CAROLINA.

Mud dog killed in Charlotte on Tuesday. Goldsboro's free school opens next Monday. They've got it bad at Hillsboro—the base-ball fever. The Legislature will probably adjourn on the 3d of March. LOCAL NEWS.

Watch charms containing roulette and dice are more fashionable than ever. They help to while away the service between hymns. Want of prudence is too frequently the want of virtue; nor is there on earth a more powerful advocate for vice than poverty. Some people are so wrapped up in their own conceit that, like a clam, all the world seems dark to them only when they open their mouth. Miss Anderson makes her first appearance in this city at the Opera House this evening. The box office is pretty full already and there will doubtless be a good house present. Does the editor of the REVIEW wish bar-rooms to remain open on Sunday.—Post. No; he prefers that the editor of the Post should keep his mouth shut on Sunday. Pender Settled. The Raleigh News says: James B. McPherson, tax-collector of Pender county, settled yesterday with the State Treasurer the tax of his county for the year 1876, amounting to $3,494 91. Mr. McPherson states that he could have settled with deeds and other safe collateral on the 1st of December, but it would have been oppressive to his people to have done so, and he therefore preferred to wait. Sent to Jail. Joseph Chadwick, white, from Pender county, was sent to jail this morning on a commitment issued by U.S. Commissioner Cassidy. He is charged with intimidating witnesses and will be held for trial at the next term of U. S. Court. This is the second case against him. Annie J. Speight, against whom the Grand Jury of last term of Superior Court found two true bills for receiving stolen goods, was to-day committed to jail to await trial at next term. The Thermometer. From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock: Augusta, 41; Charleston, 51; Cincinnati, 40; Jacksonville, 47; Key West, 60; Knoxville, 44; Lynchburg, 35; Memphis, 44; Mobile, 43; Montgomery, 44; Nashville, 40; New Orleans, 47; New York, 33; Norfolk, 42; Pittsburg, 41; Savannah, 45; St. Louis, 40; Washington, 35; Wilmington, 48. City Court. The following cases were all that were ready for the Mayor this morning: Jennie Seymour, charged with selling liquor without a license, judgment suspended on payment of costs and license, and allowed until 4 o'clock this afternoon to procure the money. Theodore F. White was charged with disorderly conduct, the offence consisting in a disturbance on Red Cross street on the 28th of January. Judgment suspended on payment of costs and allowed until to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, to procure the money. Wade Hampton. From Messrs. Walker, Evans & Cogswell, of Charleston, the publishers, we have received a very handsome engraving, a life-like representation of that gallant gentleman and true hearted man, WADE HAMPTON, Governor of South Carolina. We have seen Gov. Hampton and are therefore somewhat qualified to judge of the merits of the picture. It is a very faithful likeness of him, as good, perhaps, as could be gotten on canvass. Mr. Geo. N. Harris, of this city, is the Agent for its sale in the State of North Carolina, and to him all applications for local agencies should be addressed. Bellevue Cemetery. A called meeting of the stockholders of Bellevue Cemetery was held last night in the City Court Room, the President, Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr., Esq., in the chair. The object of the meeting was stated by the President to be the consideration of the charter granted by the Legislature. This charter was read and then adopted by a unanimous vote. On motion it was resolved that the stockholders be taxed $5 each for the purpose of adorning and improving the grounds, and that this amount be paid within 30 days from date. The resolution also provided for the appointment of a committee to collect the assessments and under it the President appointed Messrs. E. W. Manning, G. F. Olin, J. H. McGarity and J. D. H. Klander.

Save the old Bread.

Very few housekeepers are aware of the fact, which is, however, true, that pieces of old bread, crumbs, and crust—provided they are not mouldy—on being soaked and mixed up with dough, when making bread, improve it very much. Try it, and you will be satisfied.

A New Fraud.

The public should be on guard against an imitation of a five dollar United States note which is so like the original that it is calculated to deceive people in the hurry of making change. It has been engraved with the design of cheating, and is so well executed that many persons would take it without detecting the fraud. A close examination reveals the fact that it is used as a "due bill" of the "United States Cotton Mills," at Mauch Chunk, Pa. and the issue of the "due bill" is merely the revival of an old swindle, which was started five or six years ago. The imitation is of such a perfect nature on the face as to almost deceive the most experienced handlers of notes, while people who do not closely scrutinize the sham will certainly be victimized.

Desiderata in Smoking.

According to Dr. Bethand, in the Tribune Medicale, whatever be the mode of smoking, direct contact of the tobacco with the "mucus buccalis"—mucous lining of the cheeks—and the teeth must be avoided. Cigars should be smoked in an amber, ivory, or enameled porcelain mouthpiece; to smoke by relighting them, portions of cigars that have been extinguished together with the system of blackened and juicy pipes, must be avoided, as it is the surest way of being affected by nicotine. Every smoker would do well, if practicable, to rinse his mouth after smoking, and it would be well to subject pipes and bowls in which tobacco has been burned to a frequent washing either with ether or with water mixed with alcohol or with vinegar.

Remedy for Colds.

At this particular season of the year when colds are more or less prevalent, the subjoined remedy is given, which has been pronounced infallible: Take three medium sized lemons, boil for six or eight minutes, take up on a plate, then slice them thin with a sharp knife. Put them and their juice into a brown earthen pan, and put over them one pound of clean brown sugar—the browner the better—and set the pan on the top of the stove, so that the sugar may melt gradually. When it is melted move the pan to a hotter part of the stove, and let it stew for about three hours. Then take it off, let it stand half an hour, and then stir into it a small tablespoonful of the oil of sweet almonds. When cold it is ready for use. Dose—A teaspoonful—whenever you choose.

Appleton's for March.

The March number of Appleton's Journal opens with an illustrated paper on "The Mountains of North Carolina," from the pen of Christian Reid who, from her frequent visits to that region, is enabled to describe it with marked fidelity. The time cannot be far distant when these mountains will become the favorite resort of pleasure-seekers and artists. A story, in verse, by "M. E. W. S.," entitled "Love or Study," is marked by many felicitous touches and descriptions; the story, "Cherry Ripe," is continued, and is specially noteworthy for the freshness of the situations, and the charming characteristics of the heroine, Mignon; the short stories are "The Young Doctor," by Miss Olney, and "My Son Victor," by Mrs. Wager-Fisher, the one being a touching and sad story, the other a vivacious sketch, founded on incidents occurring at the Centennial; an article, by Charlotte Adams, entitled "Giorgione's Venice," is remarkable for graphic and picturesque description; Julian Hawthorne resumes his "Out of London" sketches, this installment being specially pungent and good; there is a paper under the title of "Culture-Heroes of the Ancient Americans," describing some of the strange traditions of the aborigines some of the most entertaining incidents in Dr. Mackay's "Forty Years' Recollections" are gathered in an interesting paper by Dr. Guernsey. There are the usual gossip of the editor, and the book reviews.
