A FATHER'S LOVE.

What a Sweet Remembrance for That Child

A little incident, which beautifully illustrated the word of David, spoken so long ago, came under my notice recently. It so impressed and comforted me that I want to pass it on.

We were seated round the tea table in my friend's pleasant home, when it seems the little daughter reached to help herself with undue haste. Her father reproved her, and it must have been gently, for there was not any interruption in the cheerful conversation. But a lady seated by the child's side told me afterward that Janie's eyes filled with tears, and she slipped quietly away from the table. But I did not notice Mr. H— excusing himself and also leaving the room.

Immediately after I had occasion to visit the adjoining sitting room, where I found the little one nestled in her father's strong arms, the tears still falling from her blue eyes, but looking up trustfully into the brown eyes bent over hers and glistening with sympathy, while the voice tender and manly, was saying: "There, there, darling; papa wouldn't hurt his little pet's feelings or spoil her supper if he could help it. See, papa could not eat any more when he knew you were feeling so badly. Now, sweetheart, let us go and see if there is anything left for us. Mother will attend to us herself."

For sometime they talked softly; then I heard a little ripple of laughter and they went to finish their meal, her hand clasped in her father's.

But I had my lesson. What a sweet remembrance for that child. Thank God for our Christian fathers, and while the tears dropped down my cheeks, I cried silently, "Does God love me so?" And the answer came and stayed, "Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him."—Christian Guardian.

HOW THE HORSE WON.

A few days after the new farmer had purchased a horse from a thrifty Scot he returned in angry mood.

"You told me this horse had won half a dozen matches in the country. He can't trot a mile in six minutes to save himself. You lied to me," he denounced.

"I didn't lie. It was in plowing matches he took six prizes," calmly replied Sandy.—Chicago Herald.

REMEDY FOR THE CAT.

"Doctor," said he, "I'm a victim of insomnia. I can't sleep if there's the least noise, such as a cat on the back fence, for instance."

"This powder will be effective," replied the physician, after compounding a prescription.

"When do I take it, doctor?"

"You don't take it. You give it to the cat in a little milk."—Columbia State.

ASHES OF ROSES.

GEORGE WEST DIEHL.

Ashes of roses all my own—
The ashes are here, the flower is flown,
The fragrance lingers as fragrance will,
And memories rise that are never still,
But over my heart with untold pain
They sweep to awaken chords again—
Chords forever mute.

Ashes of roses, rich red roses,
Thy gray dust in thy bosom reposes—
Reposes here where thy beauty was shed,
Reposes here now so silent and dead.
The flower was mine, but ashes gray
Cover the altar whereon they lay
In my breast.

Ashes of roses! Ashes of roses!
How undisturbed their repose is.
Though they be hid from mortal sight,
Yet oft in sweet visions of night,
The ashes are gone, the flower appears;
When morning breaks, I see through tears
Ashes of roses.

WORTH WHILE.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

It is easy enough to be pleasant,
When life flows by like a song,
But the man worth while is one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.

For the rest of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with the years,
And the smile that is worth the praises of earth
Is the smile that shines through tears.

It is easy enough to be prudent,
When nothing tempts you to stray,
When without or within no voice of sin,
Is luring your soul away;
But it's only a negative virtue,
Until it is tried by fire
And the life that is worth the honor on earth,
Is the one that resists desire.

By the cynic, the sad, the fallen,
Who had no strength for the strife
The world's highway is cumbered today
They make up the sum of life,
But the virtue that conquers passion,
And the sorrow that hides in a smile,
It is these that are worth the homage of earth
For we find them but once in a while.

KNOW ALL ABOUT COURT.

The conversation in the lobby of a Washington hotel the other night turned to eye colored citizen, when Congressman Thomas U. Sisson, of Mississippi, was reminded of an incident that happened in the life of Uncle Rastus.

Some time ago Uncle Rastus made the mistake of rambling around too long in the moonlight and on the following day he was arrested and brought into court on a charge of having appropriated a handful of fowls from a neighboring chicken roost.

"Just take the stand a minute, Uncle Rastus," severely observed the Judge. "I want to ask you a question."

"Yessah, Judge! Yessah!" responded Uncle Rastus, obediently shuffling forward.

"I want to impress on your mind, said the Judge, "that you are in a court of law. Do you fully realize what a court is?"

"Yessah, Judge! Yessah!" replied Uncle Rastus with an air of assurance. "A co't am a place where dey dispenses wid justice."

TO-DAY.
Today May be The Only Day You Have

William Johnston, writing some very sound advice in the American Magazine, says:

"Good days and bad days exist only in your own head. The weather has nothing to do with it. Each day is what you make it for yourself. Bad weather is only an unfortunate opinion."

"Suppose it is raining pitchforks. You get word that your salary has been doubled or that a forgotten uncle has left you a million dollars. What do you care about the weather then? Or suppose the person you love is dying. Unexpectedly a turn for the better comes. The doctor says your dear one will live. What if it is honer than Tophet. It is a hot day, a great day, a happy day."

"It's what you think and feel about it that makes each day what it is. You, within yourself, can make each day, every day, a good day. Put down in the note book of your soul the poet Runeberg's thought:

"Each day is a life."
"When you get up in the morning throw back your shoulders, take a deep breath. Meet the new day like a man. Say to yourself: "Another day—another life!"

"For all we know it may be the only day we'll ever have. Let's make it the best day we can. Let's strive to see that it is a day worth while. Let's move a step forward in our work. Let's do all the good we can. Let's get all the happiness we can—today."

"Right now is the only time we can control. Yesterday is a record. Tomorrow is a secret. Today is yours, is mine."—Ex.

In Which The Tramp Taught Mr. Smith a Lesson

The talk turned to the professional beggar the other night, and B. B. Comer, of Alabama, told of an incident that happened in a Metropolitan city.

A party named Smith was going down the street one afternoon Mr. Comer said, when he was approached by a beggar who looked like a cross between a ton of misery and a comic valentine.

"Excuse me, sir," plaintively said the beggar, "couldn't you give me the price of a small sandwich? I haven't tasted food for two days."

Smith, feeling sorry for the poor specimen, gave him a nickel and went on down the street. Suddenly he remembered that he had passed a place where he wanted to stop, and turned back. He was just in time to see the beggar coming out of a saloon.

"Look here, you gink!" heatedly cried Smith. You told me you hadn't tasted food for two days, and yet you took the money I gave you to buy beer!"

"Yes, sir," was the calm rejoinder of the beggar, "but I hadn't tasted beer for two and a half days."—Philadelphia Ledger.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her try it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A Delightful Profession for Young Women

There is no occupation for a young woman that is more pleasant or congenial, more suited to her ability and nature, none that can give her more personal satisfaction, and if she be a thoroughly trained professional none that offers bigger rewards than that of music teaching. The supply of competent teachers of piano music is far short of the demand.

Has your daughter ever given this matter a thought; have you ever spoken to her about (some day becoming a teacher of music?) if so—buy her a

Winter or Hairy Vetch.

Winter or Hairy Vetches are increasing in popularity wherever grown, and are proving to be one of the most valuable crops for Fall planting. They not only make a large yield of the most nutritious hay—some of our customers reporting as high as three tons per acre—but they improve the condition and productivity of the land for crops to follow, as much as any crop that can be sown, not even excepting crimson clover and cow peas.

Wood's Descriptive Fall Catalog contains full information in regard to Winter or Hairy Vetch, Crimson Clover, Alfalfa, and all Farm and Garden Seeds for Fall planting. Write for Catalog and prices of any seeds desired.
