LEARNING TO EAT THINGS.

Why Is It That So Many People Like Corn Bread?

We are all more or less creatures of habit. This applies to our diet as much as to us in any other way. We eat mainly what we were taught to eat. We like what we have learned to like.

A certain woman remarked that she expected to teach her children to like and eat something of everything set before them and she came very near doing that. It is much better to eat some of anything placed on the table. Sometimes it is embarrassing to all concerned for one not to be able to eat this, that or the other.

Why is it that so many of the old people like corn bread as well or better than biscuit? It is because a long time ago very little flour was used in this section and they learned to use corn bread almost exclusively. Why is it that so many people in the coast country of North and South Carolina and Georgia like rice? Because formerly it was grown in the lowlands of these sections and the people learned to like it. In these sections people eat also grits or hominy extensively because before the days of steam mills the small water mills on the little branches could not grind corn into fine meal and the people learned to eat part of it in hominy instead of bread. Of course there are exceptions to the rule, but usually people can learn to eat and enjoy what is prepared if an effort is made to do so.

Biliousness and Stomach Trouble.
"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbyke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly. Obtainable everywhere."

Colored People Delighted With New Discovery To Bleach the Skin

Atlanta, Ga.—Says that recent tests have proven without doubt that swarthy or sallow complexions can be made light by a new treatment recently discovered by a man in Atlanta. Just ask your druggist for Cocotone Skin Whitener. People who have used it are amazed at its wonderful effect. Rid your face of that awful dark color or greasy appearance in a few minutes. It costs so little that you can't afford to be without it. Just think how much prettier you would look with that old dark skin gone and new soft, light skin in its place. Men and women today must care for their complexions to enter society. If your druggist will not supply you with Cocotone Skin Whitener send 25c. for a large package to Cocotone Co., Atlanta, Ga.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Quinn's Experience Ought to Help You Over the Critical Period.

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headaches or pain. I must say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy any sick woman can take."
—Mrs. MARGARET QUINN, Rear 259 Worthen St., Lowell, Mass.

Other warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness.

If you need special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Solely Proprietors), Lynn, Mass.

A MOTHER'S SONG.

God gave me you!
He took a bit of heaven's deepest blue
To tint your eyes;
He touched your hair with sunlight's deathless gold;
And all the roses that your hands could hold
(Pink roses sweet with early morning dew)
He wove into your face, your dimpled hands,
And then He laughed, for, oh, God understands
He gave me—you!

When you are grown, what will your future be?
If I could only keep you safe with me,
If I could only ever hold you pressed
Against my breast!
And yet the world, though it be hard and gray,
Will brighten if you smile along the way.
(When you were born God's messenger passed through
The silent room, and left a smile for you!)
I hold you close: I sing a bit, and pray;
For me each God-sent dawn brings Mother's Day!
—Margaret E. Sangster, Jr., in the Christian Herald.

BELIEVE IN GOOD SIGNS.

I will give you a plan—it is one of my own—
For making life more delightful:
When another is praised for the skill he has shown
I don't become jealous or spiteful;
I try to proceed as I know that I should
In making each moment a glad one,
And I always believe in the signs that are good,
But I never believe in a bad one.

I am glad when the weather is fair; when it's wet
I prefer the rainy condition;
In each disagreement I hasten to get
A glimpse from the other's position.
I can't sing at all, but my song, if I could,
Should not be a solemn or sad one,
And I always believe in the signs that are good,
But I never believe in a bad one.

So I'll give you the plan—it is one I have tried—
For making the world more cheerful;
Remember the gossip has probably lied
When he stopped you to give you an earful;
If you haven't won out as you think that you should
Still act as you would if you had won.
And always believe in the signs that are good,
But never believe in a bad one.

LINCOLN'S WIT.

Lincoln was far from being a mere punster, yet occasions could bring from him a play on words, usually with a real laugh in it.

A New York firm, while he was practicing law in Springfield, wrote asking him for the facts as to the financial standing of a neighbor. He replied as commendably as he could: "I am well acquainted with him, and know his circumstances. First of all he has a wife and baby; they ought to be worth $50,000 to any man. Secondly, he has an office in which there are chairs worth, say, $1, and a table worth $1.50. Last of all, there is in one corner a rat hole, which is worth looking into."

Respectfully,
A. LINCOLN."

SOLEFUL

It was a very high-class boarding house and the landlady prided herself on the fact that the conversation at table was always very intellectual.

"It was a strange theory," she remarked, as she wrestled with the dead entered birds and animals. "But I think our ancestors held that belief."

"I'm rather inclined to think something like that does happen," commented the quiet man.

"No, really, Mr. Cutting? How interesting!"

"Yes," said Mr. Cutting. "I'm convinced that this chicken, for instance, is inhabited by the sole of a shoe!"

WHY IS IT?

"That a legless man can 'put his foot in it?'"

That persons who are "consumed by curiosity" still survive?

That frequently a sinking fund is used to meet a floating debt?

That straining the voice is not the proper way to make it clearer?

That we speak of a stream running dry when the only way it can run is wet?

That wives should expect their husbands to foot the bills without kicking?

That we talk of some one "going straight to the devil" when he has to be crooked to go there?

LIKE SOME OTHERS.

Mrs. Housefly—"I warned that daughter of mine to be aware of the men, and now she's gone and got mashed on that old baldhead."—Boston Transcript.

WORSE TO COME.

Friend—Is it true that your wife has left you, Enpeck?

Enpeck—Yes, and that isn't the worst of my trouble.

Friend—Why, what could be worse?

Enpeck—Oh, she may come back.—Life.

DANGER IN MODERN FADS.

Minister Warns of Signs of the Times—Effects of Great War.

That there was a dangerous tendency toward demoralization at the present time was the fear expressed by Rev. Benjamin Stern, pastor of Emanuel Reformed church, in an address at the weekly meeting of the Reformed ministers. One of the most dangerous signs of the times he said, was the departure from faith of theologians and occupants of Christian pulpits, who were so much inflated with their own culture as to open controversies upon the very word of God.

Another readiness on the part of many who seem to be religious to swallow the latest fads and isms in the way of dogma. The mad race for pleasure at the present time was another sign of demoralization, he said. Every one seemed to be bent upon his or her own enjoyment for which the playhouse and the movie had an important part in the day's plan. "Why," said the speaker, "the movies are crowded to the doors, especially by the women. The other day I heard of a woman who, being told she could not survive a spell of sickness, deplored that she had to give up the movies."

The great conflict in Europe, the speaker said, was a very ominous sign of the times. On this subject, he said, no one, no matter how extensive his knowledge, could foresee the end. It looked from the way the interest of the war had centered about the Balkans that the prophecy of the revived Roman Empire would be revived.

"It is reasonable to suppose," said Mr. Stern, "that some great development will accrue from the reported disagreements of the allied powers about Saloniki." The speaker said that it looked as if the peace of Europe would only be brought about by pressure without.

"It may be," he said, "that the map of Europe may be another great United States, from Britain to the Persian nations, and the events of the years succeeding it, will be of tremendous importance to the whole world."

Mr. Stern said he had no idea that the European conflict was any sign of the nearness of the world, but there was every indication that the great conflict was that mentioned in the prophecies as being prior to a reconstruction of the world, following the coming of Christ.—Philadelphia Record.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASAL CALOMEL

Starts your liver without making you sick and can not salivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling-off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard
