

The Daily Review.

JOSH. T. JAMES, Ed. and Prop. WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1877.

REVIEWAL.

There has been a marked improvement of health in Naples, due to sanitary improvements. Drains have been tapped, and waste spaces hitherto mere noisome grounds, turned into gardens, and the authorities promise thorough sewerage.

The passage of the Electoral bill resulted in a vast improvement in the peanut trade of Nashville, on Saturday. Twelve hundred sacks were shipped North, and large quantities consumed on the streets. Public confidence is returning.

Heun was robbed of diamonds valued at $25,000, in New York, on Saturday, by a confidence man who took him to the Belmont Hotel on the pretence of negotiating a loan for him.

Senator Morton's health is said to be precarious. He walks with the utmost difficulty, using two canes, and is unable to go up or down stairs without the help of two strong men.

In regard to the reported ineligibility of a Wisconsin elector, A. K. Kinsett, the St. Louis Republican says: He makes no pretenses to have taken out naturalization papers himself.

The feu de joie on New Year's Day at Delhi, rolling down one long line of troops, then doubling back, and rattling up the other, was magnificent; but the army of gigantic elephants who formed the outer enclosure of the pageant did not appreciate the salute.

The production of quicksilver in California has increased so enormously during the past two years that it has attracted the attention of all interested in the article throughout the world.

Railway traveling in France is tediously slow, and the companies have at length become convinced of the fact. At present it requires sixteen hours to go from Paris to Marseilles, even by express.

When Henry Ward Beecher lectured in Richmond, Virginia, he entered an unpromising field. The announcement of his appearance shocked the city, and an anonymous and somewhat scurrilous tract, entitled "Will Beecher Draw?" intensified the excitement and encouraged the prejudices against the Plymouth Pastor.

The death of the renowned racer and broodmare Ruthless, who in her day was the best and fastest runner on the American turf, is just announced.

MANY A SLIP.

Judge Settle is spoken of as the probable successor of Judge David Davis on the Supreme Court Bench. This, of course, is with the proviso that Hayes is declared elected, a consummation that Mr. Hayes and his friends would all doubtless devoutly pray for were they familiar with the routine of such exercises, but which they can hardly hope for very sanguinely at this particular juncture of affairs.

THE EXPLODED CONSPIRACY.

Morton's speeches, says the Washington Union, confirm all that has been said with regard to the conspiracy for counting in Hayes. It is clear that the intention was to have the President of the Senate count the votes of the disputed States for Hayes, and that he was then to be inaugurated at all hazards.

HERE THEY ARE

- The eighteen Democrats who voted against the electoral bill are: Blackburn, Bradford, Caldwell, Carr, Cate, Durham, Forney, Hurd, Jones, Knott, Milliken, Mills, Singleton, Slemmons, Smith, Vance, Poppleton, Williams.

THE HEATHEN RAGE

And well they may. The conspiracy has failed and the conspirators are left in a hopeless minority. They still have left a few cuss words, however, and these are being employed now to their utmost capacity.

THE TRIBUNE AND THE BILL.

The New York Tribune, which has slung more slang, told more campaign lies and conspired more shamefully to overthrow the liberties of a free people than almost any other Radical sheet, at last beginning to believe in the abomination of desolation spoken of by the political prophets, is afraid of being left out in the cold and thus hastens to give in its adherence to the Election bill.

THE DUCKTOWN ROUTE.

Speaking of this route the Raleigh News says: Some think that the building of a railroad from Asheville to Ducktown would be an undertaking attended with immense difficulty on account of the route of the proposed line running through the mountainous region. This is an entirely mistaken notion.

HEADQUARTERS.

Republican Caucus and Results—What Congress is Doing—Southern Claims—The Louisiana Returning Board a Bad Lot—Mr. Lamar and the Southern Pacific Railroad—Captain Eads—Fernando Wood's Committee—Army Reorganization, Etc., Etc.

In the Senate on Saturday Mr. Wright called up the bill extending the Southern Claims Commission for two years. The bill only provides for the examination of claims already filed.

Two members of the Returning Board of Louisiana have been here for sometime. The other two arrived on Saturday. They are all under arrest by the House.

Mr. Lamar will attempt to get action on the Southern Pacific Bill to-day. His advocacy, it is generally thought, is caused rather by the interest felt in the measure by his constituents and the people of the Southwest generally than by his own conviction that such a bill ought to pass.

Captain Eads meets with delay in getting his money for improving the navigation of the Mississippi. His friends claim that he is entitled to the payment in bonds of the Government, while others hold that the appropriation should be of $500,000 cash.

To-day Mr. Wood's House Committee of eleven to inquire into the use of troops by the President in the South, holds its first meeting. Mr. Wood will make the investigation thorough, and will endeavor to recommend such legislation as will give the Government a fixed and safe policy on the subject.

The police troubles here are likely to lead to the indictment of Murtagh, editor of the President's organ, and head of the Police Board, and of other parties connected with the police force.

The Commission of officers appointed to perfect a plan for the reorganization of the army has reported the President that no report can be expected in time for action during the present session of Congress.

Fifteen Condensed Opinions of the Bim.

- R. Burchard Hayes says: I do not care on my own account, but my heart does bleed for the poor African. William Almon Wheeler says: It is of the nature of a compromise, and entitled to no respect whatever. Ulysses Simpson Grant says: It is better to be tight than to be President. Oliver P. Morton says: A shameful specimen of political trickery. John Sherman says: A direct and deliberate insult to the Louisiana Returning Board. Wells, Anderson, Casanave, and Kenner say: It is unpatriotic, unstatesmanlike, dishonest, and revolutionary. Jay Gould says: It knocks hell out of my investment; [and therefore] Whittle Law Reid says: It is plainly unconstitutional. Don Cameron says: No high-principled statesman can approve such political truck and barter as this measure involves. Simon Cameron says: You heard Don? John A. Logan says: But what becomes of Me? James G. Blaine says: It is the logical outcome of Andersonville. Zach Chandler says:

An electric battery which Benjamin Franklin and Dr. Priestley once owned is now in constant use in a class-room at Dartmouth College.

APPLETON'S AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA. NEW REVISED EDITION. Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, and illustrated with several Thousand Engravings and Maps. The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA, was completed in 1873, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have induced the editor and publisher to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled THE AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA.
