LUXURIES IN YOUTH AND AGE.

To Provide for the Latter, Some Self-Denial Must Be Practiced In Early Years.

One day a young man twenty-five years of age told me he had just fallen heir to $2,500. He was going to spend the whole sum in pure luxury. He said that $2,500 was not much money any way, and that he might as well have a good time with it—even though the good time lasted only a little while.

When I told him in a general way that he ought to save that money I made no impression on him. But when I explained to him how $2,500 invested at 6 per cent. and compounded annually, would double in twelve years he began to wake up. At thirty-seven he would have $5,000, at forty-nine $10,000, and at sixty-one $20,000. The $20,000 at sixty-one would be yielding him $1,200 a year—a little more than his present salary.

I told him that when he is sixty-one and has that $20,000 maybe somebody else will give him $2,500, and if so to go out and spend it if he wants to. Money spent at sixty-one by a man of some means is not like money spent at twenty-five by a young man of no means. The man at sixty-one has comparatively little chance left for his pile to grow. In fact, by sixty-one he is supposed to have his pile.

Always when contemplating luxuries consider how old you are before buying. The price of luxuries is much higher in early life than later. It is very high in youth. If you want some comforts and a few luxuries in old age control yourself in the earlier years. Get the foundation of your capital laid early, so that it will have time to build itself from small beginnings into a substantial amount—say at sixty—American Magazine.

COULD USE SHOVEL.

There was a sudden rush of work, and the foreman was short of laborers.

Going out into the road, he found a muscular-looking tramp loafing at the corner. Here was a possible recruit.

"My man," said he genially, "are you wanting work?"

"What sort of work?" asked the tramp cautiously.

"Well, can you do anything with a shovel?"

The tramp suddenly beamed at the speaker.

"I could fry a slice of bacon on it!" he said eagerly.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

TOO REALISTIC.

Willie finally persuaded his aunt to play train with him. The chairs were arranged in line, and he issued orders.

"Now you be the engineer and I'll be the conductor. Lend me your watch and get up into the cab."

Then he hurried down the platform, tinpiece in hand.

"Pull out there, you red-headed pie-faced jay," he shouted.

"Why, Willie!" his aunt exclaimed in amazement.

"That's right. Chew the rag," he retorted; "pull out. We're five minutes late already."

Willie's parents had to forbid his playing down by the tracks.—Holland's Magazine.

MATTER OF OPINION.

"Mary!" Father's voice rolled down the stairs and into the dim and silent parlor.

"Yes, papa, dear."

"Ask that young man if he has the time."

A moment of silence.

"Yes, George has his watch with him."

"Then please ask him what is the time."

"He says it is 11:48, papa."

"Then ask him if he doesn't think it about bedtime."

Another moment of silence.

"He says, papa," the silvery voice announced impersonally, "he says that he rarely goes to bed before one, but it seems to him that is a matter of personal preference merely, and that if he were in your place he would go now if he felt sleepy."—Harper's Bazaar.

Temptation never fails to come to those who wait.

THE OLD RELIABLE
ROYAL
BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure
No ALUM—No PHOSPHATE

OLD MAN AND AN OLD WOMAN.

BY MARGARET STEELE ANDERSON.

"AT EVENTIME IT SHALL BE LIGHT."

We are too tired to work—put up the tools;
Too tired for music—let the old violin rest!
Once, for such idleness, we had been fools,
Now it is wisdom—now 'tis only best!

Give us a little spot—out there in th' sun;
A corner, where the fire is warm and bright;
A bit of bread and broth—and we are done,
And ready for our journey in the night.

No, no, we do not miss the labor now;
'Tis strange, perhaps, but all the music's naught;
We do not feel the snow that's on the brow,
The trembling hand brings not a trembling thought.

We like the little quiet, sunny spot;
We chat and doze, we sometimes doze and dream;
The fireside's—we never get too hot—
And very good our bread and lentils seem!

And—no—we do not dread the trip to come;
One will go first and see it—how it is,
Then wait near by, to call the other home,
And lead along the darker passages!

"BUT WHAT SAYEST THOU?"

We have saved the soul of the man that killed,
We have turned to shrieve the thief;
We restored the pride of the man that lied;
And we gave him our belief.

But for her that fell we have fashioned hell
With a faith all stern and just—
It was so of old; and no man has told
What our Lord wrote in the dust.

We have sighed betimes of our brothers crimes
And have bade them be of cheer,
For the flesh is weak, and the soul grown meek
May yet read its tide clear.

But we draw away from the one astray
As the truly righteous must.
She is cursed, indeed!—and we did not read
What our Lord wrote in the dust.

For the men who thieved, and who killed, and lied—
Who have slain the woman's soul—
We have worked, and prayed, and have seen them made
All clean and all pure and all whole.

But we drive her out with a righteous shout
In our Paraisa trust.
So the man goes free—but we did not see
What our Lord wrote in the dust.

AUNT JEMIMY'S MAXIMS.
By Cally Ryland.

His a mighty good rule to keep sobuh when money is tight.

Hit sho is hard to recommembuh dat de man whar was a hero yesterday is a hero today.

Naw, chile, de 'oman whar is studyin' law ain't fixin' to be no nothuh-in-law.

A automobile is a horseless ca'lage, a ole maid is a manless 'oman en a smile is a noisicless laugh.

Hit ain't well to wait twell you is broke befo' you begin to mend yo' ways.

De rose may withuh—but de thorn stays on.

Dar ain't no more reason why a 'oman should tell de trufe 'bout huh age den a man should tell de trufe 'bout his taxes.

De reason why folks talks so much en says so little is becase dey's got little to say.

De man whar dunno his own weakness kin always depen' on his wife to pint out to him.

'Bout de time a girl gits to huh twenty-five' bithday you cyarn fin' a Bible in the house.

People who are always saying "Listen!" never have anything of importance to say.

Opinions and visits should not be forced upon people.

REAL GREATNESS.

Service Is the Measure of Greatness.

Christ has given us a measure of greatness which eliminates conflicts. When his disciples disputed among themselves as to which should be greatest in the kingdom of heaven, He rebuked them and said: "Let him who would be chiefest among you be the servant of all." Service is the measure of greatness; it always has been true, it is true today, and it always will be true; that he is greatest who does the most of good. And yet, what a revolution it will work in this old world when this standard becomes the standard of every life. Nearly all of our controversies and combats arise from the fact that we are trying to get something from each other. Our enmities and animosities arise from our efforts to get as much as possible out of the world. Society will have taken an immeasurable step toward peace when it estimates a citizen by his output rather than by his income and gives the crown of its approval to the one who makes the largest contribution to the welfare of all.—Extract from W. J. Bryan's lecture, "The Prince of Peace."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA CURE FOR ALL MALADIES.

Right Living Will Aid the Individual, as Well as Put an End to All National Disorders.

A correspondent asks Dr. Evans, the noted hygienist, several questions categorically, eight of them, he adds, "Yes, right living." That is the best remedy of all.

But, then, it not only cures bodily ills but moral and mental ones as well, and not only individual ills, but social and national distempers, too. Right living is the cure for all maladies of body, community, race. In fact, there is no other reliable cure. We may get some temporary benefit from this medicine and that, the last remedy is right living, and this includes not only right food, pure air and water, proper exercise and necessary sleep; but it includes states of mind and heart, of disposition, habit, and the kindly phases of life.

Health is harmony with the beautiful world, with its flowers, its birds, its stars, its streams, its trees, and everything that has a language and a song. A morbid, cross, quarrelsome disposition contributes to sickness in some form. It will attack the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the nerves and put a malady in them.—Ohio State Journal.

Men who mean no harm are not necessarily harmless.

Give a busy man a circus pass and he will find time to use it.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes new childrens there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MENDLESON'S LYE

Its full strength cuts grease in a jiffy from sinks and pans and makes it ideal for disinfecting poultry houses and curing cholera in hogs.

Its purity and strength make it the best Lye to use, while the extra quantity your money will buy, makes it the cheapest. Twenty ounces of Solid Lye for a Dime instead of Sixteen.

One ten cent can enough to saponify eight pounds of grease, making more soap than any other 10c can of lye on the market will make.

The pound can makes fifteen pounds of soap.

Three Forms—solid, granulated and ball Two sizes—10c. and 5c.
