GIRLHOOD.

There Will Never Be Anything Better In All The World.

To be a girl is to be in the happiest state possible to humanity, but girls do not know it. They are always looking forward to something, wanting something—a diamond or a beau, flattery or a new gown. They rather envy women a little ahead of them, who have more self-possession and are some times jealous of some married woman who flirts and makes a dash. "I'm only a young girl," we heard one say. "Only a young girl." Oh! be glad of it; delight in it! Thank heaven every morning that you are a young girl. We cannot stop time. The years will slip through your fingers like the beads from a broken necklace after a while, but now they linger while you are still a girl—a girl in the home of parents, yet in the prime of life, with young brothers and sisters for companions. There will never be anything better than this in all the world. There are no skeletons in your closet, no ghosts in your reveries. Your future is all full of hope. You can fill in the distance as you like. You can fancy a lover coming to you who is perfect in all things; and every young man is interesting, because he may possibly be the other half of your soul. And every new girl may be the lifelong friend and confidante all girls hope for. As for beauty, the life of a girl of seventeen thinking herself plain as some do! In a few years she will look in the glass and see those fine horizontal lines on her forehead, on which time scores down our troubles, and at the corner of her eyebrows three little pencil marks, and a little fall in her cheek, and a mouth that does not smile as readily as it once did; not an old face yet, but not a girl; then she will realize what it was to have a girl's face! Oh, how few the years are! How they whirl away! Girlhood is gone so soon! But while you have it, envy no woman her diamonds and laces, her carriage or her palace, her fortune or her admirers. While one is in one's teens nothing else is necessary except to realize the fact and thank heaven for it.

Dame Fortune isn't very much of a flirt. She seldom smiles on a man unless he gives her a good deal of encouragement.

Dan J. Joyce, Sanville, Henry county, Virginia, says: "I took a cold with a cough which hung on for two years. Then I commenced using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and the cough finally left me and now I am perfectly strong and well." Is best and safest for children and contains no opiates.—Adv.

The woman who uses an old stocking for a rat in doing up her hair is one kind of a nature fakir.

Twinges of rheumatism, backache, stiff joints and shooting pains all show your kidneys are not working right. Urinary irregularities, loss of sleep, nervousness, weak back and sore kidneys tell the need of a good reliable kidney medicine. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic, strengthening and restorative. They build up the kidneys and regulate their action. They will give you quick relief and contains no habit forming drugs. Safe and always sure. Try them.—Adv.

The way to get your expectations to come out right is not to have any.

Only a Fire Hero
but the crowd cheered, as, with burned hands, he held up a small round box, "Fellow!" he shouted, "this Buckle's Antiseptic Salve I hold, has everything heat for burn." Right! also for boils, ulcers, sores, pimples, eczema, cuts, sprains, bruises. Surest cure. It subdues inflammation, kills pain. Only 25c. at all druggists.—Adv.

A Great Building Falls
when its foundation is undermined, and if the foundation of health—good digestion—is attacked, quick collapse follows. On the first signs of indigestion, Dr. King's New Life Pills should be taken to tone the stomach and regulate liver, kidney and bowels. Pleasant, easy, safe and only 25c. at all druggists.—Adv.

When a man tells a woman that he is not worthy of her, she can bet her last coin that he is telling her the truth.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

[From a series of elaborate chemical tests.]

Comparative digestibility of food made with different baking powders.

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of two kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

99 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 Per Cent. Digested

Royal Baking Powder raised food is shown to be of greatly superior digestibility and healthfulness.

SYMPATHY.

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

Is the way hard and thorny, oh, my brother?
Do tempests beat, and adverse wild winds blow?
And are you spent and broken at each nightfall,
Yet with each morn you rise and onward go?
Brother, I know, I know!
I, too, have journeyed so.

Is your heart mad with longing, oh, my sister?
Are all great passions in your breast aglow?
Does the white wonder of your soul blind you,
And are you torn with rapture and with woe?
Sister, I know, I know!
I, too, have suffered so.

Is the road filled with snares and quicksand, pilgrim?
Do pitfalls lie where roses seem to grow?
And have you sometimes stumbled in the darkness,
And are you bruised and scarred by many a blow?
Pilgrim, I know, I know!
I, too, have stumbled so.

Do you send out rebellious cry and question,
As mocking hours pass silently and slow,
Does your insistent "wherefor" bring no answer,
While stars wax pale with watching, and droop low?
I, too, have questioned so,
But now I know, I know—
To toil, to strive, to err, to try to grow,
To love through all—this is the way to know.

INTERMEDIARY.

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

When from the prison of its body free
My soul shall soar, before it goes to Thee,
Thou great Creator, give it power to know
The language of all sad, dumb things below,
And let me dwell a season still on earth
Before I rise to some diviner birth;
Invisible to men, yet seen and heard,
And understood by sorrowing beast and bird—
Invisible to men, yea always near,
To whisper counsel in the human ear;
And with a spell to stay the hunter's hand
And stir his heart to know and understand;
To plant within the dull or thoughtless mind
The great religious impulse to be kind.

Before I prune my spirit wings and rise
To seek my loved ones in their paradise,
Yea! even before I hasten on to see
That lost child's face, so like a dream to me,
I would be given this intermediate role,
And carry comfort to each poor, dumb soul.
And bring man's gulf of cruelty and sin
By understanding of his lower kin.
'Twill weary driver and the straining steed
On wings of mercy would my spirit speed.
And each should know, before his journey's end,
That in the other dwelt a loving friend.
From zoo and jungle, and from cage and stall,
I would translate each in articulate call,
Each pleading look, each frenzied act and cry,
And tell the story to each passerby;
And of a spirit's privilege possessed,
Pursue indifference to its couch of rest,
And whisper in its ear until in awe
It woke and knew God's all embracing law
Of Universal Life—the One in All.
Lord, let this mission to my lot befall.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

THE MOTHER WHO WAITS.

While the deciding game of the world's series was going on, away across the continent from Fenway Park a crowd sat in a theatre in Los Angeles, Cal., watching the plays flashed out on an electric score board. When the Giants had victory almost in their grasp and the easy fly ball was falling, suddenly there was a flash. Snodgrass had muffed the ball and lost the championship for the New Yorks. A woman in the audience fainted. It was "Fred" Snodgrass' mother.

Oh, these mothers who wait and watch, no matter where their children may be! When their sons make a bad play, take a false step, it is the mothers who suffer. If sons and daughters could only realize how they are bound up in the very lives of fathers and mothers, they would play a better game.

TEACHING THE YOUNG IDEA.

A keen-eyed but obviously scantily educated mountaineer led his gawky, overgrown son into a country schoolhouse.

"This here boy's arter learnin'," he announced. "What's yer bill o' fare?"

"Ou' curriculum, sir," corrected the schoolmaster, "embraces geography, physiology, arithmetic, algebra, trigonometry"—

"That'll do," interrupted the father. "That'll do. Load him up heavy with trigonometry. He's the only poor shot in the family."—Youth's Companion.

OBEYED ORDERS.

"I told the chef to prepare the fowl so that it would tickle the palate."

"And he did it?"

"Yes; he left the feathers on."

Sick Women

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured many cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are five letters from southern women which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.
Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks to you and your great medicine. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.

LETTER FROM LOUISIANA.
New Orleans, La.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with hot flashes, weak and dizzy feelings, backache and irregularities. I would get up in the morning feeling tired out and not fit to do anything.

LETTER FROM FLORIDA.
Wauchula, Fla.—"Some time ago I wrote to you giving you my symptoms, headache, backache, bearing-down, and discomfort in walking, caused by female troubles.

LETTER FROM WEST VIRGINIA.
Martinsburg, W. Va.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for my mother, daughter and myself.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM VIRGINIA.
Newport News, Va.—"About five years ago I was troubled with such pains and bloating every month that I would have to go to bed.

Why don't you try this reliable remedy?
