N. Y. NEWSPAPERS DERIDES MOVEMENT

Profess to Have No Faith in Farmers' Cotton Pledge, Yet Appear Worried.

According to reports being received by the central office of the North Carolina Cotton Association, Northern newspapers and speculators who have all the deceits and comforts of life, yet want the cotton producers to go back to slave wages, are going to learn a much needed lesson this year. In its market comment yesterday The New York Commercial says: "Reports that the farmers of the South intend to curtail planting are not credited. The bears say the plan has always failed and will fail again. The weather for the last few days is ideal and insures a big crop." The Philadelphia Ledger vigorously denounces the South for proposing a reduction in acreage, yet goes on to say: "Few persons who know the South fear pronounced reduction. Many will preach curtailment and promise curtailment and then go and plant more cotton themselves in the expectation that their advice will be followed by the majority, and they, the shrewd ones, will profit by raising a big crop. It has been so many times. It probably will be so many times more. The South is great for 'resolving' but not so great for performing up to the resolutions." None of them doubt the practicability of our plans. They believe that all our promises are 'hot air' and big talk, and that we will not eventually oppose and are betting their money that we will not keep our promises by contracting to deliver the cotton that we have not yet planted at 20 cents per pound. Some one is going to get badly stung and it isn't going to be the Southern farmer as he realizes that the only way to keep off prosperity is to raise a big crop of cotton.

METHODISTS TOLD TO DO SOMETHING THAT IS SENSATIONAL

R. T. BURGE, MISSIONARY, SAYS CHURCH MUST KEEP PACE WITH WORLD, WHICH IS DOING THINGS DIFFERENTLY NOW, OR FALL HOPELESSLY BEHIND.

Appeals to Church to Make Supreme Effort and Sacrifice at This Time to Christianize World and Present Arms.

Plans of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, indicate that their field of work will greatly broaden in the next few months and will include Europe and Russia. "The Methodist Church has been plodding along for many years and has made a record that every Methodist is justly proud of," said R. T. Burge, of the Siberian Commission of the American Red Cross, in a letter from Vladivostok that has just been received at headquarters in Nashville. "It is time, however, for the Methodist Church to do something sensational and unusual. All the world is doing things differently now and the organization that cannot keep pace must fall behind. We should go into the countries of Europe and Russia, be pioneers in a work that might mean more to prevent future wars than the League of Nations. Christianize and educate the peoples of the world and there will be no more wars. But if we have harmony by threats and fear and by constant show of force, I see no reason why it might not be another question of a scrap of paper." "But it would be madness to attempt any work in Siberia or Russia at this time. No complete or intelligent investigations can be made until order is restored, and from what I have seen it will be months before that task is accomplished. The campaign for thirty-five million dollars to be conducted May 15 to 25 will go a long way toward solving a big problem." "Keep in mind always that the complexion of the world has entirely changed and that not only must there be complete reorganization in economic, political and social conditions, but most particularly in religious conditions."

Wear your Button the FIRST DAY

Do You Sleep Well?
To be at his best a man must have sound, refreshing sleep. When wakeful and restless at night he is in no condition for work or business during the day. Wakefulness is often caused by indigestion and constipation, and is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Try a dose of these tablets and see how much better you feel with a clear head and good digestion.

The Tongue Test

Put a little alum on the end of your tongue and you will have the reason why alum baking powder should not be used in food.

England and France forbid the sale of baking powder containing alum.

You can tell whether baking powder contains alum by reading the label.

AFTER A PROPOSAL.

It is so sudden? Then did you believe, dear,
Those evenings I called at your flat,
And lovingly, longingly gazed in your eyes,
That I merely had come for a chat?
Did it strike you the times that I lingered till 12,
And hated to leave you alone,
I was doing that merely to fill up my time,
Because I'd no home of my own?
"So sudden," you say, yet for years I have stood
At your doorstep each evening at 8;
Did you think I had come for a talk with your ma,
Or a word with your maiden Aunt Kate?
Did you think when I sighed as I fondled your hand
'Twas dyspepsia that troubled me then?
Or the cigars that I bestowed on your dad
Were smokes that I would give to all men?
Oh, the tickets for shows I have purchased for you,
The automobiles I have hired,
The lockets and bracelets and purses and things,
All the gifts that I knew you desired,
That I tenderly laid at your feet as a shrine,
Tho' each cost me half a week's pay,
I thought that my actions betrayed my design,
And yet, it's so sudden, you say!

Cotton Producers On Road To Victory

From every county, town and hamlet in Texas come reports that farmers are signing pledges to curtail their cotton acreage this year at least 30 per cent of last year's acreage. Some individual farmers even limit their planting to one-half of their last year's acreage.

Reports from other cotton states indicate a like action by the cotton growers.

An unusual feature of the movement is the active, enthusiastic participation of bankers, merchants and professional men. All classes have awakened at last to the necessity for co-operation in an effort to secure a legitimate price for the south's cotton.

Hitherto the farmers have not acted in concert and they had little assistance from other classes. They did the best they could to control the market for better prices; but without organization their efforts culminated in windy, worthy resolutions and still lower prices for their cotton.

The methods by which the government secured co-operation in preventing foodstuffs going too high in price during the war have been an object lesson to the cotton growers, and they are appropriating in some measure those methods to prevent cotton from going too low in price in time of peace. They are signing pledge cards to raise less cotton this year and by limiting the supply increase the demand and the price. They have passed beyond empty resolutions for publication. They are doing something tangible. Actions speak louder than words. They are in the road to the goal. Let them "keep in the middle of the road" and they will reach that goal.

Once they have demonstrated their power to secure living prices for their great agricultural product, they will have won economic independence for themselves, their children and their children's children in the years to follow.—Cotton and Cotton Oil News.

HOW TO AVOID BACKACHE AND NERVOUSNESS

Told by Mrs. Lynch From Own Experience.

Providence, R. I.—"I was all run down in health, was nervous, had headaches, my back ached, my back ached all the time. I was tired and had no ambition for anything. I had taken a number of 'resolvents' and didn't do me no good. One day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it did for women, so I tried it. My nervousness and backache and headaches disappeared. I gained in weight and feel fine, so I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is suffering as I was."—Mrs. ADELINA E. LYNCH, 150 Plain St., Providence, R. I.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms of nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Lynch's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.
