DON'T BE FOOLED, GIRLS.

Flowers and Candy Not All That Counts, Says Dr. Wharton.

"Wives are unhappy because husbands show a remarkable aptitude for forgetting their marriage vows," said Dr. Henry M. Wharton, of Bramley Baptist church, last night in another one of his "marital sermons."

The subject of the sermon was "Why Wives Are Unhappy." Right at the start Dr. Wharton placed the burden of marital sorrows on the husbands. "Husbands," Dr. Wharton said, "are too prone to fall before the allurements of other attractions. A proper husband is one who keeps up his courtship after his marriage."

Secret societies, lodges and clubs come under the ban, while saloons were scathingly designated as the worst destroyer of the happy relations. He strongly advised the married men never to tease their wives. "Teasing," he said, "sears away happiness, which is the dove of Heaven."

"In order not to be unhappy," continued Dr. Wharton, "it is proper to start right at the beginning. Girls, when a young man comes to call on you and bring you flowers and candy, don't be fooled. Eat the candy, but find out about the young man. Wear the flowers and be nice to him, but look into his associations and the kind of life that he leads, so that when he comes to ask papa for your hand you may know whether you will be safe in trusting it to him."

Then when you get married, the burden of the responsibility rests upon the husband. Husbands when you come home in the evenings do you call your wife sweetheart, and maybe have a bouquet of flowers, or do you give her a lemon? A little ruff will go a great way to eliminate the vexing questions which arise in household matters.

"Don't be afraid to say sweet things to your wife. Neglect has blighted more lives than over-indulgence of sweetness. If a thing pleases you, say so. A husband is not lowering his dignity by showing his wife that he can be tickled over potatoes fried a new way, or appreciating the manner in which the wife wears her tie. Be the lover all the time; the marriage certificate should not end the courtship."

"Be true to your wife, as you expect her to be true to you. You have no right to demand of her that she sacrifice all for you and then not be willing to do the same for her. If you want your home to be sweet, do not take all the worries to your hard working wife and leave all the pleasures at the club or in the business office."

"The clubs are one of the worst snares for the dove of happiness that exist. When 'hubby' goes to the club to spend the evening and comes home, say, about 3 or 4 o'clock in the morning, so tired and sleepy that he has to have several companions to show him which is his house, is it any wonder that the wife does not greet him with a smile and a kiss?"

"The secret order and society which requires the presence of the husband every night will soon cause the home to seem plain and barren."—Baltimore Sun.

HARD LUCK.

"Your father might have been a rich man but for one thing."

"What was that mother?"

"He was obliged to attend an extra session of Congress instead of spending the summer on the lecture platform."—Detroit Free Press.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of it! How the mist of a good thing stands out in that time—the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guesswork in this evidence of the Dr. King's New Discovery.

"I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it forty years. It's the most unfailing medicine on earth. Unexcelled for la grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price, 50c, $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

The more successful a farmer is the less credit he will give to the weather and the Lord.

IN WAYS THAT WE KNOW NOT.

I sometimes think God lets our sorrows gather 'Till joy is hidden by pain's heavy cloud, That in the darkness we may find "Our Father," We need Him so when heart and head are bowed.

I sometimes think He lets friends fail and falter, To show us earthly props are insecure, The broken beams we lay upon His altar, Of healing and of solace may be sure.

I sometimes think He strews our path with roses, And when we find that each one hides a thorn He takes us by the hand and gently shows us— That not to live to self has man been born.

I sometimes think, when He seems all unheeding, Turning deaf ears unto our wild request, In silent pity His great heart is bleeding, Because to grant us it were not the best.

I always think, in His divine compassion, Not one will perish from His loving hands, Knowing our weakness and the strength of passion, He pities us—because He understands.

WAYFARERS.

Underneath the orchard trees lies a gypsy, sleeping; Tattered cloak and swarthy face and shaggy moonlit hair; One brown hand his crazy fiddle in his grasp is keeping; Through the Land of Dreams he strolls and sings his love songs there.

Up above the apple blossoms where the stars are shining Free and careless wandering among the clouds he goes, Singing of his lady-love and for her pleasure raving Wreaths of Heaven-flowers, violet and golden rose.

In his sleep he stirs and wakes to find his love beside him, Pours his load of Dreamland blooms before her silver feet; Takes her in his arms, and as her soft brown tresses slide him, Both together fare to Dreamland up the star-paved street.

ILLUMINATION.

Last night I dreamed of you. I thought you came And caught my hands in yours and said, my name Over and over till my soul was stirred With that fine ecstasy that some wild bird May know when first it feels the blossoming And the keen rapture of the glad new spring.

Almost today I fear to meet your eyes, Lest I should find them suddenly grown wise With knowledge of my heart. Almost I fear To touch your hand lest you should come too near And startled, dazed by some fierce inner light, We both should cry, "I dreamed a dream last night!"

WELL FORTIFIED.

There is Never a Day So Sunny, But a Little Cloud Appears.

God gives promise of grace also to fortify us for such trials as we inevitably must meet. While it is not right to borrow trouble, yet testing times will come. Just as night follows day, so sure is suffering to come to every one of us.

"There is never a day so sunny, But a little cloud appears;

There was never a life so happy, But had had its time of tears."

We may be surrounded by loving friends, but just as sure as we live, we will witness some of them die. If we live we must part from our dearest friends; if we do not, they must part from us. Suffering and separation and sorrow are sure to come. But God's promises are lamps to lighten up dark places.

God's promise of grace should serve to stimulate and encourage us all in Christian effort. Some are only beginning the Christian life. Is not this a blessed assurance with which to start out on the journey: "Lo, I am with thee!"

What more could you ask? When we look at the dunes to be done and then at our poor, weak selves, it is no wonder that we are ready to cry out: "Who is sufficient for these things?" But if we will only listen, we shall hear the Saviour's reassuring reply: "My grace is sufficient for thee."—G. B. F. Hallock.

set the world to talking, but Paul Mathews, of Buffalo, N. Y., says he always keeps at home the King of all Castorians—Dr. King's New Life Pills, and that they're a blessing to all his family. Cures constipation, headache, indigestion, dyspepsia. Only 25c at all druggists.

Some men are just plain, ordinary deceivers of their wives, then there is the one who makes her believe he can't bear to have her go away from him on a visit.

REST AND HEALTH TO MOTHER AND CHILD.

Dr. J. C. Ayer's Little Family Pills are the best for mothers and children. They are the best for the child, the best for the mother, the best for the family. They are the best for the mother, the best for the child, the best for the family. They are the best for the mother, the best for the child, the best for the family.

A man would just as lief have boils as go shopping with his wife.

RICHMOND EDITOR'S VIEWS.

Has a Great Deal to Say in Respect to the So-called Society Set.

One of these days the young women of this country—we mean the society "set"—is going to catch Major Hemphill, of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, away from home and give him a lambasting.

Just read this effusion from his paper of yesterday:

"Why don't the young things learn how to do something? What are they here for? To wear rags in their hair, to try on hobbles and make themselves conspicuous in public places, to have a good time with their fellows? Pity the fellows after they have been caught and shall be compelled to live all the time with the in-anities of existence. Only yesterday, a fashionable dressmaker was complaining about how hard it was to get any of the girls to work buttonholes, a very simple thing it would seem, and so she had to employ a lady 70 years of age to do this work and she does it well, because none of the younger generation appear to know how to do anything of a practical sort.

Time was when all the clothes of the family were made at home and some of us have not forgotten "them happy days," even if we do resent the sort of things we had to wear—the seams of the trousers that invariably came round in front of the leg when this necessary article of dress was put on, the bulging of the skirt about where the knees of the limbs ought to have been, and now we are told that the youngsters among the girls do not even know enough of domestic economy to work buttonholes. Probably they do not know how to thread a needle or sew on buttons. It is terrible. Whether we are drifting? And what would it profit any of the young men to try to live with things like this? Of course, it will be said that "they will learn," but they do not know enough at least to know where and how to start.

Think of what you must endure, young man—the biscuits you must eat, the coffee you must drink, the under-done hominy and potatoes and other things you stow away if you latch up with girl who does not know how to make a button hole.

Isn't this a jimhammer? No better evidence is needed that the old gentleman is a back number; he is not passing; he has passed. He ought to know that these society dears are not going to tell every thing they know. Every last one of 'em knows how to sew on buttons, but it is not in good form to acknowledge it.—Greensboro Record.

GOOD BAIT

During Speaker Thomas B. Reed's later years he went one night with a companion to the Portland club, where they hung their coats in the cloakroom and spent the evening talking politics. When they went to get their overcoats on leaving Reed's friend thrust his hand in the pocket for his gloves and pulled out a pocket-book that was not his and which some one had put in there by mistake. "What shall I do?" he asked Reed. "If I go around the club with a pocketbook in my hand it will look strange." "That's all right," said Reed. "Keep the pocketbook and set the coat again; we'll go back to the smoking room."

"KID" MCCOY'S "DECALOGUE."

Former Pugilist Frames "Commandments" for Sanitarium.

Norman Selby, otherwise known as Kid McCoy, having fought 125 ring battles without ever being badly battered and generally with victory as the issue, has decided to become a "doctor of physical science." Selby, as he prefers to be called, has been studying and practicing his system since February and he says he has in that period gained 25 pounds in weight, added four inches to his chest measurement, reduced his waist eight inches and, most remarkable, grown an inch and one-quarter in height.

A straightened spine and correct breathing are, he says, the principles which spell health. He has settled here and he will put the principles into practice in a sanitarium. He has framed 10 "health commandments," nature's laws, he calls them. Here they are:

First—Thou shalt keep thy backbone straight.

Second—Thou shalt use all thy lungs all the time.

Third—Thou shalt drink a half gallon of water daily.

Fourth—Thou shalt take sufficient nourishment.

Fifth—Thou shalt masticate thy food properly.

Sixth—Thou shalt sleep eight hours daily.

Seventh—Thou shalt cleanse the body daily.

Eighth—Thou shalt walk three miles daily.

Ninth—Thou shalt think pleasant thoughts and banish unpleasant ones.

Tenth—Thou shalt praise the Creator for the result these laws will bring and tell thy neighbor.—Greensboro Telegram.

LEARN TO FORGET.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget the slander you have ever heard. Forget the computations. Forget the fault-finding and give little thought to the cause which provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels or histories you may have heard by accident, and which, if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they are. Cut out as far as possible all the disagreeables of life; they will come, but they will grow larger when you remember them, and the constant thoughts of the acts of meanness, or worse still, malice, will only tend to make you familiar with them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday; start out with a clean sheet for to-day, and write upon it for sweet memory's sake, only those things which are lovely and lovable.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.

Agitated Old Gem—Quick! My daughter is overboard! Save her, and she shall be your wife!

Blase Person—Wait till a large wave rolls her over and I can see her face!

A man leaves wealth behind him in an automobile; to overtake it he must crawl after it on his hands and knees.

"The Liver Pills act So Naturally and Easily."

Such a statement, coming from the cashier of a bank, shows what confidence responsible people have in these pills. Mr. A. L. Wilson after trying them wrote:

"I have used Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, and also your Anti-Bile Pills, on myself with good results. The Liver Pills act so naturally and so easily that I scarcely know that I have taken a pill. Frequently being troubled with headache I take an Anti-Bile Pill and get immediate relief. In every case I have used your pills, I have been cured. A. L. Wilson, Sparta, Ill. Mr. Wilson was for a number of years cashier of the First National Bank of Sparta, Ill."

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

are different from others. Many kinds of liver pills are "impossible" after one trial on account of their harshness. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills do not act by sheer force but in an easy, natural way, without griping or undue irritation. They are not habit forming.

If the first bottle fails to benefit, your druggist will return the price. Ask him.
