MOTHER'S DAY.

How Seldom We Remember Mother on Her Birthday.

I know something about a certain little boy that ought to be told from one end of the earth to the other. This little boy, eleven years old, was celebrating his birthday. A thought struck him. He went into his little savings bank and found his hoard to consist of ten or fifteen cents. He took all his savings to the nearest store and bought a present for his mother. That was a good many years ago, but that little boy's mother hasn't forgotten that little present yet. And she never will.

I think the birthday gift of that little boy is one of the most beautifully suggestive acts I ever heard of. All of us receive presents or greetings of some sort on our birthdays. How seldom do we remember the mother on these birthdays. And oh, how much that birthday meant to her. Think of the long months of waiting and watching and suffering; think of the crucial pain and agony, down there in the valley of the shadow, heroically grappling with death itself that the end of Life might be fulfilled!

Wouldn't it be a beautiful idea for all the world to take hold of that idea of giving mother a present on her birthday! What a fine thing it would be for every man to make his birthday the occasion of a tender letter of love and devotion to his mother! And for every woman! There would be millions of happier mothers in this world, and anything that will bring happiness to any one in this world is well worth trying. Let's make every birthday a Mother's Day.—Elizabeth City Independent.

SWEETEST OF MEMORY'S BELLS.

FRANK L. STANTON.

Wild is the way through the woodland; but there are the sweet fields of clover.
The sighing sad pines, and the jessamine vines, and the rill that leaps laughingly over;
The lilies that rim it—the cities that dim it—and there winding winsomely sweet,
Is the path that still leads to the old home through rivery ripples of wheat.

And hark! 'tis the song of the reapers, and I know by the jubilant ringing
There is gold in the gleam of the harvest and love in the hearts that are singing!
And still as of old to the ether its music mellifluous swells,
And the wind that sighs westward is swaying the sweetest of Memory's bells.

Let me pass through the wheat and the clover, O men and rose-maidens, who reap!
I, who come from the sound of the cities, like a child to its mother would creep;
For through long years of tears and of toiling, like the harbor-bells over the foam
Your voices far winging and ringing were singing me—singing me home!

And here, from the pain and the pleasure—from the sorrow and sighing, I flee
As the birds when the storm winds are blowing, as the ships seek the haven from sea;
And I fancy the violets know me in gardens of beauty and bliss;
And do not the red roses owe me the peace of the prodigal's kiss?

The sun is still bright at the portal, there the love-light all radiant shines;
Heart! Heart! there's a face we remember in the tangle and bloom of the vines!
Far off the glad reapers are singing—far off in the rivery wheat,
And the arms of a mother are clinging, and the kiss of a mother is sweet!

PRAYED AT CABINET MEETING.

Bishop Anderson Says the President Offered the Petition.

How President Wilson went down on his knees and led his Cabinet in prayer at a recent meeting was told recently by Bishop William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, at a session of the Indiana Methodist Conference. A United States Senator told the Bishop of the incident. The Senator had heard it from one of the Cabinet members who had prayed with the President.

"When the President arrived at the Cabinet meeting," said Bishop Anderson, "his face wore a solemn look. It was evident that serious affairs of the Nation were on his mind. He said to the Cabinet members: 'I don't know whether you men believe in prayer or not. I do. Let us pray and ask the help of God.'"

"And right there the President of the United States fell upon his knees, and the members of the Cabinet did the same, and the President offered a prayer to God. While the war rages in Europe we in this country should thank God that in this crisis of the world we have a Chief Executive who is a servant of God who stands with his hand in the hand of God. Every minister in the land should every time he offers a prayer take Woodrow Wilson by the hand and lead him into the presence of God, and ask that he be given strength to continue to be the great apostle of peace among men."

There was a chorus of Amens from the ministers. Later a telegram expressing the confidence of the delegates in him was sent to the President.—Indianapolis Dispatch.

In trying to get up in the world some men use their friends as step-ladders.

The man who has money to burn seldom uses any of it to help enlighten the world.

And lots of people are too slow to make fast friends.

For Indigestion.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my household and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 649 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.
