

SOUGHT TREASURY'S HELP IN FINDING HIDDEN WEALTH

Man Sent to Washington For Locating Instruments When Gold Was Lying Within His Grasp.

Extraordinary demands for information and assistance are continually being made upon the Treasury Department, but seldom have the members of the department been more thoroughly helpless to comply than with a request from Copeland, Kansas. The letter asks for unflinching processes of locating hidden treasure and reads:

The only way to locate this treasure, uncover it and make it of use to its owners and to the nation, is to inculcate in the people of this country knowledge of safe and profitable investment.

The savings securities of this government, issued first during the war and continued since that time, have done more to uncover hidden treasure and make it profitable and useful than all the divining rods and treasure maps, collected since the days of Captain Kidd. The best instrument to secure treasure that the writer of the letter could find are $1 Treasury Savings Stamps bought regularly every week. So he really went to the right shop for his information after all and the United States Treasury was able to supply both the information and the instruments needed.
