

No. SIX-SIXTY-SIX

This is a prescription prepared especially for malaria or chills and fever. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the fever will not return. 25c.—Adv.

Not Polly Ticks.

During a political campaign a candidate for the legislature was driving through the country seeking votes among the farmers when he met a young man in farmer's garb walking by the roadside. Having been informed by a prospective vote he stopped his horse, and saluting the farmer in a familiar manner inquired: "Are you passing any attention to political news days?" The young man stopped, looked at him suspiciously and drawled out: "No, stranger, but don't happen to be your name, but if it was I wouldn't think it was any of your darned business." This ended the interview as well as the prospect. —National Monthly.

ITCHING, BURNING EZEMA

R. P. D. No. 1, Box 15, Coopersville, N. C.—My baby has been with the same itchy and burning. It breaks out all over his head and face, neck and arms with little pimples. I did not know any in about four months. He cried and fretted all night and day for four months till his head and face were matted all over. He was distressed badly. His clothing would be difficult to remove at times. I tried two treatments with no success at all and I had almost decided there was no cure for it. I was told by a friend that Cuticura Soap and Ointment would cure it. I washed the child with Cuticura Soap and warm water two or three times a day, then anointed him all over with the Cuticura Ointment. He took a great change and slept night and day. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment six months and he was cured completely. (Signed) Mrs. Anna Lee, Mar. 24, 1914.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

F. A. Elliott, state forester of Oregon, says that cooperative fire patrol associations among lumbermen for prevention of forest fires have proved their worth.

How to Give Quinine to Children. FEBRUINE is the trade-mark name given to an Improved Quinine. It is a pleasant, palatable and safe and does not give the stomach trouble that it does not give to children. It is especially adapted to children who cannot take ordinary Quinine. Does not irritate the system or give the "chills." It is the best and most reliable of all quinine preparations. Ask for genuine original package. The name FEBRUINE is blown in bottle. 25 cents.

Not So Feeble.

I told Uncle Simon that he was getting too old and feeble to attend to business. "Did he take it kindly?" "He threw me out of the office."

Important to Mothers.

Examined carefully by experts at CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the signature of Dr. H. H. H. H. Children Cry for Fletcher's Castoria.

Have Something Better.

"Don't you suffer extremely from laminitis here?" asked the city visitor of a villager back in the swampy country.

Beauty Rules for Summer.

Avoid heavy and very rich makeup. Heft and distasteful hair is repellent, consisting chiefly of hair, cream, poultry, salads, dress and fruit essences made with milk, cream and eggs, and so on, mostly cold, though too many use should not be taken. They are responsible for the summer headache. Use food drinks should also be taken in moderation, and the refreshing lemonade or "fizz" made with light wines, look powders or soft light sprays are best. It is not so taken at all it should be infrequently.

HIT THE SPOT.

Postum Knocked Out Coffee Ails. There's a good deal of satisfaction and comfort in getting upon the right thing to eat and drink of the varied and constant ailments caused by coffee drinking.

Ever since I can remember.

Ever since I can remember, my father has been a lover of his coffee, but the continued use of it so affected his stomach that he could scarcely eat at times.

Mother had coffee-headache and dizziness.

Mother had coffee-headache and dizziness, and if I drank coffee for breakfast I would taste it all day and usually go to bed with a headache.

One day father brought home a pkg of Postum recommended by our grocer.

One day father brought home a pkg of Postum recommended by our grocer. Mother made it according to directions on the box and it just "hit the spot." It has a dark seal-brown color, changing to golden brown when cream is added, and a strong taste similar to mild, high-grade coffee, and we found that its continued use speedily put an end to all our coffee ills.

That was at least ten years ago.

That was at least ten years ago. I had a headache from that day to this, being a standing order of father's grocery bill.

When I married, my husband was a great coffee drinker.

When I married, my husband was a great coffee drinker, although he admitted that it hurt him. When I mentioned Postum he said he did not like the taste of it. I told him I could make it taste all right. He smiled and said, try it. The result was a success, he won't have anything but Postum.

PROMINENT PEOPLE

MADE A GOOD GUIDE

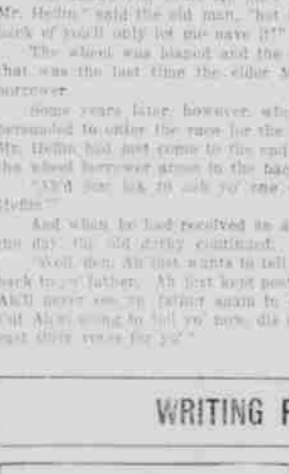

Representative J. Hamilton Moore who succeeded John D. Latham in the 11th congressional district, while holding from Philadelphia, where he was born in 1850. He was educated at the University of Pennsylvania and served in the army during the Civil War. He has been a member of the Pennsylvania legislature and has served as governor of the state.

"BREAD UPON THE WATERS"

Representative H. H. H. H. of Alabama is a great believer in the return of bread upon the waters, and in the fact that he has entered politics. It seems that about ten miles from the hills home a water mill of some sort was in progress and was attracting hundreds of negroes from all parts of the surrounding country. One of these who wished to attend the function and had driven many weary miles was unfortunate when he reached the vicinity of the mill residence. One of the wheels on the mill broke.

Ardenwiler, Walter H. Paun, speaking lately to the nation, doesn't seem to be of writing the day. From the standpoint of some prominent politicians, he said it is to be used by anyone to turn out to spend his life in a vain attempt to do good.

TURKISH ENVOY ADOPTS MOSLEM FAITH

Alfred Ruyter, Envoy Extraordinary to the United States, who has just succeeded to the post of Turkish ambassador in the United States is not a Turk. His father was a Swede and his mother was a Scotch woman, of an aristocratic British family. The ambassador has recently received widespread commendation in many Turkish newspapers because he, a short time ago, embraced the Moslem faith.

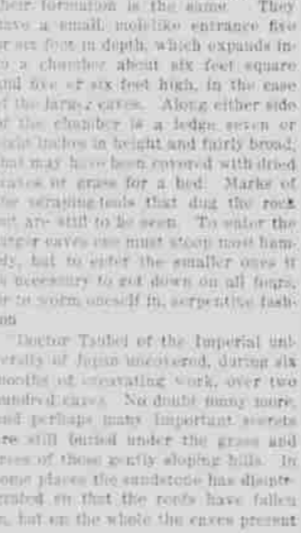

It is the custom, mark you, said the ambassador in Washington the other day. "I have so many good friends here that it is a great delight to serve my government in Washington."

CAVES ARE PUZZLE

Holes in Hills Near Tokyo Make Archaeologists Wonder.

Students Divided in Opinion—One Side Says They Were Homes of "Earth-Spiders," the Other Calls Them Beggars' Refuge.

The low hills around the village of Masayama, in the province of Settsu, Japan, but a few hours' journey from Tokyo, are honeycombed with curious small caves which puzzle the archaeologists. Students are divided into two camps in their conclusions about them. One side asserts that they are the actual habitations of the folk who are called "earth-spiders" or "earth-beggars," who were expelled from the country of the Ainos. The other side believes that they are refuges of beggars or itinerant peddlers of the region of the mountains.

Though the caves vary in size, their formation is the same. They have a small, circular entrance, five or six feet in diameter, which expands into a chamber about six feet square and five or six feet high. In the case of the larger caves, along either side of the chamber is a ledge, seven or eight inches in height and fairly broad, that may have been covered with dried kites or grass for a bed. Marks of the scraping tools that dug the rock out are still to be seen. To enter the caves one must stoop most humbly, but to enter the smaller ones it is necessary to get down on all fours, or to worm oneself in, serpentine fashion.

SHIP LINES EAGER FOR CANAL

Six Established Companies Ready to Make Regular Use of Panama Waterway. Washington—Six established steamship lines have served notice upon the Panama canal management of their intention to make regular use of the waterway. One vessel from the west coast ports of South America will be at the Pacific gate of the canal July 2, another to make her way to Liverpool that day, and a third to make her way to the east coast of South America.

Tango Contest Winner "Mussed Up"

New York—While admiring a cup he had just won in a "tango" contest, Gustave Kurtz was "mussed up" by several rivals, who thought the judges had made a poor decision.

Beta Roub Burglar.

Cold Spring, N. Y.—While leaving William Auerbach's garage with the collar, a burglar knocked over a live can of 500 lbs. When the burglar lit on his intruder dropped a bag containing $100 worth of valuables and fled.

World to Eat Less Meat.

New York—The city health department has warned all persons over forty to eat less meat, declaring it is largely to blame for the increased death rate in persons over that age.

SMILES

REPUBLICAN INGRATITUDE.

The interviewer—it was your father, wasn't it, who conducted the investigation that ended so favorably for the nation?

The interviewer—Yes. "And how did the government reward him?"

"With a medal!" "Let me see. Your uncle was the eminent engineer who built the English railway?"

"Yes." "And how did they recognize his services?"

"The English government gave him a $1000 pension and a title—Cleveland Plain Dealer."

Unsuspected Danger. "Seems to me," observed Mr. Skiffles, "that girls today are reading altogether too much of this here sex literature."

Owner Not Superstitious. "Will you look over this deed of my property?" asked the man entering the lawyer's office.

"What?" "On Friday?" replied the superstitious lawyer.

"Sure, the better the day, the better the deed."

IN EVIDENCE.

"I suppose you will observe the Fourth of July."

"Observe it?" Of course, I will. "I don't expect to be able to notice anything else."

The Summer Bores. "I'm sure with you here the man who thinks the party is to be held on the 15th will be in a bad way."

Very Much So. "Why don't you hold your hat in your hand when you address ladies on the street?"

"Because, as you may notice, I easily take cold, as I have very little hair."

Pity for It. Cassidy—(Always are you going to hit me with a stick?)

"You are going to ask old man Phlogiston for his daughter's hand."

"Cassidy—The devil. It seems a pity to run a new suit that way—Punch."

High Resolve. "So you have resolved to follow the example of George Washington, eh, my lad?"

"No, sir, in marrying a rich widow."

A Gentleman Farmer. "I don't like to see the pigs crowded. The single feed box makes for bad manners and the little pigs get crowded out."

Our Sapient Servants. Caller—Is your mistress in?"

Caller—Is your mistress in the window as you came up the walk, ma'am?"

Caller—No. "Well, she said if you hadn't seen her to say that she was out."

His Line. "That astronomer ought not to have made such a fuss about his fall down our stairway."

"He says he hurt himself." "Perhaps he did, but think of all the stars he must have seen."

A Call Down. "No," said the young orator, with a fervid shout, "I make it my boast that I wear no man's collar."

"Then," muttered his roommate, "what are you always borrowing mine for?"

The Difference. "In China the parties desiring a divorce break a chopstick in the presence of witnesses," said Mrs. Gabb.

"And in this country they break a broomstick in the absence of witnesses," returned Mr. Gabb—Cincinnati Enquirer.

POSTPONED.

Stockton Honda—Didn't you say that your aunt was to be buried today?

Office Day—She was, but on account of wet grounds the funeral won't take place till tomorrow.

Horrible Confession.

Although the snobs in their class make up a way and a half for the day, they don't seem to be any more in the kitchen now.

Plan That Failed. Rosemary—Marcello thought she would save money by doing her own shopping.

Thornton—Did the scheme work out?"

Rosemary—Not exactly. She saved money on what she bought, all right; but she spent six dollars for taxicab fare.

Brain Fog. "They say Solomon was the wisest man," said the new clerk in the drug store.

"Oh, no. But I can't find anything that doesn't lead me to the meaning of an abbreviated Latin prescription to the contents of the latest fancy drink at a soda fountain."

"Safety First." The suburban car was waiting at a turnout for the car going in the opposite direction to come along. "It's shameful," complained an impatient woman passenger, "to have to be stopped here like this."

"Well, ma'am," said the conductor calmly, "if you want to finish your trip in an ambulance, we can go on and collide with the other car."—Boston Transcript.

Chinese Wisdom. "We were going to marry our daughter to Li when we learned that he was spending all his money at that rascal Wang's, the man who runs the gambling house."

"What did you do then?" "We married her to Wang"—Le Litt.

Not Sure. "Which do you admire more?" inquired the young belle, "black eyes or blue?"

"Well, really," replied the young fellow slowly, "the light is so dim here I can't say just now."—National Monthly.

Its Ill Luck. "I wouldn't like to go into the wall paper business," "Why not?"

"Because a fellow in it is always up against it."

WIFELY SARCASTIC.

Hubby—Shall I get the children drowsy for the Fourth?"

Wife—Yes. If you think the children will enjoy them so much as you will.

Not That Sort of a Wife. "There goes that Mrs. Gadabout. Do you know, I've heard that her poor husband is absolutely tied to her apron strings."

"Nonsense." I don't believe she's had an apron since they've been married"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Real Salesmanship. Lady—I'm afraid one foot is bigger than the other.

Shopman—On the contrary, madam, one is perhaps smaller than the other.—London Opinion.

New Schedule. The railway train had just put to a pause playing-machine.

"Are you running on eastern or central time?" asked a passenger.

"Neither," replied the conductor, wearily, "rag time."

RUB-MY-TISM

BEST REMEDIES FOR SORES AND ULCERS

Dr. C. A. Butler, of Salem, Va., writes: "I can safely say that Hancock's Sulphur Compound is the best remedy I ever used for sores. One of my little boys, eight years old, had a sore all over his face, we tried different kinds of medicine, but none seemed to do any good. Our son, fifteen years old, had a sore on his leg for three months and nothing did him good. We used Hancock's Sulphur Compound on both and it did it work quickly and it was not over a week until both were well."
