of the Sunday School and Rev. J. G. Bialock, pastor of the church, made a short and helpful talk.

Saved at Death's Door. The door of death seemed ready to open for Murray W. Ayers, of Transit Bridge, N. Y., when his life was wonderfully saved. "I was in a dreadful condition," he writes, "my skin was almost yellow; eyes sunken; tongue coated; emaciated from losing 40 pounds, growing weaker daily. Virulent liver trouble pulling me down to death in spite of doctors. Then that matchless medicine—Electric Bitters—cured me. I regained the 40 pounds lost and now am well and strong." For all stomach, liver and kidney troubles they're supreme. See at all druggists.

The ushers, Messrs. Burr James, Walter Wilson and Cecil Cobb, of Greenville; Carl Ray Smith, of Timmonsville, S. C.; John Moore Pivot, of Littleton, and Herbert McDowell, of Scotland Neck, were first to pass up the aisles.

Then came the bride's maids, each wearing dresses of white lingerie, with broad pink sashes and large picture hats, and carried bouquets of pink carnations. These were Misses Mary James, Lotie Blow and Glenn Forbes, of Greenville; Irene Lacy, of Raleigh; Marjorie Scott, of Mebane, and Hallie Dunn, (sister of the groom), of Scotland Neck. They ascended the rostrum, forming a semi-circle around the altar.

Next was the maid of honor, Miss Lucille Cobb, sister of the bride, dressed in pink and pink picture hat, with a bouquet of bride's roses.

The bride entered with her father, and the groom came through the choir door from the rear, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Ashby Dunn, of Scotland Neck.

The couple met and advanced together upon the rostrum, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. McFarland, of Scotland Neck.

Following the ceremony a public reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Fifth street.

In the receiving line in the parlor, beside the bride and groom, were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cobb, Mr. Ashy Dunn and Miss Lucille Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Biggs, Jr., and Mrs. Kate Dunn.

The receivers in the dining room were Mesdames R. O. Jeffries, J. L. Hassell and J. L. Little, and little Misses Helen Laughinghouse, Ernestine Forbes, Novella Moye, Helen Grimes and Nell White were the servers of a salad course and cream and cake.

In the library was a most elaborate display of wedding gifts, there being table after table laden with china, old ivory, brass, silver, cut glass and other innumerable articles.

We can better appreciate Weldon's splendid climate when we read of the suffering and death of people north and west during the great blizzard.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work. Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys must, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. Its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best.

Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet explaining how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.
