THE WHITE LEATHER APRON.

BLESSED IS THE MAN WHOSE WHITE LEATHER APRON IS NOT SOILED, AND HAS NO MARKS OF A COURSE NATURE UPON IT THAT DEFILE AND DEBASE.

John Henry Wiseman was a Freemason of whom many said: "He's such a peculiar fellow. His life is so blank. He is absolutely devoid of color. There is nothing startling in his way of living. There's nothing more to his life than an O with the circle rubbed out."

One day John Henry Wiseman died, and the statement was made: "He didn't owe a cent to any human being when he died." His white Masonic apron was not marred by a single stain. As far as that went he left it as white as the day it was handed to him.

When he died it was said that he didn't owe any man a single grudge, that he left this world free from any ill-feeling against a human being, and that it was remarked that on one could recall that he ever was in trouble with man, woman or child. His life had been blank, very blank, and his white apron had no stain of passion or ill-will upon it.

When he died people said that he didn't owe any person an apology, for he had treated his friends, neighbors and acquaintances with uniform courtesy and never infringing on their rights.

When he died the public voice reported that he didn't owe the State a single penny, but had paid all that the law demanded of him for the protection he had received for his life and property. His white apron was free from stain of shirking from his duty to the government that had guarded and protected him.

When he died the papers stated that he was not in debt to society for any favors that he hadn't paid for. He maintained a manly, honest, straightforward course, and had not involved the public in the expense of lawsuits and trials occasioned by unlawful and criminal practices. He had been decent and respectable and no charge of immorality was ever recorded on his white leather apron.

When he died the universal verdict was that he had paid in full all that he owed to his brother-man, that he had helped the poor, nursed the sick, fed the hungry, cheered the disheartened and made the pathway of life less difficult for those whose feet were tired. His apron was free from any stains of neglect of the suffering.

When he died the preacher said that he had paid as far as it was possible for a human being to pay the debt he owed to God, by leading a clean, hopeful, trusting life, and that he had left the world with the rich promises of God laying before him a bright pathway to glory.

His life was "colorless" like the sweet air of the fields. His life was "blank," like the sheet of snow on the mountainside. He was peculiar like the people God speaks about in the Holy Book as "Peculiar people, zealous of good works."

Constant complaints never get piy.

As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

BEST PLACE OF ALL.

When I feel bad and things are wrong with me, Then Grandma's lap is the best place to be, There's a place on her arm jes' fits my head, And her lap's cushiony, jes' like a bed. Sometimes she covers my foots with her dress, Her lap's the best place in the world, I guess. When my nightclothes are on and my prayers said, And my ma says, "Now son run up to bed," An' I'm a-standin' 'roun' a-bein' slow, Jes' 'cause I'm all time a-dreadin' it so, My Grandma gives her knee a little rap, An' I slip over and get in her lap, Then Ma looks real hard at me, an' Grandma, An' then she turns aroun' an looks at Pa; But Pa he jes' smiles and says, "Let him be, it used to be the same way with me." Then my head finds that place on Grandma's arm, An' she tucks me in good—all snug and warm, An' she sings to me then, so soft an' low, The songs she sung, way long time ago, Then she tells tales 'bout when she was a girl, I know her lap's the best place in the world.

THE LOVE OF GOD.

God's boundless Love and arching sky
Above us when we wake or sleep,
Above us when we smile or weep,
Above us when we live or die.

God's tireless Love! Beside the cot
Of her sick child the mother sleeps.
The Heavenly Father ever keeps
Unweary watch—He slumbers not.

God's patient Love. Misunderstood
By hearts that suffer in the night,
Doubted—yet waiting till Heaven's light
Shall know all things work for good.

God's mighty Love! On Calvary's height,
Suffering to save us from our sin,
To bring the Heavenly Kingdom in,
And fill our lives with joy and light.

God's changeless Love! The wandering one,
Forsakes, forgets, dishonors; yet,
Repenting, going home, is met
With no reproach—"Welcome, my son!"

God's endless Love! What will it be
When earthly shadows flee away,
For all Eternity's bright day
The unfolding of that Love to see!

Got Her Good Health From A Bottle.
Mrs. Edward Raifinder, Wash, Ind., says that she owes her good to Chamberlain's Tablets. She suffered from distress after eating and constipation and was completely cured by the use of these tablets.

Why is love like a canal boat? Because it is an internal transport.

Grip.
Grip usually starts just the same as a cold with a watery discharge from the nose. You are much more likely to contract the grip when you have a cold. For that reason when grip is prevalent you should go to bed as soon as you feel that you are taking cold and stay in bed until fully recovered which should not be long if you take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Three days in bed now is better than three weeks later on.

There is a reward for faithful silence.

SLIP OF THE TONGUE.

THIS WONDERFUL SIN-CUSSED COUNTRY OF CALIFORNIA.

Last winter, writes a contributor, there occurred in southern California a very amusing case of lapsus linguae.

At the Sunday morning service of a large down town church the pastor recognized among his congregation a well-known writer for the denominational weekly who had recently arrived from the East. At the close of the service the pastor mentioned the presence of this brother and invited him to come forward and say a few words of greeting. This the writer was pleased to do, and he began to relate the thrilling tale of blizzards, zero weather and snow that he had encountered on his trip.

Reaching a climax, he said, "Only those who come, like myself, from the bitter cold of mid-winter in the East, through the awful storms of the Middle West, can really appreciate what a great privilege it is to be in this wonderful sin-cussed country of California!"

Not until the phrase was completed did he notice his shocking error, and then, red-faced and stammering, he repeated the last sentence, substituting the well-known word, "sun-kissed."

THE MISSING LINK.

A man came into a store with a very small dog under his arm. An Irishman was standing near and after a few moments of close observation he asked the stranger what breed his dog was. The man replied that he was a cross between an ape and an Irishman. "Faith then," replied Pat, "he is kin to both of us."

NECESSITIES OF LIFE.

Opinions as to the "necessities of life" are wont to differ. Attention has been called to the fact that our forefathers lived "without sugar till the thirteenth century, without coal till the fourteenth, without butter on their bread till the fifteenth, without tobacco and potatoes till the sixteenth, without tea, coffee and soup till the seventeenth, without umbrellas and lamps till the eighteenth, and without trains, telephones, gas and matches till the nineteenth."

Was Very Weak

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. I was so weak I couldn't raise my head to get a drink of water. I took . . . medicine, yet I didn't get any better. I was constipated and very weak, getting worse and worse. I sent for Cardui."

LOOKS THAT WAY.
"Who won the war?" asked the bright young goof behind the soda counter. "Huh," ejaculated the ex-sergeant gruffly as he dug up the war tax, "I think we bought it."

A PROTEST.

"Backward, turn backward, oh, time in thy flight," warbled Hortense Magee. "Stop it!" cried her father. "What are you trying to wish on us? Don't you remember it's only a year ago that the seventeen-year locust was with us?"

WHOA, LIZZIE.

Did you hear that Mr. Hiboy was killed while traveling in Kentucky? No. How did it happen? In a feud. Good Lord! And I've cautioned him a dozen times against riding in one.

Alabama Minister Relieved

Stomach Troubles Made Him Feel Sick at Meal Times, But Now Always Enjoys His Meals.

DO YOU enjoy your meals? Eat without the dread of the after effects? Lack of appetite, and a disagreeable sick so the stomach feeling after meals, usually indicate that your digestive organs are not working properly. As a result, you will feel weak, lose weight and lack the energy that is to be derived from well-digested food. A valuable help in correcting such conditions is mentioned by the Rev. M. K. McKenzie, of Route 1, Section 1, Ala., who writes: "I had stomach trouble. When I would go to eat, I would turn sick. I took one bottle of Ziron and it cured me. Am always ready for my meals and enjoy them. I think it is a fine medicine." If your food hurts you, if your appetite is poor, if you are pale, weak and run-down, and if you have other symptoms that indicate your system needs help, try Ziron. It will put iron into your blood and help build you up. Take it according to directions, and if not comforted by the first bottle, the money-back guarantee will protect you.
