Asks School Chil'ren to Collect Clothes for Armenian Kiddies

DR. E. L. BROOKS,
 State Supt. of Schools.

School children of North Carolina—come to the rescue!

The 4,500 little Armenian children, dependent upon the state for food and clothing, lay prone to death next winter unless we send them our most valuable possession—our people are howling away their winter clothing now and this very clothing can save many a child and adult from death through acute rheumatism and pneumonia.

Dr. E. L. Brooks, state superintendent of public instruction, asks that every school child in North Carolina gather up at least garments enough to keep one child or adult in the stricken little lands from freezing to death next winter. He is also asking that the children of each school be formed into a committee by their teachers to canvass their community for old clothes.

These should be sent either to the local county chairman or to the Near East Relief Clothing Warehouse, Raleigh. The North Carolina committee is especially desirous of obtaining all of the coats, sweaters, dresses, trousers, blankets, heavy hosiery, wool gloves, mittens, boots, shawls, garments, shoes, coats (for overcoats), new cloth and garments possible.

This clothing will be distributed this summer and carefully husbanded by the Armenian children and refugees. Many of them died last winter from acute rheumatism and pneumonia simply from lack of clothing. Others just froze to death. Burial rags and flimsy socks might do them in summer but they do not keep out freezing temperatures.

The Near East Relief cannot use lace, silk, velvet, chiffons, evening clothes, satin slippers, muslin underwear, high-heeled shoes, straw or frame hats or silk stockings. In most cases of these articles are limited to suggestions that a community sale or auction be held and the proceeds sent to Robert A. Brown, state treasurer, Raleigh.

Save Lives As a Kill Moths By Sending Cast-off Clothing To Near East Relief

Make your cast-off winter clothes pay a dividend in human lives and help exterminate the moth colony in North Carolina. Clean out your old clothes closets and attic and send them to the Near East Relief to save lives this coming winter.

The foregoing appeal was made at all Tar Heels this week from Raleigh by Col. George H. Bellamy, state chairman of that great humanitarian organization which is trying to save the Armenian race from extinction following their deportation by the Allies after they had played a material part in shortening and winning the war.

Every man, woman and child in North Carolina is asked to give at least one garment. For every complete outfit sent the life of one sufferer from Turkish massacre and the Great War will be saved next winter. Many were found during the cold months last year who had tramped themselves for miles suffering from acute rheumatism and pneumonia simply from lack of clothing.

All warm clothing that is wearable is acceptable. Clothing should be sent to your Near East Relief county chairman or to the Near East Relief Clothing Warehouse, Old Colony Railroad, Freight Shed, Raleigh with the name and address of the giver marked on the package. June 1st is "Bundle Day" in North Carolina and Col. Bellamy asks that clothing be sent in no later than that day.

The North Carolina committee, of which Joseph Daniels is honorary state chairman, is especially desirous of obtaining as many as it can of coats, sweaters, dresses, wool shirts, blouses, heavy hosiery, wool gloves, mittens, boots and shoes (should be tied in pairs), sheets (for bandages), neckties or scarves and a warm heavy clothing in which there is still some wear.

Articles which cannot be used by the Near East Relief are lace, silks, velvets, chiffons, evening clothes, satin slippers, muslin underwear, high-heeled shoes, straw or frame hats or silk stockings. If anyone has any of these articles to give away it is suggested that a community sale or auction be held and the proceeds sent to Robert A. Brown, state treasurer, Near East Relief, Raleigh.

GIVE GIM TIME.

A neighbor was quizzing Betty about her new brother.

"Is your baby pretty?" she questioned.

"I don't 'zactly know," said Betty, struggling between truth and loyalty. "I dess he is going to be, but just now he looks rare done."

TAKING NO CHANCES.

"What's going on here?"

"A prize fight, mister. The purse is a quarter."

"What's that youngster doing up a tree while another boy walks around below with a club in his hand?"

"Oh, that feller in the tree is the stakeholder."

WHY NOT?

The human fly was scaling the outside of the tall building at a dizzy height and an anxious throng watched in the street.

"What's he doing?" asked an old gentleman.

"He's going to the top of the building," said a bystander.

"Well," asked the old party, "why don't the darned fool take an elevator?"

SOMETHING SUITABLE.

They say music helps housework.

Well, put something stirring on the graphophone. I'm making batter.

UNSENSITIVE PHILANTHROPY.

And will you make a contribution toward the new parish house, Mrs. Hogan?

"Sure and I will not. I gave a dollar for the last war and never had the chast to use it onct."
