TIPPING OFF THE AUDIENCE.

After No One Could Say He Did Not Know What He Had to Expect.

When Representative James B. Aswell, of Natchitoches, La., was superintendent of schools for his state he made a tour of Arkansas for the purpose of persuading the Arkansians to submit to heavier local taxation for the benefit of the public schools. Mr. Aswell has never been a dub in the art of speaking, and on this trip he fairly burned up the countryside with his eloquence, inducing the rural populace to part with real money.

One night he was to face an audience far back in the country, in a neighborhood that had never been profaned by the screech of a locomotive or the soft rumbling of a spring wagon. At the appointed hour the farmer who was to introduce him stepped to the front of the platform, mopping his brow with a handkerchief and gasping for breath. He then spoke as follows, with all the labor necessary to overturn a house or uproot an oak:

"Ladies and gentlemen, you know I ain't used to makin' no speeches, I ain't never pretended to be no orator. Besides, it's a hot night, a powerful hot night, an' you wouldn't expect me nohow to wear you out with a long speech. But I'll now introduce a man who will."

WE DO NOT CARE.

We do not care what the world may say

If those whom we love are true;

We do not mind the toil of the day

If we know in the dusk and the dew

There waits some one who will welcome us

As we come home to rest—

Some friend who will say, "Dear heart, I know

That to-day you have done your best."

We do not mind if the thorns are sharp,

Or the pathway is rough and steep;

We do not mind if we plow and sow

For others to come and reap,

If we can but hear, when the twilight comes

And the red in the west grows gray,

Some dear voice whisper these words of cheer:

"You have fought a good fight to-day."

For the heart don't care what the world may say

If those whom it loves are true;

For 'twas ever and always the heart's own way

To long for the love and true.

You forget the gain, the loss and the pain

That tortures your pulsing breast,

If there's one who always in sweet blind faith

Can say: "You have done your best!"

LEISURELY LANE.

Is there no road now to Leisurely lane?—We traveled it long ago; A place for the lagging of leisurely steps, sweet and shady and low, With rims of resful hills beyond, and fields of dreamful wheat, With shadows of clouds above them blown, and poppies asleep at our feet?

There lads and maids on a Sunday met, and strolled them two by two, The leaves they wove in a roof overhead and only the sun peered through And there was time to gather a rose and time for the wild bird's call, And plenty of time to sit by a stream and hearken its ripple and fall.

Is there no road now to Leisurely lane? God knows we have wandered afar!

There was once a lamp through the brooding dusk, and over the tree a star,

There was once a breath of the clover bloom—sweet Heaven have we hurried so long!

And there was a gate by a white rose clasped and out of the dusk a song.

That song—the echo is strange and sweet, the voice it is weak and old, It has no part with this fierce wild rush, and this hard mad fight of gold! It has no part with the clamor and din, the jar of wheel and stone— O listen, my heart, and forget—forget that we reap the bread we have sown!

Is there no road now to Leisurely lane?—where, lingering, one by one, The summoning bells of twilight-time over the meadows blown May find us, strolling our homeward way, glad of the evening star. Is there no road to Leisurely lane?—God knows we have hurried afar.

AUNT JEMIMY'S MAXIMS.

By CALLIE RYLAND.

One way to save money is to len' a man one dollah when he axes you fuh two.

Why does widuhs allus marry ag'in? Maybe hits bekae dead men tells no tales.

A man whar thinks a gal is as pretty as a pictuah 'll change his tune when he begins to develop huh negative.

No mattuh how much Ambassaduh Page mout admiah de English, he ain't nevuh yet been as drunk as a lord.

De se'-conscious 'oman is de 'oman whar fuhgits to fuhgit huhse'f.

De ma'ied man 'lows dat his wife only calls him "huh treasure" when he is huh treasurer.

Ef'n you tell a gal she's a angel, she'll spee you to keep harpin' on dat subjec'.

You jes dunno what fine feluhns some men is twell dey tells you so.

Many a man has been called a muf jes bekae he knows how to git de strangle bolt on a gal's ban's.

Faint heart is all de fun fyah lady wants.

Ef'n we all was as free wid aid as we is wid ad-vice, dia heah would be a heap pleasantuh worl' to live in.

MAN SHOULD LIVE 100 YEARS.

"Don't Stop Work at 70, Do More of It," Says Authority.

London Correspondence of the New York Sun.

"Don't stop work at 70; do more of it," remarked Sir Gilbert Parker a few days ago, and Sir James Crichton-Browne, an acknowledged authority on longevity agrees with Sir Gilbert thoroughly.

"If you want a feeble and miserable old age, give up working," said Sir James, who, although born as long ago as 1840, is one of the busiest men in the kingdom today. "The most vigorous period of human life in its entirety is obviously between 25 and 40 years of age," he added, "but to say that men above the latter age are comparatively useless is to fly in the face of the biographical dictionary. Much of the best work of the world has been done by men over 40, and we should by no means stand where we are, but be back in the twilight ages, if bereft of what these men accomplished.

"Musical expression, like speech, reaches its acme in late middle life. But higher in the cerebral hierarchy than speech or music centres are others concerned in the manifestation of purely intellectual powers, such as reason and judgment, which come to perfection late, and may long preserve their integrity. A preponderance of the work involving calm and powerful reason is done by men from 55 to 70 years of age. Our judicial system in this country has been built up mainly by judges from 55 to 85 years of age, and in almost all countries the most momentous affairs of state have been reserved for the decision of men at this time of life.

"The way to make old age peevish and repulsive is to rob it of the hopes by which it is sustained and tranquilized. Depend on it, the best antiseptic against senile decay is an active interest in human affairs, and those keep young longest who love most. It is a cogent argument against celibacy and the limitation of families that they deprive old age of those vernal influences in which parents renew their youth.

"We are justified in holding that given favorable conditions and barring accidents, 100 years is the normal duration of man's life, the goal which we should hold in view and at which, if we guide our footsteps aright, an ever-increasing number of men and women should arrive."

Strengthens Weak and Tired Women

"I was under a great strain nursing a relative through three months' sickness," writes Mrs. J. C. Van De Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., and "Electric Bitters kept me from breaking down. I will never be without it." Do you feel tired and worn out? No appetite and food won't digest? It isn't the spring weather. You need Electric Bitters. Start a month's treatment today; nothing better for stomach, liver and kidneys. The great spring tonic. Relief for money back. 50c. and $1 at your druggist.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N. J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TRILLIE WATERS, 1135 Knight St., Camden, N. J.

And this one from Mrs. Haddock:

UTICA, OHLA.—"I was weak and nervous, not able to do my work and scarcely able to be on my feet. I had backache, headache, palpitation of the heart, trouble with my bowels, and inflammation. Since taking the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am better than I have been for twenty years. I think it is a wonderful medicine and I have recommended it to others."—Mrs. MARY ANN HADDOCK, Utica, Oklahoma.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

BIG MONUMENT.

"No, ma'am, I never recommend headache medicines that affect the heart action. It's easier to suffer temporarily with a burning head than it is to die with a bursting heart."

"But I can safely recommend this. Been using it for 15 years and never had a cure where it did the least harm."

"Oh, yes, it's pleasant to take, we serve it at our fountain and it is the most popular remedy we have for headache, Neuralgia, Backache and other aches that are superinduced by colds and stomach disorders."

"Which size bottle will you have?"

"Thank you, Callie."

Trustee's Sale of Land.

Under and by virtue of the power contained in a certain deed of trust from H. T. Townes to Jos. P. Pippen, Trustee, to secure a debt to Eugene Johnston, default having been made in the terms of said deed of trust, I will, on Saturday, April 25th, 1914, at 12 o'clock noon, in front of Eugene Johnston's store in the town of Littleton, N. C., expose to public sale to the highest bidder for cash a certain tract of land lying and being situated in the State of North Carolina, Halifax county, Littleton township, on which is situated a storehouse and residence of the said H. T. Townes, containing seven and one-half acres, more or less, being fully described in the aforesaid deed of trust recorded in Book 227 at page 67, Halifax county Registry, to which reference is made. At the same time and place and under the same terms, I will offer two bay mares, one open buggy, and one two-horse wagon and one bay horse.

This March 23rd, 1914. JOS. P. PIPPEN, Trustee.

NOTICE

Of Town Election for $20,000 Bonds.
