THE OLD SCOTCHMAN'S PRAYER.

There is a Reverence Which Reaches Higher Than the Forms and Conventionalities.

I was pleased the other day with a story which an aged Scotch minister told me about an old Scotchman who, many years ago, was on his way to a meeting of the people of God held in a tent, or some such temporary structure.

The old pilgrim was poor and ill-clad, and partly deaf, but he trusted in the Lord, who he served, and rejoiced in His kind providence. On the way to the meeting he fell in with another Christian brother, a younger man, bound on the same errand, and they traveled on together.

When they had nearly reached the place of meeting, it was ed the place of meeting, it was proposed that they should turn aside behind the hedge and have a little prayer before they entered the meeting. They did so, and the old man, who had learned "in everything to let his requests be made known unto God," presented his case in language like the following:

"Lord, ye ken weel enough that I'm deaf, and I want a seat on the first bench, if you can let me have it, so that I can hear Thy Word. And ye see that my toes are sticking thru my shoes and I don't think it is much to your credit to have your children's toes sticking through their shoes, and therefore I want ve to get me a pair of new ones. And ye ken I have nae silver, and I want to stay there during the meeting, and therefore 1 want you to get me a place to stay." When the old man had finished his quaint petition, and they had started on, his younger brother gently suggested to him that he thought his prayer was rather free in its forms of expression, and hardly as reverential as seemed proper to him in approaching the Supreme Being. But the old man did not accept the imputation of irreverence.

"He's my Father," said he, 'I'm weel acquainted with Him, and He's weel acquinted with me, and I take great liberties with Him," So they went on to the meet-

That Will Relieve Neuralgia."

The piercing pains of Neuralgia, which often follows a bad cold or La Grippe, are frequently almost unbearable and few medicines afford any relief to the sufferer.

I am a rural mail carrier and have been a user of the Dr. Miles medicines for years.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills can't be beaten. They are the only thing I have found that will relieve my neuralgia and I have tried most everything, besides medicine from the doctor. I am willing to tell anyone what the Anti-Pain Pills did for me."

CHARLES HILDERBRANDT, 0x 205 Woodvill, Ohio Box 205 If you, like Mr. Hilderbrandt, 'have tried most everything' in vain, why not do as he did, fight your aches and pains with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. Let the pills bear the brunt of the battle. No matter how stubborn the contest, they will come out victorious. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills stand on their record, which is a long list of cures extending back a

DON'T IT SEEM TRUE

Don't it seem true now, don't it seem true, Of when the trials bring their dark clouds to you, Oft when we're weariest, saddest and lost In the deep, dark despair and our fortunes are crost, Something just happens, so mystic and calm, To heal like a rose with the sweet of its balm !

Don't it seem true, though, to you and to me, That something comes by with the bloom of the glee To lift the dark shadow and roll far away The cloud that kept drakling the sunshine of day; Something just happens just at the right time To bring back the laughter, the ring and the rhyme !

Don't it seem true, always true at the best. That dark as the hour may with grief be opprest, Harder our fate seems and fortune so far The bleak night is lit by the gleam of a star, And soon the whole sky swims in glory and tune Of the far flooding light of the silver-sweet moon !
