MAN'S AFFINITY WITH BONDAGE.

The sight of the fields and forests in springtime should be sufficient to spur us on to fresh effort and inspire us with high ideals. But in human beings there is a natural tendency to shut out the life force.

Mankind has an inborn affinity with bondage. There is the bondage of race thought, the bondage of fear. The story is told of an old Scotchman who prayed, "Lord, grant that I may be always right. For Thou knowest, Lord, that I am mighty hard to turn."

So, while the "golden candlesticks" are opening to the sunshine and the world is made new, humanity is treading its weary way, and, as the school boys used to "declaim" on Friday afternoons, "The bright sun, runs its course and sets upon a race of slaves."—Annie Sherrill Baird, in "Southern Woman's."

Should Sloan's Lintment Go Along?

Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Lintment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as go on a vacation or camp out without Sloan's Lintment." Writes one vacationist. "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets.

Just think of the time you waste in talking when you have nothing to say.

THE ROYAL WAY.

Dear laughing eyes, I will not pray that God shall never send you tears; That cloudless sunshine, day by day, shall brighten all your coming years.

I pray that still through cloud and rain your inner depths may hold their light, And under happiness or pain you find the Father's meaning bright, Reading in all life's mingled good your title of high womanhood.

Dear girlish hands, I will not choose the softest, damnest tasks for you; God send you strength to give and use, God send His work for you to do.

The sacred ministry to need, the round of household toil and care, The banding up of hearts that bleed, the gridding up of hearts that dare, The labor of love's law made good in royal years of womanhood.

Dear dancing feet, I would not make your path all smooth from thorn and briar; the climbing road be yours to take, The thorniest, splendid struggle higher, God give you still life's springing zest.

Never content with what is past; God grant you through earth's wearied days to walk undaunted to the last, Climbing the steep of hard-won good to heaven's height of womanhood.

PRAYER OF THE FARM WOMAN.

Oh, God, give me patience! But give me patience and insight, too, that mine may not be the unseeing patience of the dumb animal that makes a treadmill of its days. Give me sweetness of heart, and strength, and loyalty, and increase my sense of service, that I may realize the value of that which I do daily for the sake of others. Keep alive in me that sharpness of vision which makes me thrill to the early song of the birds, the noon light on the great green fields, the dusky blue peace of twilight.

Keep ever in my soul a sense of the perspective, that my ketles and dish-cloth may not obscure the beauty of the rose blooming outside my door, the quiver of the leaves in the summer wind, and the classic purity of the snow, on the vales and hills. Let me be keenly sensitive to all tender and beautiful thoughts, all uplifting ideals, all soul-broadening day dreams. Make me perceive the beauty of this, Thy world, and grant me ever-deepening perception of the best in every man, woman and child with whom I come in contact. Help me to live each day bravely, simply, justly—and at night give me the healing benediction of that sweet dreamless sleep that follows a well-spent day. Amen.—Elizabeth Burgess Hughes.

WOULD BE REGRETFUL.

A married couple were touring in Sicily. At a distance from one of the large towns, the wife said: "Think, Albert, if the brigands should come now and take me from you?" "Impossible, my dear!" "But supposing they did come and carry me away, what would you say?" "I should say," replied her husband, "that the brigands were new at the business—that's all.—Pittsburg Telegraph.

THE TWO DIMENSIONS.

The temporary pulpit orator had preached a long sermon. Even he realized that he had exceeded the modern limit of sermons, and he said to the gentleman to whose home he went for Sunday dinner: "I hope I did not worry you by the length of my sermon." "Not at all," said the gentleman, "nor by its depth."—New York Times.

"GREATER THAN FIRE LOSS"

By FRANK H. H. HENGE, Kansas State Agricultural College. Lack of paint causes a greater annual loss through deterioration than the aggregate Kansas fire loss for 30 months. Yes, there is a real reason for a real "Paint Job" and Paint Co. compares the average loss from rust and fire damage. Paint, as you have been told, serves to protect the more valuable things of life. Its principal value lies in the fact that it protects the life of the surfaces painted. Wood and iron are exposed to the air and undergo a slow process of oxidation, which just as surely destroys them as though they were in an open fire. The difference between the speed at which the oxidation occurs. We take out insurance to cover loss by fire and should just as surely insure against rust and decay. It takes very little money to protect the approximately $100,000,000 worth of the best through lack of painting is applied to 1,000,000,000 of the best by the.

Why Endure Summer Colds?

It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsam opens the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a rough and cold insurance.

Be sure you are right—but don't be too sure everybody else is wrong.

Look Good—Feel Good.

No one can either feel good nor look good while suffering from constipation. Get rid of that tired, draggy, lifeless feeling by a treatment of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted for over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Obtainable everywhere.

An office holder should save some money—but not enough to start an investigation.
